Better phone services ahead

Better telephone service for Alberta's rural customers is planned with the introduction of four-party, buried cable service over the next ten years. An AGT crew is shown plowing in buried wire between Holden and Ryley last fall, when 7,400 miles of buried cable and plowed in wire was laid across the province. The 1966 program cost about $10,000,000 out of an overall ten-year program of about $60,000,000. Communities served during 1966 include Holden, Ryley, Lougheed, Irma, New Sarepta and Hay Lakes, among several other points in the province. —AGT photo.

This being the last meeting of the year, all regular accounts were approved for payment and outstanding bills be paid.

Hens start own centennial plan

Two pullets on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Leibl, 4 miles south of Ervick, seem to have started on their own centennial project, laying colored eggs. Only five months old, one pullet had laid eight soft green colored eggs, when the second started on Monday. The green is about the same soft tint as the blue of a robin's egg.

Mrs. Leibl got a setting of eggs from Wetaskiwin last year, from a cross between a pheasant and a bantam chicken. Two which hatched are partially black and white, but carry all the colors of the rainbow. "They're really speckled", says Mrs. Leibl.

Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Conquest and Miss Sandra Phillips, all of Edmonton, spent the Christmas weekend at the Neil Phillips' home.

Christmas holiday visitors at the Jim Francis home included Mr. and Mrs. Reid Francis and children of Ardrossan, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Francis and children and Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay Vegan and family, all of Edmonton, and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Francis of Rosebud, Alberta.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Robinson and daughter, Mrs. J. A. L. Smith, and Edith Mary, spent the Christmas and New Year's holiday at Edmonton and Tofield.

Donald McKernan, who is associated with I.A.C. in Prince George, B.C., was home during the Christmas holidays.

Community League changes date for annual meeting

Lionel Borton, president of the Tofield Community League, announces a change of date for the League's annual meeting, which always takes the form of a pot-luck supper.

This event will take place on Wednesday, Jan. 11, in the Community Centre. As usual the League will provide the meat, coffee, cream and sugar. Guests are asked to bring other foods and their own dishes and cutlery.

The Centennial year should be an important one for Tofield. The League will be ready to do its part but, to be successful, needs your support. How about attending the annual meeting, to hear the account of the League's activities in 1966, to help plan for 1967, and to join in the activities of this important community group?

"Mary Poppins", academy award-winning show, is at the Community Theatre this weekend. It is a show the whole family should see.

There's a lot to like about ALBERTA

DEEP IN THE HEART OF . . .

WHERE WAS THAT AGAIN?

To be honest about the whole thing, we have never really subscribed to those endless comparisons between Alberta and Texas. Alberta, we have always considered above comparison — and we're pretty sure most Texans have a similar pride in the Lone Star State. The trouble is, in acknowledging this similarity of feeling, you find yourself with Comparison No. 1 — and from then on, the contrasts become more and more difficult.

Take pure physical size, for instance: It's a curious fact that, with a little twiddling and turning, the map of Alberta (255,285 square miles) superimposes on the map of Texas (267,339 square miles) to make them almost identical twins. Both areas have four major physical divisions; the mountains, foothills, plains and pre-Cambrian rock of Alberta, matched by the high plains, Northern farm belt, coastal prairie and desert of Texas.

Both have an extremely varied climate, subject to rapid change. In Alberta, low winter temperatures soar overnight thanks to warm Chinook winds. In Texas, moderately warm winter temperatures are suddenly assailed by cold "Great Northerlies" which send the mercury scuttling for cover.

Both Alberta and Texas started their march to prosperity after difficult beginnings, leaving more-favored regions far behind. Pioneer Albertans and Texans found natural resources of timber, coal and fertile land; created vast grain and cattle industries; and initiated far-sighted irrigation projects. In the process, both groups developed their "white hat" image—which canny tourism departments in both regions now exploit.

But the whole Alberta/Texas business really started through their mutual abundance of oil. In 1901, the discovery of the Spindletop deposit, near Beaumont, revealed to Texans untapped vaults lined with black gold. Not to be outdone, though not wanting to rush into anything, our grandfathers poked casually around the range—and in 1914 started an oil bonanza with the Turner Valley discovery (which was to yield over 90% of Canada's oil for the next thirty years).

Contemporaries still, Alberta and Texas display no false modesty about their wealth of mineral, agricultural and forest resources. Alberta's position as the nation's leading oil producer is matched by Texas' place as prime supplier to the States. Just as Texas leads the United States in beef production, so Alberta has the prime steak in Canada's packing industry.

Both Alberta and Texas have coal in their cellar—but in both cases, the exploitation of natural gas has taken precedence. Homes across Canada offer a warmer welcome, thanks to piped natural gas from Alberta, just as homes across America enjoy that life-giving shot in the furnace from Texas.

Does all this mean that we're going along with the Alberta/Texas game? Not really. It's true in a way that Alberta could be called the "Texas of Canada"—but you won't hear us saying so. At least, not until they start calling Texas the "Alberta of the United States".

Southern Albertans tell some tall tales about their Chinook winds, the dry westerlies from the Pacific known to raise the temperature by as much as 50 degrees in a few hours. For instance, there's the one about the man who hitched his team to a post sticking up in the snow one night; came the Chinook, and in the morning he found his horses dangling from the church steeple.

The classic among Chinook stories, though, is of the pioneer running his dog team into Calgary one day. A Chinook started to blow from behind and the old-timer whipped up his dogs in desperation. Unfortunately, they were not fast enough, for while the lead dogs were plunging through deep snow, the ones behind found themselves in mud. As for the driver, he was being blinded by the dust storm thrown up from the red-hot sledge runners!

Popular playground

Public use of Alberta's provincial parks increased almost a third in the seven-month summer season of 1966, according to figures released by Alberta Lands and Forests Minister, Hon. Henry Ruste a few days ago.

And in this area, one of the most interesting items is that Miquelon Lake catapulted into fifth most popular park in the province, with 182,516 visitors. In fact, it was only barely edged out of fourth place by Lethbridge's Park Lake, though both, naturally, ran well behind the leaders, Cypress Hills Park near Medicine Hat, with 635,639 visitors and Aspen Beach at Gull Lake with 560,665. Running well behind in third place is Wabamun Lake with 328,665.

Both Miquelon and Aspen jumped previous performances by more than fifty percent, indicating rapid growth in their popularity. Development of parks in this area may well lead to much greater holiday facilities for residents in the district. Interestingly, only five parks in nearly forty showed a decline in attendance figures.

One interesting comment on the mobility of our summer population shows up in the report that Aspen Beach's peak period showed more than 22,000 visitors at one time . . . or nearly three time the population of the city of Camrose. And nearly all of them would move in and move out again between Friday evening and Monday morning.

New phase of tight money

Economic tides are just as important to churches as to businessmen, we learned this week, with a report that one of the major denominations is facing sharp curtailment in its ability to establish new congregations due to high interest rates and tight money. Doubtless other denominations are similarly afflicted by the same problem.

The effect of higher interest rates is to increase both the price of the land and the cost of building. Newly organized congregations find it harder to finance in the first place, while the higher costs, plus increased interest obligations over a longer period of time, tend to further discourage local leadership.

It's one phase of tight money that a lot of us probably never consider. And we could do nothing about it if we did. But it goes to show how closely churches are linked with the general economic feeling of the moment.

Insure the insurers

Up until a month ago Canada's general insurance industry could justifiably boast of its 40-year record without a failure among federally-registered firms. The sudden demise of North American General, however, suggests that some prompt changes in operating habits may be needed to get the industry and its clients through the next 40 years unscathed. Particularly on the heels of failures of even a few other large financial institutions, the public is expressing concern over the need for more protection against mismanagement on a massive scale.

According to one Eastern financial paper, some observers believe the insurance industry itself should move quickly to avoid demands for compulsory government insurance. Their suggestion is a fund which would guarantee the rights of innocent third parties, in all types of general insurance claims, and at all times, the fund to be established by the companies on a percentage of their share of the market. The changes would cost more money and effort at a time when insurers are already being criticized for rising premium rates, even despite repeated losses, but proponents of the idea claim it could win for them greater public support at a time when it is badly needed, and at the same time lessen the demand for government intervention.

If the government were to move in, some feel, there might be no room at all left for the general insurance firms.

County Council meets

Following are the minutes, in part of the regular meeting of the County of Beaver No. 9, held December 8, 1966:

Business Arising From Minutes

In regards to County Police, the Secretary-Treasurer reported that John Wall, Tofield Town Police, had accepted the appointment as County Constable under conditions outlined in motion 611/66. He was supposed to take the Official Oath and the Oath of Allegiance before the Justice of the Peace, Charles A. Nolan of Tofield, and advise the Secretary-Treasurer when this had been done.

It was moved and carried that the report be accepted.

Winter Works Incentive Program

In regards to the Winter Works Incentive Program, the Secretary-Treasurer reported that he had contacted the Assistant Chief Municipal inspector of the Dept. of Municipal Affairs and had received some information as to the type of certificate that would have to be submitted by the Councillors who hired men under this Program.

The proposed program was discussed to some extent, and it was moved and carried that the report be accepted.

In regards to the dial telephones in the office, the Secretary-Treasurer requested permission to add one more instrument to the plan.

Moved and carried that the Secretary - Treasurer be authorized to add one more instrument to the dial telephone system in the office.

A letter from the Secretary-Treasurer of the Flagstaff-Beaver Auxiliary Hospital and Nursing Home District No. 20, advising that the term of office on the Board had expired for A. L. Gibson, was referred to the Council.

Moved and carried that Cr. A. L. Gibson be re-appointed to the Flagstaff-Beaver Auxiliary Hosp. and Nursing Home No. 20 for a further 2-year period.

A letter from Stewart, Weir and Watson, the County's Surveyors, concerning road plans, was referred to the Council. In this connection, Cr. Kropielnicki inquired about the road north of Holden, and the Secretary-Treasurer advised that he had contacted the District Engineer who had stated that he was unable to advise whether or not any grant would be assigned to this road in future years. There had been some suggestion that all road grants would be discontinued when the Secondary Road System came into effect. The Secretary-Treasurer was requested to contact the Chief Highways Engineer, V. McCune, in this matter.

Moved and carried that the correspondence be received and filed.

The Balance Sheet and Statement of Profit and Loss for the County of Beaver No. 9 Seed Cleaning Co-operative Ass'n Ltd. for the year ending June 30, 1966, was referred to the Council; also notice of the Annual Meeting of the Association to be held December 13.

Moved and carried that the Balance Sheet and Statement of Profit and Loss be accepted, and that Crs. Dorin and Gibson, Directors on the Seed Cleaning Co-operative Ass'n Ltd., attend the annual meeting.

It was moved and carried that the Provincial Planning Director be advised that the Council has no objections to the proposed split of the N.E. quarter of Sec. 29-47-12-W4th providing that the County will not be called upon for any road or other improvements in this connection.

A letter from A. R. Naundorf, Supervisor of P.F.A.A., in regards to Township 52-18-W.4th was referred to the Council. The letter indicated a yield considerably over 8 bushels per acre and no possibility of forming an eligible block for Prairie Farm Assistance in this township. Mr. Naundorf, therefore, requested that an amended application be submitted increasing the yield to 12 bushels or over in the Township in question. Cr. Weatherill stated that he agreed with Mr. Naundorf's statement and moved that an amended application increasing the yield to 12 bushels or over for Township 52-18-W.4th be submitted. Carried.

An offer submitted by Freeman C. Nickerson of Tofield to purchase 4 acres in S.E. 2-51-19-W.4th was referred to the Council. The price offered for this land was $300. This area was still subdivided into lots and blocks, and 6 lots were still privately owned. It was, therefore, not possible to accept the offer as such. It was, however, suggested that the vacant lots could be sold, and it was moved that the 32½ lots in this area, that are available, be offered to Mr. Nickerson for $5.00 per lot plus the cost of registration. Carried unanimously.

The Public Works foreman attended at this time. He mentioned to the Council that he could possibly dispose of the old propane stove from the cookhouse for $10 to $15 and it was moved that the old propane stove should be offered for sale for $15. Carried unanimously.

The Public Works foreman at this time submitted to the Council the cost of repairs placed on various machines during the last season and the amount that he expected would be required to put the machines in good condition for the coming season. It was thought that possibly the old D6 with dozer and the Cat 12 patrol should be considered for replacement. Some thought was also given to obtaining a lowboy with or without the tractor. No decision was made at the meeting.

Moved and carried that payment for fence moving and land acquired by the County be paid on the following road plans: Twp. 48-12-W4th; Twp. 49 and 50-16-W4th; Sec. 2, 3, 10, 11, 14 and 15 in Twp. 49-18-W4th.

Cr. Knudslien referred to the Council part of his proposed road program for 1967. He stated that he wanted to cancel the road along Beaver Lake through Secs. 35 and 36-50-18-W.4th, the reason being that this road was constructed on the old lake bottom and it would be impossible to construct a good road. He wanted to replace this road by construction north of Sec. 25 & 26-50-18-W.4th. The proposal was thoroughly discussed and it was moved and carried that the plan be approved.

STRANGE PHENOMENON

Moved and carried that the report be accepted.

Correspondence

Moved and carried that the usual contribution of $10 be made.

An offer to purchase the Woodside School bike on Pt. N.E. 23-49-14-W4th for the sum of $5 plus the cost of registration of title was referred to the Committee.

It was felt that a policy was required in regards to the old school sites, a number of these still being held by the County, and it was moved and carried that the price for school sites be three times the average assessed value per acre of the quarter section on which the school site is located plus registration cost.

The Bus Supervisor's Report was now referred to the Committee and discussed to some length, the Bus Supervisor being present.

Moved and carried that the Bus Supervisor's Report for the month of November be accepted and that his account in the amount of $73.65 be paid.

The Bus Supervisor mentioned that some of the bus drivers had expressed a desire to obtain uniforms and had inquired if the County would make payroll deductions for this purchase. This was discussed quite thoroughly. The Secretary-Treasurer indicated that he would agree to payroll deductions.

It was then moved and carried that arrangements be made for the bus drivers to obtain uniforms through the County if they so desire.

The School Bus Records for the quarter ending September 30th were now referred to the Committee and examined at some length.

Moved and carried that the Records be accepted.

A tender from G. H. Pearson of Edmonton for a Ventilation System for the repair shop at Ryley was referred to the Committee at this time. The plan had been approved by the Workmen's Compensation Board. The tender was in the amount of $1,689.

resented a "Role-Driver Committee" that was advocating driver training as an extra-curricular activity with High School teachers to be trained as instructors. The coming year's course for training the teachers would be from July 17 to July 28 at the University of Alberta. The qualifications for a teacher taking this course were: he would have to have a valid teaching certificate, he would have to be in possession of a Class "A" driving license, and he would have to be approved by the Local School Authority. Most School Authorities that now have this training system in effect, were paying the teachers from $4 to $5 per hour possibly. Mr. Murdoch stated, the happy medium would be $4.50 per hour which was now paid by a number of jurisdictions.

In regards to the students taking the driver training, they would have to be 15 years of age and possess a learner's permit, they would have to be approved by the Instructor and must have their parents' consent. A fee of $25 per student was recommended.

In regards to benefits accruing to the students, the biggest benefit would be the reduction in their automobile insurance premiums. The Minister of Highways has stated that at least a 10% reduction could be expected and providing the student driver did not get into any trouble, would apply up to age 25. The training would consist of 30 hours classroom instruction and 8 hours practical instruction including instruction on standard gear shift, 12 hours as observer in the car with 3 or 3 students observing in the same car and taking turns at driving one hour at a time. Cars for the purpose are made available through the various dealers, some with dual equipment, the Chrysler Company has supplied many of their fully equipped training cars; new vehicles are supplied every year; the School Authority would have to supply the license plate, in this case a X plate, gas, oil and insurance for the vehicle. The course is expected not to exceed 16 weeks duration with a maximum of 24 students and a minimum of 12 students. The cost for the teacher taking the driver training in a registration fee of $10 plus board and room; it was estimated that the cost per student would be approximately $42. Mr. Murdoch tary-Treasurer's action concurred in.

In regards to the debentures, the Superintendent mentioned that it appeared that the construction costs of the addition at Viking would only be somewhat in excess of 811 per square foot and that it appeared to him that permission could be obtained to use some of the debenture money for equipment and furniture, and he suggested that a Committee should interview the Department in this matter.

It was moved that the Chairman, Cr. Hoddick, the Secretary-Treasurer and the Superintendent of Schools be appointed a Committee to deal with this matter.

Mr. Cribb referred to the Policy now in effect, that during the winter time a car containing at least one bachelor is obliged to follow a school bus with students going on extra curricular activities in the evening. Mr. Cribb stated that in the opinion of the teachers this being concurred in at the last Principals' meeting, it should not be necessary to have a regulation of this type insasmuch as the buses were travelling on the Highway and there was little danger of not being able to get in contact with somebody in case of an engine failure, etc., and it was felt that it could be left to the discretion of the Principals whether or not a car should accompany the bus.

Reference was made to the following resignations: Miss Laurie Chamidis as of Dec. 31, 1966; Miss Marilyn Love as of Dec. 1, 1966; Mrs. Linda F. Ryan (nee Wilkinson) as of Feb. 28, 1967.

Moved and carried that the resignations be accepted.

The following appointments were presented to the Committee: Mrs. Doreen Barber, appointed to Grade 7 at Bruce effective Sept. 7 and transferred to Viking effective Oct. 17; Mr. Pieter Gruber, appointed to Grade 7 at Bruce effective Jan. 1, 1967.

Moved and carried that the appointments be approved.

It was moved and carried that the following temporary teachers be approved: Mr. Lars Olson, Sept. 26 to Oct. 31; Mrs. Karen Cottrell, Oct. 3 to Oct. 31; mrs. Audrey Pratt, Sept. 21 to Nov. 10; Mrs. Sheila Evans, Sept. 15 to Nov. 17; Mrs. Wilhelmina Reichenbaugh, Sept. 1, 1966, to Aug. 31, 1967.

Moved and carried that bursary applications submitted by Miss Norma E. Zwiernikke for a third year bursary and Mr. Alex Ashcook for a first year bursary be approved.

The report referred to the fact that the enlargement of the Viking school made it necessary to purchase some further equipment for the janitor and the Maintenance Foreman had recommended the purchase of an 18-inch scrubber at an approximate cost of $300.

Moved and carried that the scrubber be purchased.

In regards to football equipment, the equipment necessary to outfit a football player had been priced. The most expensive items of equipment, less discount, listed in the Edmonton Sporting Goods Catalog had been taken and the total arrived at was $77.45. However, it was noted that boots were unnecessary. Through wise selection and quantity buying the cost could possibly be reduced to a per player cost of $60 to $80. It was believed that 20 players per team should be outfitted which would mean approximately $1,000 to $1,200 per school or $4,000 to $5,000 for the four schools in the County. Added to this would have to be the yearly operating cost which would be considerable. The Physical Education teachers have discussed the proposal and have suggested modifications in rules that would make it possible to phase the teams into playing regular tackle football.

The Superintendent referred to the need for sick room cots and equipment as there was a shortage of these items in the schools. He felt that the matron's sick room should be investigated fully. At the present time sick pupils are left in the staff room, or in small rooms ill-designed to act as sick rooms.

The following cots were required: Tofield, 1 roll-away cot; Ryley, 1 roll-away cot; Holden, 2 roll-away cots; Viking, 2 roll-away cots; Kinsella, 1 roll-away cot. Plus bedding enough for two changes for each cot.

Moved and carried that the necessary items be purchased.

In regards to the teacher cars to be used in emergency situations, the Holden school advised that Joseph Fornal and Wm. Cyrenchuk would supply the cars at this point.

Moved and carried that the report be accepted and the appointments concurred in.

The matter of the Centennial Tree Planting Program was brought up and outlined by the Superintendent.

After some discussion, it was moved that the County enter into the necessary agreement to have certain trees supplied under the Centennial Tree Planting Program.

The Superintendent referred to the Industrial Arts Program, reporting on a meeting with Mr. Harder, the Supervisor of Industrial Arts, and the Industrial Arts Teachers in the County on Dec. 1st. It was considered that some equipment to work in plastics and some material and tools for leather tooling as well as some automotive tools should be obtained.

Moved and carried that the report be accepted.

The Superintendent suggested that an Audio Visual Workshop should be held in the County so that the teachers could be made aware of how the Audio-Visual equipment could assist them in their teaching. He suggested that the schools could be closed for one day and the teachers brought in a central point.

Moved and carried that the suggestion be approved and the necessary arrangements made.

The Committee was advised that the Maintenance Foreman, Nick Shibinski, was anxious to conduct a Workshop for janitors. W. E. Greer Ltd. was prepared to conduct a Workshop and it was suggested that the head janitors could be brought to Edmonton for an afternoon session. Mr. Bruce suggested that the County might pay mileage for the cars and possibly also pay for dinner.

Moved and carried that Nick Shibinski arrange for a Workshop for the janitors at W. E. Greer Ltd. Plant in Edmonton and that mileage be paid for two cars, and also that the cost of one meal be paid by the County for the people attending.

Mr. Bruce referred to Miss Encarnacion, teacher at Bruce, who was a piano teacher and who wanted to be able to give piano lessons to students in the area and that she had requested permission to use the piano in the school as well as the classroom.

Moved and carried that the request be accepted to.

The Committee was advised that D. Otte, the Contractor who had constructed the teacherages in Ryley, had requested a final inspection, and it was suggested that this be done on Dec. 7th.

Moved and carried that Cruickshanks and Krupinski, Mr. Boyd, the Maintenance Foreman Nick Shibinski and the Superintendent be appointed a Committee to deal with this matter.

Unidentified flying object sighted in air over Edberg

A flying object with flashing red light and flames coming out of the rear end was seen on the night of December 28 by several Edberg residents.

Adam Bulwilofski and his son, Dale, described it to The Canadian. They saw it for about 10 seconds south of Edberg. It seemed to be about [illegible] feet up in the air, appeared to be about 10 feet long and it was going straight east. They said it could not have been high up as other people who saw it claimed, as it was temporarily obscured by buildings.

Others who saw the object, Mr. Bulwillofski said, were Loris Bathe and Bob Boden, both of Edberg, and Ervin Wilson of New Norway. He added that the flames disappeared while they were watching the object but the red light continued flashing.

Rude-Lauber wedding solemnized at Tofield

(Mrs. C. M. Rude)

Baskets of garden flowers created the setting for the wedding in Tofield United Church on August 20 at 6 p.m., when Jo-anne Mae, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lauber of Tofield, became the bride of Merlin Wallace Rude, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rude also of Tofield.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Arthur Dahlen.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of white crystal charm with controlled skirt with floral applique accented with pearl beads. Her elbow length veil was held in place with flowered orchids and her bouquet of red roses was centered with a white orchid.

Miss Mary Lou, sister of the bride was maid of honor, and Miss Gail Lauber, cousin of the bride was bridesmaid. They were lovely in floor-length gowns of pastel green with empire waist and elbow length pleated sleeves. Their head pieces were white and red roses. Teresa Rude, niece of the groom wore a floor length white gown and carried white carnations and pink roses.

The groom was attended by his cousin, Larry Foshaug and brother Lars Rude. Jimmy Lauber, brother of the bride and Mr. Richard Foshaug, cousin of the groom were ushers.

During the ceremony, Leroy Finseth rendered "Jesus Christ be Present Now", "O Perfect Love" and the "Lord's Prayer." Mrs. Andy Heiberg was organist.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Lauber chose a two-piece dress in pastel blue with black accessories, while the groom's mother wore a navy dress with white accessories and both mothers wore pink corsages.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Glenn Knutslien was in charge of the guest book.

Following the ceremony a reception for 175 guests was held at the Tofield Community Centre. The bride's table was centered with a three tier wedding cake baked by the bride's aunt, Miss Kaie Lauber and decorated by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Lee Doth.

Kenneth Zook, cousin of the bride was M.C. and Carl Nelson, brother-in-law of the groom proposed the toast to the bride.

Leaving on a honeymoon trip to Banff, Jasper and the Okanagan, the bride wore a turquoise floral Georgette dress over turquoise organza with white accessories and a white orchid corsage.

The happy couple are residing on a farm near Dodds.

GARDINER DAM READY FOR USE: While work is continuing on various phases of the South Saskatchewan River Development Project, the main structure, the Gardiner Dam, is functional, according to PFRA Engineers responsible for construction. Small amounts of work on the dam are being completed while construction of irrigation and hydroelectric power facilities is advancing. The white strip at the west end of the dam is the concrete chute spillway. The irrigation main canal can be seen stretching across the bottom of the picture. Meanwhile, the reservoir is filling to form Lake Saskatchewan.

Ryley phones go automatic

Completely automated telephone operation will come to Ryley on February 8th, The Mercury learned this morning. The new system involves use of new seven-digit telephone numbers, which are also being introduced to Ryley at the same time.

The system makes possible automatic dialing to nearly 90 million telephones throughout Canada and the United States, simply by dialling the proper sequence of numbers, and eliminates the need for an operator except in special cases, such as person-to-person calls and other less frequent needs.

Ryley now becomes one of a growing number of communities in the province switching over to the new automatic system, which permits a much higher percentage use of existing telephone cable. Highly sophisticated electronic devices search out the shortest open route to connect any long distance call made, but even if the direct connection between two points is already in use, the device will find the shortest circuitous or roundabout route, so that the call is completed far more rapidly than a switchboard operator could ever do. In fact, only thousandths of a second are needed for the electronic device to complete its work.

New telephone directories, listing the seven digit numbers, will be issued for the Ryley exchange, and a pamphlet will describe operation of the new system for subscribers. Shortly before switch-over to the dial system, a public meeting will be held in town to demonstrate operations, and answer any questions users may have.

New installations have been going into homes and business places for several weeks in anticipation of the switch, and most users are becoming familiar with the instruments. Old-style instruments will be taken out of service immediately after the change-over.

Automatic operation was installed in Tofield and Holden several months ago, as part of Alberta Government Telephone's program of bringing modern service to as many as possible.

Tofield couple marks golden anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Young were honored January 2 on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary. An afternoon reception was held at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Young. Many relatives and friends were in attendance, and much time was spent in reminiscences of the past.

Mr. Young came to Alberta in 1903, at the age of 13, and lived in the Lacombe and Stettler areas for several years. From 1906 to 1909 he was in charge of one of the early mail routes. He also drove "freight team" in that area until 1913 when the Goose Lake railway was completed.

On January 2, 1917, he married May Svenson, a nurse who had trained at the Brett Hospital in Banff. The couple had met in the Canmore hospital where Mr. Young's father was a patient. Their wedding took place in Ogden, a suburb of Calgary, with Reverend Hartley officiating. Attendants were Miss Ethel Brierly and a Mr. Campbell.

The couple lived on Mr. Young's homestead at Youngstown until 1923, when they moved to Wayne, Alberta. There, Mr. Young worked in the coal mines for about three years. In 1927, they resumed farming at Dobson, Alberta.

In 1931, the Youngs moved to Elk Point, where they resided until moving to Tofield in 1962. They have developed many strong friendships in their new home and are happy to be part of the Tofield community.

Mr. and Mrs. Young have three children, eight grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Would this explain Edberg's flying object?

A Tofield district resident has suggested he may have come up with a possible explanation of the unidentified flying object with flashing red light and flames coming out of the rear end seen on the night of December 28th by several Edberg residents.

Could this possibly be Santa Claus, as he was around Tofield and Ryley districts, perhaps on his way to the North Pole in a bit of a hurry?

Cards were sent this week as a reminder of the Clinic to all citizens. Last year 79 pints of blood were donated by residents of Tofield and district. This year a goal has been set at 150 pints. Your co-operation is needed to achieve this goal.

Refreshments will be furnished and served by the T.S.U.

"Participate" but not celebrate

(The Montreal Star)

Now we are told that Quebec will "participate" in but not "celebrate" the centennial of Confederation. This is because Yves Gabias, provincial secretary, suggests Quebec has had a raw deal since 1867. It remains therefore a passive, unwilling partner. Why, in these circumstances, "participate" at all?

We get a bit tired of these bad manners. Quebec has had a whole century to decide about its place in Canada. Its present governors — and indeed its predecessors — have had a thousand opportunities to get out if they wanted to. They have preferred to make do with what they have. The logical assumption is that, on balance, they decided that they are better off inside Confederation than out of it. Like the rest of Canada they do not quite like what they have got. But— again on balance — they prefer what they have to the alternatives that present themselves. Why not then "celebrate" instead of "participate" in the centennial that begins next month?

It is true that, by the standards of 1966, the present aspirations of Quebec have not been fulfilled through the Confederative pact. But it is the most shallow and unhistorical thing to assert, as is unfortunately too often said in Quebec today, that Confederation has been a handicap to Quebec. It has been quite clearly the foundation upon which Quebec has built its present prospects. What would have been the alternative? The Lower Canada of 1867 would have collapsed many years ago had it not been for the strength it derived from the British North America Act proclaimed on July 1 of that same year.

There are many proofs of this. The most conclusive, in political terms, is that successive Quebec administrations, while always seeking adjustments, approved it. Those earlier administrations always remembered that the French Fact, French culture, and French rights would disappear if, without the support of English Canada, they had to face the naked pressure of the United States.

Inside Confederation, Quebec maintains its rights. Outside the union it becomes a pawn of United States power politics. Whether Quebec likes it or not, its entrenched rights under Confederation are its sole safeguard. Thes rights English Canada is determined to preserve. English Canada is also slowly, too slowly, coming to the belief that they should be enlarged. But the basic rights are not now, or ever will be, in question.

In these circumstances it is surely not asking too much that Quebec should not only "participate" in the centennial of Confederation, but should celebrate it.

Centennial report

by John W. Fisher
Centennial Commissioner

Canada's teachers have the opportunity in 1967 to help make a visit to the Confederation Train or Caravan exhibitions a memorable and valuable experience.

The Train, which started January 9 at Victoria on a cross-Canada tour of 63 cities, and the Confederation Caravans, visiting more than 700 communities are, in effect, travelling teaching aids. The story of Canada from primeval times will unfold before the eyes of children as they experience, by sight and sound, an adventure through history. Life-size models, sound effects, lighting, artifacts and photography will enable children to live through great events since the pre-ice-age era.

Standing on the timbered deck of a Viking ship at sea or peering through the slit of a sandbagged trench in no-man's land amid the din of battle—such experiences produce a more lasting impression than would a film or television program.

Visitors to the exhibits will be in a three dimensional world which will affect all their senses. As a good stage presentation usually creates a more lasting impression than does the two dimensional cinema or television screen, so will the Confederation exhibits influence youngsters.

The exhibits also are likely to develop a curiosity among children, and adults, too, about the historical background of our country. A journalist, commenting on a pre-tour visit to the exhibits, told us that they "make you want to head for the library to check the why's and when's" of certain developments in Canadian history.

What, for example, were the underlying reasons for the Riel rebellion in 1885? Were English laws enforced in Canada up to 1931 when the Statute of Westminster was passed? Were the west coast Indians descendants of early immigrants from Asia? Questions like those are prompted by a visit to the Train or Caravans.

A Quebec writer visiting the Train also said, "It's like another world to me—I've discovered so much about the history of the West I simply didn't know anything about".

The Train or Caravan exhibits do not constitute a complete history of Canada. In fact there are many gaps. But they do provide a broad impression. Teachers can ensure that a visit is a valuable experience by helping beforehand to fill in some gaps both in the exhibits story and in children's knowledge of history.

A guide to classroom discussions is to reach the desks of teachers, well before the Train and Caravans arrive arrive in communities, in the form of an attractive Centennial color folder. It indicates how the story of Canada is told by the exhibits. Classroom discussion based on the folder can help children grasp the significance of what they will see and hear on their visits.

The Centennial Commission has a great appreciation for the contribution teachers can make to the Train and Caravan projects.

Pre-ice-age rain forest in one of the travelling Confederation exhibits.

EARLY RECREATION — Lacrosse, a fast-moving netted stick game, was played in America before Columbus landed in 1492. Originated by the Iroquois Indians and used as a training requirement for warriors, this strenuous game was adopted in 1840 by the white man. It is now reputed to be North America's oldest organized sport.

TWO-WAY VISION— Swimming along in fresh water without spectacles, the anableps, a tropical fish, is truly a four-eyed specimen. This live-bearer, which sometimes grows a foot long, has unusual divided vision. Its eye resembles that of a frog, except the upper portion is adapted for sight in the air, while the lower is for vision in the water.

A Gordon for me...

Ours is probably the only newspaper voice in the West that doesn't feel Walter Gordon's reappointment to the federal Cabinet is a disaster only just short of the secession of Quebec. Most of our readers will know this column finds a lot to agree with Gordon on, even though admitting he has feet of clay.

Certainly Gordon made mistakes when he was in office before. Certainly he badly advised the Liberal party on election strategy. Certainly he has made other major mistakes as well which individually could have been enough to wreck the career of a lesser man.

Many critics jump on his ill-fated policy of bringing control of Canadian corporations back to Canada, condemning this as a near-fatal move for this developing country. Can they possibly overlook the fact that as a chartered accountant, needlessly working and born to the Establishment, Gordon fully understood the far reaching significance of his action, probably seeing more deeply than his critics. How can they dismiss the fact it was Gordon who established the ground rules even now being applauded country-wide of keeping New York Citibank's interest in the Mercantile Bank low enough to preclude them gaining economic domination over the entire nation?

How can they overlook the fact that here was one of the few men of our time, provincially or nationally, who had the moral fibre and the integrity to resign his high office in the face of seemingly repeated ineptness, yet throw his reputation and his honor into the ring and continue to fight to re-establish himself. This is no simpering, maudlin yes-man unable to disagree with his chosen party. This is a man, with a mind of his own, able and willing to stand the chill disapproval that follows a clash with the party, yet able to command its approbation at the same time.

This is a man. The country needs more like him.

This Is The New Western Union Insurance Building

It might serve as a Centennial symbol showing the growth of our all-Canadian-owned company to fifty times its original size in a quarter-century. Now Alberta's largest chartered insurance company, Western Union Insurance has assets exceeding $5,000,000, its 15,000 policyholders — business firms, householders and farmers, served by independent qualified agents in Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia — hold policies covering every class of general insurance.

By moving into our new headquarters, we can provide even better service and facilities. For example, we are now one of only eight insurance companies in Canada to have an IBM 360/30 — North America's most modern insurance data processing equipment.

Thank you, Western Canada. And may we suggest that, in Centennial Year, you choose a Canadian-owned insurance company. There are only a few among the hundreds operating in Canada. Your Agent will know them.

H. Giebelhaus has unique dairy plant

(Mrs. G. H. Taylor)

HOLDEN — In December 1966, Harold Giebelhaus received the hearty congratulations of the district on completing a year's proprietorship of Giebelhaus Guernsey Dairies Ltd. Mr. Giebelhaus has a 30 ft. x 30 ft. dairy house which is heated by natural gas and it probably has Canada's smallest total energy plant. At present he pasteurizes about 200 quarts of milk per day; in the near future he is hoping to increase this to 300 quarts daily.

Harold has the only herd of Guernsey 2 - butterfat herd between Dauphin, Man. and Vancouver, B.C. The dairy delivers milk to Ryley, Bruce and Viking besides delivery in Holden, and also has chocolate milk and cream for sale.

Hoopsters prepare for Ryley contests

The green and white clad hoopsters of Tofield have been hard at work this week preparing for the Friday night contests with the rivals from the east. The games will be played in Tofield starting at 7:30.

Last Friday the teams travel'ed to Viking, where they were victorious. The boys came away with a 38-2 score, and the girls won by a 41-14 count. Coach Eastlick was able to clear the benches early in both contests, thereby giving the reserves plenty of action.

The annual meeting of the Tofield Community League was held on January 11 in the Community Centre. A pot luck supper, arranged for by D. W. Jacobs and Reed Burchard, charter members of the League, preceded the meeting after grace had been said by Father Scriven.

The regular December meeting, under the chairmanship of president Lionel Barton, was held immediately after the supper had been enjoyed. In the unavoidable absence of the treasurer, Hans Christensen, the treasurer's report was given by Arnold Swift, secretary of the League.

Mr. K. R. Eastlick, principal of the Tofield School, addressed the meeting, asking the support of League members for the Centennial Yearbook being compiled by the High School students with Shauna Astley as editor. This yearbook is intended to be a pictorial record of Tofield in 1967.

In his president's report, Lionel Borton thanked his committee and members of the League who had so ably supported him as president. He reviewed the year's activities, some which had been financially successful and some of which had not. The most successful were the bingo, the $100 a month club and the July 1st celebration which was, for the first time, a two-day event.

Jack Whyte, chairman of the theatre committee, stated that "Mary Poppins" had been the best-attended show ever held in Tofield. For the four showings, $334.90 had been taken in, $167.45 of which was the League's profit since the show was run on a 50-50 basis. Popcorn sales for this show netted a further $32.90.

The December meeting being adjourned, the annual meeting was held. Under the temporary chairmanship of past-president John Baergen, the members of the League elected the following slate of officers for the Centennial year: Lionel Borton, president, Ed Watson, 1st vice-president; Harold Ferguson, 2nd vice-president; J. C. Lampitt, 3rd vice-president, Peter Nickel, secretary, Hans Christensen, treasurer. Directors: G. McFadzean, Elmer Goeglein Sr., Horace Seller, Dr. Freebury, Wm. Davison, Geo Arnett, Wm. Christensen, Arnold Swift, Chas. Sears, John B. Baergen.

The treasurer's annual report, given by Arnold Swift for Hans Christensen, revealed that $3,400 of the League's indebtedness had been paid off during the year, and $1,600 had been donated to the League by cancellation of all or part of notes and through cash donations. The theatre committee, after paying a nominal rent to the League, had broken even, shows averaging $77 each. The cost of operating the Community Centre was given as $2,700 per year. This fact in particular was called to the attention of the meeting, as many people do not realize the cost of operating the Community Centre whether it is used or not. That two scholarships of $50 each had been given to students and support rendered to many community activities, was stressed by the treasurer's report. The major sources of revenue were the July 1st celebration and the $100 club.

NEW MEMBERS

Discussion arose as to how to get increased membership and support for the League. It was stated that most of the members present for this meeting had for many years been working hard for the League and the benefits it brings to the town. Additions to membership and replacements for former members would be most welcome. One member said he could not understand why more people in business were not more active as businessmen have a large financial interest in Tofield and it is to their advantage to make Tofield a worthwhile place to live in. He also stated that perhaps the debt on the Community Centre was not entirely a bad thing, since it formed an incentive for members to work together. Several members reiterated the statement that new members would be most welcome at the League's meetings on the first Tuesday of each month in the Community Centre and that the ideas of new members would be a valuable contribution to these meetings.

Since this is Canada's Centennial Year, Lionel Borton asked for a special effort on the part of the League in order that 1967 might be an especially memorable one.

Alex Shybas leave Holden

Mrs. G. Taylor

HOLDEN It was with regret the community learned that Mr. and Mrs. Alex Shyba will be leaving town at the end of this month. They have been in charge of the Edmonton Produce egg buying station here for the past few years, and have taken part in many community affairs.

Mr. and Mrs. Shyba are leaving to make their home in Devon and will be employed on a large chicken farm, grading eggs.

Alex was born and raised in the Holden district and is the son of Mr and Mrs. Wm Shyba.

It is probable that the Edmonton Produce station will close down, as there is a lack of eggs coming in. Trucks from Edmonton and Camrose pick up crates of eggs directly from the producers.

Holowachuk takes Farmer's Bonspiel

The Holowachuk rink of Ryley emerged the victors in the Ryley Farmers' Bonspiel, in which 20 rinks participated. McMullen of Bruce placed second, Stensrud was third and Gotheridge of Round Hill took fourth place in the Grand Challenge event.

Other winners were: H Shyba, Holden; Charles Magneson; Geo Bakker and H Bakker, taking first, second, third and fourth, respectively, in the second event. Third event winners were Ed Lyons, Ole Haugen, Tofield, J. Nichols and M. Kulba, in that order. The Hard Luck prize went to Wm. Winsness of Ryley.

The Curling Club was gratified to receive help from its members for the operation of the 'spiel, and feels that, as always, the ladies were the backbone of the bonspiel with their very capable assistance, particularly with kitchen duties.

Blood clinic is a success

The Tofield High School Students' Union would like to express its appreciation to the citizens for making the Clinic successful. Approximately 120 pints of blood were collected for the blood bank. About 40 of the high school students acted as bed assistants, servers, receptionists and kitchen help during the afternoon and evening sessions. This is one of the ways in which the local students attempt to show their appreciation to the community for its support of their activities.

Sir John A. Day?

This paper is not among those who feel the country has been negligent in not proclaiming a national holiday on Sir John A. MacDonald's birthday, even though he was architect and in large part the contractor for confederation in Canada

This is not to say that some national observance should not be made of the day just the same. It's all too easy to close everything down for another holiday, but is anything achieved by this? We seriously doubt if any large percentage of people stop to think even now of the significance of several of our statutory holidays. Rather than join in any observance of the reason for the holiday, thousands of us simply jump in the car and race off somewhere else for a different kind of outing.

If remembrance of Sir John is to mean anything, why not follow the pattern of years ago when schools actually held programs marking Victoria Day, or when people stopped working long enough to join the Remembrance Day ceremony, then return to work? Surely it is far more productive and far more worthwhile to actually join in something, than simply to shut down everything for the day. If it came right down to it, a number of people could probably find good and sufficient reason for suggesting a holiday on just about every one of the 365 days of the year. For instance, what about Jacques Cartier Day, or was it Leif Erickson who discovered the country? What about Charles Saunders, Sir Edward Banting, or Grey Cup Day, Groundhog Day, Ice Break-up Day, or to mark the fact we're the talkingest nation in the world, Alexander Graham Bell Day, after the Canadian inventor of the telephone.

This game is easy; want to join?

Second look

We were delighted this week at two announcements from the provincial government department of public works, to the effect that none of the tenders received on two government projects has been accepted. In one case the job was bid at nearly a hundred thousand dollars, while the other ranged near the half million mark.

In both cases, too, the bids were well grouped for normal range, indicating they were probably pretty fair bids, but obviously they were considerably above government expectations. In both cases the project will be re-studied to effect certain economies, and tenders will be called again later in the year.

It's heartening to learn there is a price past which the government won't go. Most builders recently have become used to bids coming in higher than even the wildest guesses, and in most cases have had to accept. It probably is salutary once in a while to call a halt.

Bitter medicine?

A motorist recently made a suggestion to all those complaining about the soaring cost of auto insurance to make an effort to be more cautious and help prevent what is becoming a major problem in most areas. A little slow-down on the fender benders, he suggests, would help firms keep rates in line

There's little doubt this is a big part of the problem, but so is the larceny in the hearts of a great many of us. All too frequently the repair shop is asked to connive, and sometimes suggests it, in inflating the bill to cover other needed repairs at the same time, thus helping to reduce the normal "deductible".

The fact that accident repair costs get more expensive all the time, coupled with the problem that thousands who wouldn't steal a newspaper from a newsboy have no compunction about stealing from the "rich" and impersonal insurance company, are two of the underlying factors in the ever-increasing insurance spiral. Most of us know only too well the answer lies in our own hands

Grumblers please note

"Grumbling in the local pub doesn't measure up to a strong attendance at meetings" comments another weekly paper in noting poor interest " . FUA needs a shot in the arm in the way of member interest if it is to continue to be a useful voice in the district The annual meeting was held last week, with a slim turnout of ten members. There is more to being a member than paying dues and it appears farmers need unity now more than at any other time if they are to have a hope of coping with the financial problems that are threatening to strangle the small operator Grumbling in the local pub doesn't measure up to a strong attendance at meetings particularly where new officers are to be elected"

The coment appeared in The Fairview Post, but we imagine the shoe would fit just as much in this and many other areas Grumbler please note

MacDuff Ottawa Report

TIGHTEN THE LAW

OTTAWA —The federal government has accepted as one of its Centennial projects for Parliament a legislative program designed to restore public confidence in Canadian investment It is appropriate and not too early Canadian investors are quite noticeably diverting their funds from Canadian to foreign bonds and equities In October the value of Canadian purchases of foreign securities was twice that purchased in Canada

The collapse of Atlantic Acceptance posed a threat to the inflow of capital for investment on which Canada depends The failure of Prudential Finance followed immediately by the theft provoked failure of the North American General Insurance Company could renew this threat

In any event the last failure of a federally-incorporated company controlled by Prudential has shaken the government It is meeting insurance companies in Ottawa today to discuss protective legislation North American did not write life insurance, and losses through unpaid claims may be relatively small, but they point up the necessity for tightening the law

When the Centennial session of Canada's 27th Parliament opens, probably sometime in March, a main theme of the Speech from the Throne will be protection of the investor and the small Canadian borrower This is a field in which provincial and federal jurisdictions overlap and most of the legislation is the result of frequent discussions between federal and provincial officials during the past year

How much of these Throne Speech promises will become law before the end of the year will depend on how long the government is ready and able to keep Parliament working while the nation celebrates A long summer recess is taken for granted but so far there has been no talk of coming back in the fall, a necessity if even the most urgent legislation is to be passed

Most important among the Throne Speech promises will be major amendments to the Canada Corporation Act Discussions with the provinces of new laws to protect the investor have made two things clear There will be no Federal Securities and Exchange Commission in spite of campaigns carried on by the energetic Hon Alvin Hamilton and others Whatever the federal government thought of the idea and most of the enthusiasm was on the lower level [illegible] will not get the [illegible] of the three provinces most [illegible] Ontario Quebec and British Columbia [illegible] the [illegible] changes and [illegible] the street will be left [illegible] the provinces

FORCE DISCLOSURE

There will be [illegible] of laws dealing with financial disclosure by companies including the Federal Canada Corporations Act So far Ontario has gone farthest in this field and the Ottawa amendments as well as those in other Provinces will probably follow the Ontario pattern In any event this is one Throne Speech promise which will be fulfilled

Revision of the Bankruptcy Act, now under study for more than two years, will be promised in the Throne Speech, but nothing is expected until 1968 The three-man committee composed of M. Roger Tasse, Superintendent of Bankruptcy, as chairman, Mr. John D Honsberger of Toronto and M Pierre Carignan of Montreal is now meeting twice a week but its report to Canada's new watchdog, the Registrar General, will not be ready until the end of the year. Canada's Bankruptcy Act was inherited from the British law which in turn was a throw-back to the days of the old debtors' prisons The committee believes a totally new approach to bankruptcy is needed

NEEDS ARE DIFFERENT

The law as it stands does not differentiate in bankruptcies. It lumps the individual small debtor unable to pay his creditors with the corporation though there is no similarity in the problems involved The committee has in mind the appointment of public trustees for the individual bankrupt whose problem as often as not is a social one and who frequently needs more protection than his creditors

Closely linked with this problem of the individual debtor is the problem of consumer credit one on which the government will be getting a report from a joint Senate-Commons Committee probably by the end of the month. The report will recommend legislation to protect this type of borrower from the loan shark It will probably call for disclosure of total costs of a loan both as a lump sum and in terms of simple interest The government has already promised this provision in the new Bank Act It will extend it to other companies under federal jurisdiction and has been discussing parallel provincial legislation It may also ask legislation prohibiting finance companies from repossessing goods after a reasonable stage of payment At least some of the recommendations will be implemented this year

Another Throne Speech promise which can be classed as public protection through its main purpose is but to tempt provincially incorporated near banks under federal supervision, is deposit insurance The legislation has been introduced this session but will not be passed until the Centennial session

CAPITAL HILL CAPSULE

Ottawa opinions on success or failure of the Kennedy round at Geneva vary from optimism to extreme pessimism But time is running out and as yet there is no agricultural offer from the Common Market that satisfies the United States The U S Trade Expansion Act expires on June 30 with virtually no chance of renewal Whatever is salvaged in Geneva negotiations must be signed and sealed before that time Meanwhile Canada's own offer of equivalent advantage to the across-the-board tariff cuts has been sweetened by throwing into the package proposals for a 30 per cent reduction in duty on industrial machinery and under certain circumstances free entry

Wild flowers in garden makes centennial plan

Mrs. Peter Brown of Tofield is making her own Alberta Wild Flower Garden, as her personal project for 1967. It will include a lily pond for water lilies, bull rushes, etc., and is partly located among trees, so that the shade-loving flowers can be a part of it, too. Once the garden is arranged, she plans to outline it with items from her rock collection, and the Centennial flag will fly above it.

Another part of Mrs. Brown's project will to make a rock garden where she will plant only bulbs, such as tulips, etc. Mrs. Brown says "I can hardly wait till spring to see it". We'd like to, too.

TRUSTEESHIP EXTENDED

Federal Trusteeship over five Canadian Maritime unions has been extended for another year. A cabinet order to that effect was recently announced by Labour Minister Nicholson. Word of the extension came only days before trusteeship was due to expire. Three trustees have controlled Maritimes unions since 1963, as a result of legislation to control labour strife on the Great Lakes.

Holden LCW has annual meeting

Mrs. G. Taylor

The Holden Lutheran Church Women held their annual meeting in the church parlor on Jan 12th with 11 members present. The new Bible study "Who Is He" was taken by Mrs. Margaret Olsen. Mrs. Martha Schwanke gave an outline of evangelism as it effects our own community. Worship meditation was taken by Mrs. Kathleen Hurum.

The annual reports showed a very good year and many projects had been supported. A donation was made to the Bethany Home & Hospital, Camrose.

Officers for 1967 are as follows: president, Mrs. Hilmer Olsen; vice-pres., Mrs. Algot Hultholm, sec.-treas., Mrs. Otto Hurum, education sec., Mrs. Paul Schwanke, stewardship sec., Mrs. Melvin Olson, cradle roll sec., Mrs. Ernest Koetke; sunshine convener, Mrs. Olaf Smorlie.

At the conclusion of the meeting a delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Hans Brekstad and Mrs. Bertha Chetney.

Pastor S. J. Rude of Camrose was guest speaker at the Lutheran Church on Sunday, January 8th, as Pastor Stanley Rude is away on holidays.

Boys curl in zone playdowns

Brian McFadzean, Bernie Wilkie, Doug Everitt and Pat Nolan, accompanied by Mr. Cribb, travelled to Killam, where they represented Tofield High School in the All-Canada School-Boy Curling playdown. They were eliminated after winning one and losing two games.

This weekend, this team and a girls' team consisting of Shirley Swift, Wendy Arnett, June Christenson and Gail Widynowski will take part in the County of Beaver Bonspiel at Ryley.

Shyba wins First Event in Curlorama

The Massey Ferguson bonspiel hosted by Joe Komarnisky, the Massey Ferguson agent at Holden held the Massey Curlorama at Ryley January 9th and 10th with nine rinks entered.

The 'spiel which got under way Monday at 10:30 a.m. was a real thriller all the way. In the 7:00 p.m. draw on Tuesday, Geo Bekker and his rink, winners of Section B beat out Harry Shyba who, until then, had been undefeated. However, when these two rinks returned to the ice about 10:00 o'clock for the final game, Harry won out in a hard-fought battle.

A delicious dinner was served by the ladies of the Ryley Curling Club to all the curlers in the Curlorama, as well as to the guests Olaf Monsum, secretary-treasurer of the County of Beaver, and Mr. Weatheral, county councillor. Mayor A. R. Cross gave a few words of welcome and good wishes on behalf of the Village of Ryley.

Wayne Evans of Edmonton, the District Manager, told of the operations of the "curlorama", and Joe Komarnisky welcomed all the curlers and wished them well. Garnet Burnstad was master of ceremonies for the occasion.

Joe Komarnisky and the Ryley Curling Club want to thank all those who in any way made the 'spiel such a great success.

4-H Beef Club plans whist drive Jan. 20

(Marilyn Schocker)

The Tofield 4-H Beef Club held their regular meeting on January 12, with members answering the roll call with "does my calf lead".

The club planned to have a whist drive on January 20, at 8.00 p.m., in the Legion Hall.

A skating party was also discussed at this meeting. It is to be held February 11, at 8:00 p.m., in the Ross Creek skating rink.

A very interesting and useful demonstration was given by Marjorie Moore and Phyllis Rose on First Aid.

At this meeting, everyone participated in the impromptu speech, which proved most interesting and were enjoyed by all.

The Tofield 4-H Pee Wee Club held their regular meeting on January 14 at the Rudzcki home.

A very interesting debate was given by Jane Bailey and Sharon Rudzcki for the the affirmative and Grace Heiberg and Linda Rude for the negative. The debate resolved that mothers should be club leaders rather than fathers in the Pee Wee Club. The negative side were chosen the winners.

Guest speaker at the meeting was Phyllis Rose.

Respiratory disease is not as dramatic as tuberculosis was 60 years ago when the public began to rally to fight it. It is, however seriously disabling. It robs thousands of the ability to earn a living. It makes the last years of even more people more miserable. Christmas Seal dollars help support the programmes to find and control these diseases.

Hoopsters win pair

The high school basketball teams of Tofield defeated Ryley in a pair of games played Friday night before an over-flow crowd. The girls scored a 13-9 win in a game which had both teams have "tough luck" with their shooting. The boys' team found their shooting eyes early and scorched the nets for a 92-64 victory in a fast-moving cleanly played game.

Friday night, Holden will furnish the opposition. The Holden boys' team is undefeated as they posted a 42-38 win over the local aggregate. The boys are looking forward to the opportunity of squaring the won-lost records. This should be the "game of the season", so come out and support your teams.

Teachers study . . .

Are statistics reliable in predicting pupil success?

(By Mrs. Grace Phillips)

Integrated testing patterns used throughout school years can be a major help in determining the probability or lack of probability of pupils succeeding in their school programs, teachers of the Tofield sub-local of the Alberta Teachers Association were told Tuesday night, when the group met in the school library. Program chairman Mrs Daisy Young planned the panel led by Glen Pohar, based on the theme "The Use of Statistical Concepts in Predicting the Success of Students".

At next month's meeting it is planned to look further into the statistical concept to see how they can be used to help pupils, and whether the indications may be changed

Mrs. Young, speaking for the primary grades, stated that the Metropolitan tests given to grade one students during the first few weeks of school tell the teacher how the child has reacted to and learned from his pre-school environment. Armed with this statistical evidence of the student's maturity, the teacher is able to plan the program which will be of most benefit to the child. Other standardized tests given throughout the year record the progress of the child. The scores obtained on these tests enable the teacher to ascertain whether the child is progressing as he should, if not, whether material should be re-taught or whether illness or emotional factors are causing difficulty

NEW VOCABULARY

Mr Glen Pohar, mathematics teacher in Tofield High School and chairman of the panel then explained the vocabularly used in dealing with statistical concepts The normal, or bell, curve of marks obtained by students was explained, as were the terms "median", "mode", "stanine", standard deviation Since grade nine students are given a stanine rating on their June exams by the Department of Education, there is no are of immediate practical interest to all teachers

Mrs Ingram, second member of the panel, traced the relationship of the marks of all the members of one class from their grade one standardized tests through marks obtained in primary and upper elementary grades to the stanine rating they obtain ed in grade nine departmental examinations These marks, or ratings, were considered in relationship to the I Q of each student as recorded on three tests A great deal of research had gone into this presentation and the results aroused much interest among the teachers

FORECAST BY GRADE 9

Mrs. Grace Phillips, third speaker on the panel, presented the results of a study done previously on the factors in a student's record which indicate he will be successful. Student records of five consecutive grade nine classes through high school grades to entrance in university or vocational schools were studied

The following factors were found to be of significant importance (1) Stanine obtained in grade nine exams; (2) I Q.; (3) level of parental education; (4) degree of parental participation in community affairs; (5) place of residence (urban or rural); (6) extra-curricular activities of students

By checking these factors, a prediction of the student's future success may be made with reasonable accuracy by the staff of the school. Again, these results proved interesting and provoked discussion.

CAN THINGS CHANGE?

After Mr Pohar had summed up the findings of the panel, Mrs. Young, as chairman of the program committee, asked the members of the sub-local to bring to the February meeting answers to the following questions. (1) What have you learned about the value of statistical concepts in predicting the future success of students? (2) How can the use of statistical concepts be used to help our students? (3) What action can be taken to change the situations where they are unfavorable? (4) What actions have already been taken and with what result?

Launch year full of Centennial programs

by— MRS. GRACE PHILLIPS

Here we go! Tofield's Centennial program got off to a flying start on Monday night when, under the chairmanship of Dr. W. H. Freebury, mayor of Tofield, an enthusiastic group, representative of both town and country, met to discuss possible activities for Canada's Centennial year. The size of the crowd, which packed the meeting room to the doors was evidence of the interest felt in the Canadian Centennial.

After introducing the issue, Dr. Freebury outlined tentative program for events of 1867. The meeting endorsed this suggested program and recommended it for consideration by the town council.

Proposals included landscaping the entrances to the town and "Centennial Square", where the fall fair stands. Rest-dotting Main Street was also proposed, and E.I Watson explained how this could be done. When the town council and the merchants have considered these plans, they will be sent to outside lawyers and Ottawa.

In lighter vein, the Mayor suggested that "dancing in the streets" should become a reality in Tofield. Since the social streets are not too suitable for dancing, Mr. Seiler had given permission for the Bank of Montreal parking lot to be used for this event. Mr. Penny of the Bank of Montreal will be in charge of arrangements; he will be assisted by the staff of the Tofield Hospital, and Calgary Power will supply the necessary lighting Local orchestras will supply the music for many types of dancing. Ethnic groups are to be requested to present the dances from their original homeland This idea met with strong approval, as Tofield is made up of people from many countries whose cultural heritage should not be lost.

PROGRAM ON ICE

A Centennial Winter Carnival, with the Curling Club and the Lions Club as sponsors, is proposed Here, something really new has been added — ski-doo races are proposed. A snow-race distance on the ice of one of the ponds is also under consideration.

A Centennial Song Festival was proposed by Dr. Freebury and emphatically supported by Mrs. Lloyd Tribe, who felt there is one song from each decade of Canada's history could be provided, the song festival might Centennial programs...

wed be one of the more important 1967 events in Tofield Mrs. McFadzean will contact choir leaders regarding this event

UPDATE HISTORY

It is hoped through the Tofield Historical Society, to compile and update previously recorded history of Tofield and publish it in a booklet This has been done in many other towns and makes a valuable record

The Tofield School Year Book, as described by Mr Eastlick, principal of the Tofield School, will be a pictorial record of the school and the town as they exist in 1967 This, too, will form a valuable source of reference for the future.

The suggestion that store and office personnel dress in centennial costumes on as many occasions as possible was made, and the meeting went on record as favoring the idea Of course, it is expected that other groups will become costume conscious

NEED MALE ACTORS

The Tofield Drama Club hopes under the direction of Father Scriven, to produce a play during Centennial Year Male actors are needed, and anyone interested is asked to please contact Father Scriven or Mrs. Joan Dunham

Larry Willson, speaking for the Tofield Gun Club, reported plans for a centennial shooting competition, with $250 in prizes for shot consumed, from all over Alberta and, tentatively, a centennial salute—a hundred - gun sa.ute'

Jack Hardy, local manager for Northwestern Utilities, reported tentative plans to demonstrate the drilling of a gas well

The Tofield Community League will of course, be planning an outstanding celebration on July 1 Arrangements are underway and will be announced on completion

Eddie Williams, speaking for the Tofield Ball Club, mentioned the possibility of a Baseball Tournament in May, as well as the one held traditionally on July 1.

Rev. W. McDonnold, speaking for the Tofield Ministerial Association, announced plans for United Church services preceding July 1, in which all local churches will participate.

Student exchange in honor of centennial year was mentioned by both Mr Eastlick and Mr. Blacklock, president of the Lions' Club.

The highlight of the meeting was the unanimous approval of Dr. Freebury's suggestion that Mrs. Petra Stauffer be Tofield's Centennial Queen. Mrs. Stauffer was born of pioneer parents in the Tofield area and has contributed much to the development of the community . . . no more appropriate person could be chosen to rule over Tofield's Centennial celebrations

A committee to co-ordinate centennial projects was named—Dr Freebury, Gabe Pittet, Marie Worton, Jim Francis, Father Scriven, Larry Willson, Bill Christensen, Rev W Hammett, Mabel Boyles, Petra Stauffer, Grace Phillips, David Halverson and Thomas Jacobs.

It is hoped that any group having a centennial project will report it to the committee so that all may know how Tofield's Centennial program is being enhanced and all may participate.

(Mrs. G. M. Taylor)

HOLDEN — Open House was held Saturday afternoon, Jan. 28, at the home of Mrs. Clint Armstrong, when Mrs. Armstrong, Mrs. Sid Handley and Mrs. Lyle Crossland entertained in honour of their mother, Mrs. Lillie Crossland, who was celebrating her 85th birthday. Her daughter, Mrs. made the birthday cake which centered the table, and the honored guest was presented with a beautiful bouquet of flowers from all, and several gifts from her family. A lovely bouquet of flowers was also received from relatives, the Maxwell family, who were unable to be present.

Mrs. Crossland thanked all very graciously for their good wishes and helping her to celebrate the occasion. A delicious Lunch was served by the hostesses. Mrs. Crossland is one of the old-time pioneers of Holden district, where she and her late husband farmed north of town.

Dr. Ronning honored

Daughter of Chester Ronning, Mrs. Harry Cassady acknowledged the special citation given Dr. Ronning last week at the Camrose Chamber of Commerce meeting. The presentation was made by Lieut. Governor MacEwan, following his personal commendation for the work being done by Dr. Ronning in international affairs. Looking on is committee chairman Joe Barry.

The Queen entertained! Tofield's Centennial Queen, Mrs. Petra Stauffer was hostess to the members of the Centennial committee on Tuesday, Jan. 31. The Mayor, Dr. Freebury conducted the meeting and Miss Chimko of the hospital staff was secretary.

It was reported that architects are being consulted in regard to landscaping Centennial Square in Tofield.

The open-air celebration planned for late spring is under the active direction of Miss Ruth Krause who is contacting local ethnic groups with a view to their participation in this event. The more nationalities represented, the better says Miss Krause.

A long-felt want in Tofield will be fulfilled by Bill Christensen and Thomas Jacobs who are constructing a large — a very large — calendar to be placed between Dr. Freebury's office and the Post Office. On this calendar will be printed the events of Centennial Year. This will serve as our advertising device and also prevent unintentional overlapping of events. If your club has an event coming up notify Bill or Thomas to get it posted on the Centennial calendar.

WINTER CARNIVAL

Tofield's winter carnival, scheduled for March 18 and 19 with the Tofield Curling Club and the Lion's Club in charge, is shaping up into quite an event. In addition to the events usually associated with Tofield's two ice surfaces, the program will include ski-doo races.

Father Scriven, reporting for the Lions Club, announced that a skidoo organization in Edmonton is arranging for 150 entries which will participate both in the races on the Tofield Exhibition Grounds and in the cross-country race. The latter will cover considerable territory, including Beaverhill Lake, and will begin and end at the Exhibition Grounds.

The Farmer's Bonspiel which is sure to be an outstanding Centennial event will be in full swing from Feb. 6 to 11th. The curling rink will take on a new look for this occasion; the Centennial emblem will be painted in the ice and, it is planned, Centennial banners will welcome participants and spectators.

BIRTHDAYS

Several inquiries have been received regarding the sale in Tofield of Centennial souvenirs. This matter was considered by the comittee and an announcement will be forthcoming soon.

Mrs. Boyles modelled her Centennial costume for the other members of the committee. The committee hopes that on every possible occasion Tofield citizens will follow her example

Watch out for that shadow

Today is Candlemas Day, otherwise known as Groundhog Day, when the weather experts are able to predict the length of the winter period ahead.

Traditionally the groundhog is reported to climb out of his hole, after months of hibernation, look around, and see how things look. If he weather is dull and overcast, it foreshadows a short winter, and he stays out. However, if he can see his shadow, the superiors are for six weeks more winter, and back he crawls to sleep some more.

On the other hand, some experts prefer barometers, timbers, leatherns, wind currants and other such unreliable indications.

"Simply an advisor"

OTTAWA —The most powerful of the Quebec Ministers in the Federal Cabinet, Manpower Minister Jean Marchand, acknowledged in January that he had accepted the title of Quebec leader "after some hesitation".

The hesitation was no doubt prompted by several factors, the most important being that both Canada and Quebec have changed radically since the days when the Quebec leadership of the Liberal Party was a mighty post.

For a quarter of a century—since the death of Ernest Lapointe—the position has been declining in importance.

No one since Lapointe — not even Louis St. Laurent as Mackenzie King's right-hand man—has exercised the same power and prestige in Quebec.

Mr St Laurent was certainly a great source of strength to the federal leadership. But he never achieved or aspired to, the close kind of partnership that existed between King and Lapointe.

When Mr St Laurent became leader of the party and Prime Minister there was obviously no need for a Quebec leader. Rather there was a need for a strong man in the English-speaking provinces and that man was supplied in the person of C. D. Howe.

TROUBLE FOR DIEF

As Conservative Prime Minister John Diefenbaker had nothing but trouble in finding and keeping talented and responsible leaders in Quebec.

When Mr Diefenbaker's strength evaporated in the provinces and Lester Pearson became Prime Minister of a Liberal Government in 1963 the position of Quebec leader was filled by Lionel Chevrier.

Mr Chevrier however, who came from Ontario was never able to win full acceptance in the Province. When he resigned from the cabinet to become High Commissioner in London, the ill-starred Guy Favreau was crowned Quebec leader.

Mr Favreau's failure as Minister of Justice, his tragic embroilment in the investigations of scandals within the party, quickly destroyed his usefulness and his health.

Mr Favreau remains in the Cabinet for the time being at least but in a letter to the Prime Minister early in the New Year, he resigned as Quebec leader on the advice of his doctors.

CHANGED TITLE

A week later the Quebec Liberal caucus named Mr Marchand Quebec leader. Mr Pearson the same day issued a statement appointing Mr Marchand leader of the Quebec Liberal caucus.

The distinction between "Quebec leader" and "leader of the Quebec Liberal caucus" may be too subtle for some. But it has meaning.

It seems to define rather more carefully the role Mr Marchand drawing a line between Party and Cabinet. Neither Mr Pearson nor Mr Marchand, it appears, wishes to establish anything resembling an official Quebec leader within the cabinet.

While this kind of relationship may have existed in the past, it no longer applies. Mr Pearson has other strong Quebec Ministers, and he must rely as much on them for policy advice as he does on the Quebec leader.

[illegible]

No man in modern Quebec could presume to speak for the whole awakened province, and no man would want to unless he suffered from delusions. Mr Marchand certainly suffers from no such thing.

The concept of Mr Marchand's [illegible] quite different from the concept of earlier days. The Prime Minister's [illegible] [illegible] conceded the [illegible] [illegible] Quebec.

He says this corresponds to the old colonial concept of "The Negro King" interposed between a people and the real leader, the real authority. The federal leader found it expedient to exercise his authority not directly, but through a native leader who was able to use his own prestige and authority to ensure the carrying out of policies.

CHANGING FACE

Now that Quebec is becoming less and less homogeneous, more and more industrialized and forward looking, this concept loses its political value and its practical value.

After all, there is no Ontario leader, why should there be a Quebec leader?

Apparently, there are still good reasons for retaining a leader in Quebec though his role will not be the same as it has been.

Mr Marchand himself said that Confederation had special problems in Quebec and as long as these problems exist we believe the position of leader is important.

He regards the job as fundamentally a role of co-ordination between the Quebec caucus and the Cabinet.

"I don't believe in a two-headed government" said Mr Marchand. "There is one leader, Mr Pearson. The Quebec leader is simply an advisor."

AUTHORITY FROM STRENGTH

Mr Marchand's views about what his job should be are [illegible] just as important as Pearson's views. The [illegible] Minister has established a position of great authority within Cabinet—not only because he is a strong minister from Quebec but also because he is a strong minister—period.

Unlike some previous Quebec leaders, his view is a broad one. It takes in all of Canada, all of the world in fact. He rarely views a problem simply in a Quebec context unless it is a [illegible].

He [illegible] participating in [illegible] as a realist, a humanist [illegible] a Quebec [illegible] Mr Marchand's talents [illegible] are well [illegible] and his power is [illegible]. He is no Negro King. [illegible] some day be Prime Minister.

A global influence

It has been said of the late Queen Salote of Tonga that there was nothing small about her except her country. Ruling a scant 70,000 people, roughly the people from Tofield to Red Deer and east to the border, from 150 South Pacific islands, the hereditary monarch stood 6'3" and weighed close to 300 pounds. Many people will clearly recall the tremendous impression she made at the coronation ceremonies for Queen Elizabeth when her queenly dignity, and her majestic bearing made her every action a further demonstration that "she was to the manor born". Her influence during the 47 years of her reign was equally large, and at her death in 1965 from diabetes, Queen Salote's domain was predominantly Christian and among the most literate in the whole Pacific area.

Queen Salote was no mere nominal Christian but a dedicated woman with a strong belief in the power of prayer. It is an appropriate circumstance, then, that the committee arranging the World Day of Prayer to be held on February 10th, has chosen to use an order of worship especially prepared by Queen Salote for this day which held such great significance for her.

Traditionally it has been in Tonga each year that the chain of prayer begins to circle the globe. There, at dawn, in Queen Salote's Girls' College with Her Majesty in attendance, the first of the day's prayers was offered. Later in the day it was the Queen's custom to conduct the central area service herself. Women came in pouring rain or blazing heat, some by canoe, others walking great distances often with babies strapped to their hips, to pray with her.

This year as women around the world meet in supplication for peace and the relief of human suffering, the influence of this beloved monarch will be felt far beyond the Tonga Islands. Salote, this Queen of great stature, has been dead for these several months, but the example of her Christian leadership has truly 'cast a giant shadow' and will long be an inspiration to others.

Limelight on Marchand

Eastern reporters say that if anyone can get the message of Confederation across to nationalist Quebec and drive home the meaning of the new Quebec to English Canada, he is Jean Marchand. It is felt that now that Guy Favreau has resigned as federal Liberal leader in Quebec, Marchand is slated for the role. An experienced trade [illegible] he is a good performer in English and a masterly speaker in French, notably in dealing with hecklers or a hostile audience. With Marchand guiding things, an intensified drive to sell the federal case in Quebec may be expected. Already Marchand [illegible] reminds Quebec audiences that had it not been for federal initiative they might never have received [illegible] unemployment insurance, family allowances or the upcoming medicare.

Expo visit shows job on time for opening

Probably the biggest single undertaking to mark Canada's centennial, Expo '67 gives promise already of being an exceptional success and one of the best world fairs ever pulled off. This was the impression gained at every turn by a party of weekly newspapermen who toured the site in Montreal last weekend, and heard a series of briefings on developments.

Chuck MacLean, editor of The Mercury, was one of the party of western editors [redacted] to see and assess w[redacted] is going on.

"The visit was terribly hampered by the avalanche of snow which fell", said Mr. MacLean on his return. "In many areas on the site, snow was literally up to our knees. And the slush on streets defies description. We just don't get that kind of snowfall very often out West."

However, the visit still showed amply that development is right on schedule. There is still a great deal to accomplish, but the program was given an inestimable assist when a new bridge was completed 11 weeks ahead of schedule, making access for suppliers and workers far easier.

Visitors to the fair are expected to derive a great deal more enjoyment because of the attention given to solving problems before they start. Every known fault of earlier fairs has been studied, reported one of the senior officers, [redacted] solutions have been found whenever possible. The most common complaint was over the long distances of walking necessary in the past. This has been solved at Expo through provision of two trains running on mini-rails, which wind in and out among the exhibits. It's necessary only to climb on the trains and ride wherever you want. There is no fare, once inside the gate.

BRING IN TELEVISION

The problem of long queues has been tackled in several ways, the press group was told. Always a nuisance to visitors, queues will be avoided in part by a regular supply of information from walkie-talkies back to headquarters, where estimated waiting times for various exhibits will be transmitted over closed circuit television. Visitors can even arrange "reservations" to get into buildings, in order to schedule their time to best advantage.

And to cover the queues that will build up in any case, there will be flying squads of entertainers, in groups of three, despatched to entertain crowds while they're waiting. Several similarly clever innovations have been added to solve problems found at other fairs.

Expo representatives urged visitors to seek accommodation through Log Expo, unless they had personal connections. An official Expo bureau, this can provide overnight accommodation at any price from $1.50 up, it was stated. A barrackroom type of accommodation, in public blocks of 120, is available at this price. Every effort is being made to provide clean, acceptable accommodation, as reasonably as possible. Thousands of visitors will be put up in private homes, an undertaking which many hope will bring new friends and a new understanding to both East and West.

The whole philosophy of those behind the giant undertaking seems to be "We have to do better". Even though there is still a huge construction task facing the crews, the thoroughness of the planning and the eagerness of the staff shows through in the amazing accomplishments so far.

Her influence during the 47 years of her reign was equally large, and at her death in 1965 from diabetes, Queen Salote's domain was predominantly Christian and among the most literate in the whole Pacific area.

Queen Salote was no mere nominal Christian but a dedicated woman with a strong belief in the power of prayer. It is an appropriate circumstance, then, that the committee arranging the World Day of Prayer to be held on February 10th, has chosen to use an order of worship especially prepared by Queen Salote for this day which held such great significance for her.

Traditionally it has been in Tonga each year that the chain of prayer begins to circle the globe. There, at dawn, in Queen Salote's Girls' College with Her Majesty in attendance, the first of the day's prayers was offered. Later in the day it was the Queen's custom to conduct the central area service herself. Women came in pouring rain or blazing heat, some by canoe, others walking great distances often with babies strapped to their hips, to pray with her.

This year as women around the world meet in supplication for peace and the relief of human suffering, the influence of this beloved monarch will be felt far beyond the Tonga Islands. Salote, this Queen of great stature, has been dead for these several months, but the example of her Christian leadership has truly 'cast a giant shadow' and will long be an inspiration to others.

Limelight on Marchand

Eastern reporters say that if anyone can get the message of Confederation across to nationalist Quebec and drive home the meaning of the new Quebec to English Canada he is Jean Marchand. It is felt that now that Guy Favreau has retired as federal Liberal leader in Quebec, Marchand is slated for the role. An experienced trade union organizer he is a good performer in English and a masterly speaker in French, notably in dealing with hecklers or a hostile audience. With Marchand guiding things, an intensified drive to sell the federal case in Quebec may be expected. Already Marchand toughly reminds Quebec audiences that had it not been for federal initiative they might never have received old-age pensions, unemployment insurance, family allowances or the upcoming medicare.

Views of our own

Go into the church, young man, you're a Canadian. Or failing a vocation, try business, perhaps even politics. But steer clear of all that fancy schooling and book learning now available in case you end up a professor.

Do these comments seem startling? Well, according to a recent Gallup poll, that is what Canadians seem to advise their young. The survey [illegible] which vocations are most revered in [illegible] different countries.

[illegible] rated top in Canada with 28 [illegible] preference, which [illegible] surprising [illegible] of the shortages faced by all churches, they didn't achieve the 43 [illegible] acclaim given them in the [illegible] at least United States and Greece. Second choice of Canadians, with 19 [illegible], went to presidents of large businesses and this was higher than in other countries. In both the U.S. and Britain business scored 16 [illegible], but fell to 6% in Germany and only 2 [illegible] in Greece.

Again, Canadians have more esteem for cabinet ministers which rated [illegible] than the other nations polled. But when it comes to professors, only 12 [illegible] rated them at the head of the list of vocations, as against 25 [illegible] of the Britons and a whacking 41% of Germans. So we still have the well known aversion to eggheads.

Expo visit shows job on time for opening

Probably the biggest single undertaking to mark Canada's centennial, Expo '67 gives promise already of being an exceptional success and one of the best world fairs ever pulled off. This was the impression gained at every turn by a party of weekly newspapermen who toured the site in Montreal last weekend, and heard a series of briefings on developments.

Chuck MacLean, editor of The Mercury, was one of the party of western editors selected to see and assess what is going on.

"The visit was terribly hampered by the avalanche of snow which fell", said Mr. MacLean on his return. "In many areas on the site, snow was literally up to our knees. And the slush on streets defies description. We just don't get that kind of snowfall very often out West".

However, the visit still showed amply that development is right on schedule. There is still a great deal to accomplish, but the program was given an inestimable assist when a new bridge was completed 11 weeks ahead of schedule, making [illegible] for suppliers and workers far easier.

Visitors to the fair are expected to derive a great deal more enjoyment because of the attention given to solving problems before they start. Every known fault of earlier fairs has been studied, reported one of the senior officers, and solutions have been found whenever possible. The most common complaint was over the long distances of walking necessary in the past. This has been solved at Expo through provision of two trains running on mini-rails, which wind in and out among the exhibits. It's necessary only to climb on the trains and ride wherever you want. There is no fare, once inside the gate.

BRING IN TELEVISION

The problem of long queues has been tackled in several ways, the press group was told. Always a nuisance to visitors, queues will be avoided in part by a regular supply of information from walkie-talkies back to headquarters, where estimated waiting times for various exhibits will be transmitted over closed circuit television. Visitors can even arrange "reservations" to get into buildings, in order to schedule their time to best advantage.

And to cover the queues that will build up in any case, there will be flying squads of entertainers, in groups of three, despatched to entertain crowds while they're waiting. Several similarly clever innovations have been added to solve problems found at other fairs.

Expo representatives urged visitors to seek accommodation through Log Expo, unless they had personal connections. An official Expo bureau, this can provide overnight accommodation at any price from $1.50 up, it was stated. A barrackroom type of accommodation, in public blocks of 120, is available at this price. Every effort is being made to provide clean, acceptable accommodation, as reasonably as possible. Thousands of visitors will be put up in private homes, an undertaking which many hope will bring new friends and a new understanding to both East and West.

The whole philosophy of those behind the giant undertaking seems to be "We have to do better". Even though there is still a huge construction task facing the crews, the thoroughness of the planning and the eagerness of the staff shows through in the amazing accomplishments so far.

Tofield farmers 'spiel runs Monday to Friday

Arrangements have been completed for the Tofield Farmers Centennial Bonspiel, to be held February 6's to 10th. 22 rinks have filed entries and an additional 10 rinks are anticipated by Saturday's deadline for entries, thus making a perfect draw Earl Rose and Andy Hesberg are taking the entries; the fees are set at $36 00 per rink. As in previous years, there will be four draws, getting underway at 9:00 a.m.

A good array of prizes have been arranged, as the merchants of Tofield have extended their whole-hearted support to the Farmers Club. The Bank of Montreal will again award the Grand Challenge winners with trophies to commemorate their prowess in the 'roaring' game. Trophies will also be presented to the winners in each of the other events, in addition to the prizes

LUNCH, TOO!

The Tofield Women's Curling Club have graciously consented to look after the lunch counter, so everyone will be able to enjoy a snack between games, or while watching as participating armchair skips.

Earl Rose and Bob Wyllie will be circulating during the week selling tickets on a curling sweater, the draw to take place Friday afternoon

In honor of Canada's Centennial Year, it is hoped the curling rink will be appropriately decorated to commemorate the occasion. All farmer curlers are urged to take part in this spiel, as they will be able to reminisce fifty years hence, and be able to say "I curled in that great Tofield Farmers Centennial 'Spiel' in '67"!

Beaver, Camrose counties also in insurance plan

The Counties of Beaver, No. 9, and Camrose, No. 22, were not included in an advertisement forwarded to The Canadian last week, announcing the extension of the All-Risk Crop Insurance Plan, although boundaries of these areas were included in the descriptions.

Some weeks ago our news columns carried the story correctly, so that most readers were correctly informed prior to this time. Agents for these districts will be appointed shortly. The Canadian is informed, and announcement of these appointments will be carried at that time.

CHIMNEY FIRE

There was a bit of local excitement for a short time on Sunday afternoon when, during the absence of any adults a chimney fire started at the Emil Tiedemann home. Near neighbors quickly answered the call, and arrived to give any needed help. Fortunately the fire burned out with no damage resulting, but memories of what happened some 20 or more years ago to Emil and Martha's home in a fire caused some terrifying moments for the girls on Sunday.

Robert Goulsault was in Tofield on Monday to attend the funeral of Dick Matlow, and called in briefly to visit with relatives.

Annual meeting reflects steady growth in church

(Intended for last week)

Tofield United church congregation met on January 18th for a pot-luck meal which was followed by the annual meeting. All accounts have been paid and small balances are in hand. The Stewards received solid support from regular envelope subscribers, from special gifts and from the UCW. A legacy from the estate of the late Mrs. C. Whillans went as per instruction into the legacy account and into Capital Missionary account of the whole church. Missionary givings showed a substantial increase. Contributions from the Sunday school Explorers and teen church were noted with appreciation as entering into the totals.

Votes of appreciation were voiced to the UCW, to the faithful Sunday school staff and group leaders of mid-week youth programs. Also to the choir and to Mrs. Stinson and to Mrs. McFadzean who has helped when called upon. The minister and his wife are invited to continue to another year. Mr. McDannold will retire June 30th, 1968. Thanks also go out to the Teen church car drivers who make this program possible each Sunday for 40 mornings a year.

A joint committee of UCW and Stewards was set up and asked to investigate possibility of suitable carpeting within the sanctuary. The Board of Stewards will look into feasability of tape recorder system suitable to send out sacred music from the church tower. Both committees are to report back to the congregation when decisions will be made. A new arrangement for collection of memorial gifts has been set up effective immediately.

Messers Nolan, Christenson, Swift and Frances were re-elected to the Stewards board. Vernon Walker was the new member elected. Conrad Paterson will be Presbytery and Conference representative or delegate. Thomas Jacobs and Mrs. Dorothy Clark (both are much appreciated) will continue as Sunday School superintendents.

Canadian radio hams are helping to boost Expo 67 by acknowledging their conversations with specially printed postcards bearing the message "QST from Montreal, the site of the 1967 World Exhibition". QST is the official "calling you" code.

MACARONI DINNER INCLUDES MEAT AND MUSHROOMS

Macaroni comes in so many shapes and sizes that a smart homemaker can use it to great advantage. It's easy on the budget, which is important at this time of year, and because of the various shapes it does not become monotonous.

The best idea, perhaps, is to use certain shapes of macaroni for certain dishes. For example, you might use elbows for baked macaroni and cheese, straight pieces for macaroni and tomatoes, alphabets or rings in a sturdy vegetable soup, noodles to make a ring mold for creamed ham, and bows or shells in fish and meat casseroles.

Shells are called for in our recipe but you may substitute some other kind of macaroni if you wish.

- 1 pound minced beef
- ⅛ tsp. garlic powder
- ½ tsp. salt
- ⅛ tsp. pepper
- ½ pound (1 pint) mushrooms
- 1 20-ounce can tomatoes
- 3 cups macaroni shells (8 ozs.)
- ½ cup grated cheese (cheddar or Parmesan)
- 1 tsp. paprika, ⅓ cup fine crumbs, 2 tbs. butter melted

Saute meat with seasonings until light brown, stirring often. Add mushrooms, whole or cut in pieces, and tomatoes. Cover and simmer 20 to 30 minutes over low heat.

Cook macaroni in salted water, drain and serve with the meat and mushroom sauce and grated cheese on top. Or if preferred, mix cooked macaroni and sauce in a casserole, sprinkle with cheese, then paprika, crumbs and melted butter mixed together. Brown under broiler or in 350 oven. Makes 6 servings.

CARDS OF THANKS

I wish to express a sincere thanks to all those who helped to make my 85th birthday such a happy occasion. Also, thanks to all for the beautiful flowers and other gifts. Thank you all again.
—Mrs. Lillie Grosland 22p-2870

We wish to take this opportunity to express our heartfelt appreciation to all the citizens of Tofield and district and especially to Dr. W. H. Freebury and the hospital staff for the extreme kindness during the illness and passing of our father, Richard (Dick) Mutlow. Especially we would further like to thank the pallbearers, Rev. W. H. McDannold and Rev. Canon E. N. P. Orme for the beautiful funeral service conducted from the Tofield Community Centre on Monday, Jan. 30.
—J. Samuel Mutlow and all other members of the family. 22c-3494

I am grateful for this opportunity to extend my most cordial thanks to one and all, who took time to send cards, letters and lovely flowers to me while I was a patient in the University Hospital. Words cannot express how these thoughts and personal visits give added incentive for a speedy recovery.
—Sincerely, Mrs. Joseph Lysio. 22p-3488

Mr. Richard Mutlow asked that this note of appreciation be printed in the local press. He very much wanted his Doctor, the nurses and the nurses aides in the hospital, his friends who were concerned during his illness to know how much he appreciated their unfailing thoughtfulness and kindness. And so as his friends we say "Thank you so very much" in his name and on his behalf.
—W. H. McDannold, Ed Watson

Active season ahead for community league

(By Grace Phillips)

President Lionel Borton presided at the regular monthly meeting of the Tofield Community League on Tuesday, Feb. 6, in the Community Centre. For the theatre committee, J. A. Whyte reported recent shows had averaged $85, and that "Mary Poppins" had netted the League $199.95.

It was reported the Community Centre roof needed extensive and expensive repairs which must be done soon.

Committees for the year were set up. J.A. Whyte will convene the theatre committee; J. C. Lampett, the dance committee, W. A. Swift, the building committee; N. E. Glover, the 100-Club committee, and J. E. Stinson, the membership committee.

Centennial projects were discussed. As in previous years, the League will be in charge of the Dominion Day celebration. It was decided to buy bleachers, if possible, for the Exhibition grounds. As a further contribution to Centennial year, the League will sponsor the play to be directed by Father Scriven and presented by the Tofield Drama Club later in the year.

When the exhibition of ethnic dancing is held in the Bank of Montreal parking lot, the League will complete the evening's entertainment with a dance in the Community Centre. It is expected this event will occur in May

The League also decided to donate four theatre tickets as prizes for the Badminton Tournament being held at the Tofield School under the direction of Leo Rurka.

The draw for the monthly winner of the 100-Club will be held in future on the first Saturday of each month

Plans are already under way for the Centennial Dominion Day celebration, and will be finalized within the next few months. It was announced, however, that the jumping and cutting horses would again be a feature attraction.

Library operates at a loss

The Tofield Municipal Library Board meeting was held January 17, with E. Watson, Joan Dunham, Rita Halverson, B. A. Everitt, Dr. W. H. Freebury and Mrs. Dorothea Freebury present.

The treasurer's report from June 1 to December 31, 1966, was read by Joan Dunham, showing total receipts at $363.41 and total disbursements $412.22.

Book fines were discussed, and it was moved and carried that books be rented for two weeks. The fine for late return (after two weeks) to be 5c per book per week or any part thereof.

Information was brought forward that the School had requested photos of the Library staff for use in the Centennial School Book. It was agreed that if no cost was involved, the Board would go along with the idea

Regarding the Librarians' Correspondence Course, the Board voted unanimously in favor of anyone wishing to take the course, do so, with the Board paying the necessary fee of $30. New Friends of the Library are Mrs Lou Eastlick and Mrs. Edith Regehr

Permission was granted the Librarian to sell books that were no longer moving.

Explorers plan Centennial tea

(Gladys Phillips)

Tofield's first Centennial tea will be held from 3-5 p.m. on Saturday, Feb. 11 in the social rooms of the United Church, under the direction of Mrs. Beryl Lampitt, leader of the Explorer group and Linda McLeod, Chief Explorer.

The girls and Mrs. Lampitt intend to make this a real occasion. Decorations using Canadian and Centennial flags will emphasize the occasion. A large birthday cake, for Canada's 100th birthday will be cut and served to the guests. Most important to the girls, who are 9-12 years of age will be the costumes they will be wearing. They are thrilled to be wearing the costumes of great-great grandmother's time.

Night of farce planned by school drama club

Mr. J. A. Norton, director of the Tofield School Drama Club reports the Tofield School Drama Club will present a full evening of hilarious, yet subtle comedy for your enjoyment. The program consisting of an introduction, three one-act plays, a skit and a finale will be presented Thursday Feb. 1st at 8:00 p.m. sharp in the Tofield Community Centre.

One of the plays "Our Dream House" presented by the 9B class reveals what goes on behind the scenes when a young girl finds she has a lover whom she doesn't want to marry. The whole family becomes involved and chaos results. Of course problems are resolved in a happy ending.

"Genius Jr.", the presentation of the 9A drama class tells the story of young people who have their own ideas about the proper use of the school gymnasium on a particular Saturday night. The fun begins when complications set in. Problems arise which require many attempts at solving them. The efforts towards solution of the problems merely aggravate them.

"Bachelor of the Year", presented by the High School drama class entertains the audience with the tale of a young, handsome high school principal who is elected "most eligible bachelor of the year." One characteristic line of the play reads, "Obviously overcome by the sight of so much beauty in one crowded room, our hero answered "Yes." As result of his acquiesence we find our hero, getting into quite a he has a clever young secretary. ticklish situation: luckily for him

The introductions and finale of the program will be presented by Donna Jacobsen, Frances Schultz and Loretta Dueck.

All school activities are worthy of public support; for drama, this is particularly necessary as the presence of an audience is the reason for the actors efforts. To be of value to the students, to make the eight week's preparation worthwhile, to give the actors a lasting memory, an appreciative involved audience is essential. It is the sincere hope of those involved in the Drama Club's presentation, that such an audience will be forthcoming on the evening of Feb. 16.

Pioneer missionary visited Beaverhill

(By Grace Phillips)

J. R. Francis, secretary of the Tofield Historical Society, has discovered in an extract from the Journal of the Rev Robert Rundle, quoted in "Messenger of the Great Spirit" (by Muriel Beaton Patterson), that this famous missionary visited the Beaverhill Lake area (now the Tofield area) in 1840.

On Oct. 18, 1840, according to this record, Rev. Robert Rundle from England, via Norway House and the Saskatchewan River, arrived in Fort Edmonton where the Hudson's Bay factor, John Rowand, made him welcome. Immediately upon his arrival, Rundle held a church service, the first Protestant service ever held west of Fort Garry (Winnipeg).

"Soon after Rundle's arrival", Miss Patterson states, "John Rowand was going to visit the hunters' camp at Beaver Lake and suggested that Rundle accompany him. It was January, and cold, as western winters can be. On his return, Rundle recorded the journey as follows:

"We were drawn by four dogs driven by a half-breed. Weather was very severe and I was warmly clad, sealskin cap tied under chin, moccasins, pair of lamb's wool stockings, flannel shirt, woollen drawers to foot, thick trousers, leggings and black silk gaiters, waistcoat, pilot coat and shawl tied around the neck; and in the carriole, buffalo robe and blankets. It was a beautiful starlit night with faint glitterings of the aurora.

"The cold was intense and we stopped about 10 o'clock and lighted a fire. about 1 00 a.m. we came upon an encampment of two men belonging to the fort. Afterwards we proceeded until sunrise when we again halted on the Beaver Hills. The cold at this time was more severe than ever: a convincing proof of its intensity was afforded us by the very sluggish ascent of the smoke into the atmosphere. Indeed it might be said to scarcely ascend at all."

It is noted that Rowand and Rundle travelled at night to avoid snow-blindness.

Apparently the rigors of his trip to Beaver Hills did not deter Rundle, for next February (1841) he was off to Rocky Mountain House by carriole.

DDD clinic is held at Ryley

(Mrs. R. Minore)

The Direct Distance Dialling telephone conversion clinic was held in the Ryley Community Hall on Thursday evening, Feb. 2, at 7:30.

The program was opened with Mayor Robert Cross giving a history of Alberta Government Telephones in Ryley, from a simple beginning of a half dozen telephones to the present building and equipment of today, which has an estimated value of $57,000.

Colored movies were shown, giving information connected with the proper use of the telephone.

Following this, four lucky persons were awarded long distance calls. They were Lorne Gulmundson, who called his sister in British Columbia; Mrs. Ed Lyons, who called Mr. and Mrs. L Williams in Nanaimo, B C.; Mrs. Mauren called Mrs. John Medchill in Van Nuys, California, and Mrs. Sanderson called Hamilton, Ontario. Miss Helma Hjelter did not place a call.

Recognition was paid to all the Ryley telephone operators, with a sincere "thank you" extended them. Lunch was served by the Ryley Curling Club.

Friendship Group plans Prayer Day

Speakers at UGG meeting clarify Canada Pensions

(Mrs. G. H. Taylor)

HOLDEN, Feb. 4.—The Holden and Viking Locals of the United Grain Growers held a supper meeting on January 30th in the Holden Community Hall, with a very good turn-out of members from both locals and guests. Lyle Grosland, president of the Holden Board, was chairman for the evening, introducing special guests and dignitaries at the head table.

Chairman Grosland offered a hearty vote of thanks to the ladies of the O.O.R.P. Lodge, who catered to the supper, and the two young sons of Mr. and Mrs. Bateman who entertained the guests with two musical numbers.

The supper was followed by the business meeting, when Sam Klein, president of the Viking local UGG, introduced members of the Viking local, and Mr. Grosland the Holden members. Mayor Olson of Holden extended a hearty welcome to those attending and [illegible] the local agent, Don Coutu, on the excellent organization of the meeting.

CONVENTION REPORTS

Reports of the Annual Convention held in Winnipeg, November 2 and 3, were given by delegates Don Hultholm of Holden and Helmer Hansen of Viking, who attended the convention. Mr. Hultholm gave a detailed resume of the business brought up at the convention, noting that there are 766 UGG elevators in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia, with the largest number, 345, in Alberta, and only eight in B.C.

Helmer Hansen gave a report of the resolutions brought to the convention, and reasons for some [illegible] tabled or rejected.

THE PENSION PLAN

Guest speaker Roy Gowing from the National Health and Welfare Department of the Canada Pension Plan was introduced, giving reasons for having a Social Security number and the benefits of the plan, these being based on personal contributions. The Retirement Plan was discussed—an outline was given of the survivors' benefits and the disability pension receivable under the plan. Within the next 10 years the plan will be up-dated to the cost of living and later compiled to the current value of earnings, Mr. Gowing said. A question period was held in which he answered specified instances regarding [illegible] benefits, clarifying several points.

Stan Rampling of the Taxation Department discussed the cost of the plan, stressing that it was necessary to obtain a Social Security No. to facilitate obtaining pension benefits when due. He also discussed contributions to be made, when self-employed and otherwise; when payments should be made, and advising they can be on an installment plan. If self-employed, the contribution is 3.6% of total income less exemption of $600. For those otherwise employed, 1.8% is paid by the employer and the same amount by the employee. During the discussion period, several questions were asked and various points clarified. Mr. Rampling also [illegible] that casual labour had to work 25 days or more and earn $225 before deductions were made.

Bill Earl, UGG Supervisor, thanked the two delegates for their informative reports, and brought greetings from the head office.

Harry Dupasl, UGG Supplies & Feed Dept., advised that dividends were to be paid on fertilizer purchased from the company during the year 1965-66.

The local agent, Don Coutu, gave a resume of why the supper meeting was held, thanking the local board for its willing assistance in the organization, to the local president, Mr. Grosland, to special guests present, and to the members from Viking for attending. He extended special thanks to Mr. Humeniuk, field service manager, for his valuable help.

Mr. Humeniuk, in turn, congratulated Don on the pleasant and informative meeting, emphasizing that it had taken a great deal of time and forethought to make it the success it was. He also thanked the chairman, Lyle Grosland, and local board members for their attendance.

Members were advised that the annual meeting would be held in Viking next year.

Clothing Club has February meeting

(Mrs. R. Mizera)

The Ryley Clothing Club held their regular meeting on February 7, at 7:30 p.m., in the Home Economics Room of the Ryley School. It was decided the members would attend the Rally in Viking on February 11, and March 3 was the date set for the public speaking contest, to be held in the home economics room at 7:30 p.m.

Each club member will receive a Mountain Ash tree in time for spring planting. Vogue sewing books were given to each member, and pins, crests and rings were awarded.

The members will sponsor a crippled child for two days at a summer camp under the auspices of the Alberta Crippled Children's Association. Members are planning to attend a Centennial Jamboree to be held in the Edmonton Gardens on April 22nd.

A demonstration entitled "Do's and Don'ts of Public Etiquette" was given by Linda Olsen, Debbie Furyns and Miss Evelyn Kozak gave a talk on Project Books to first year members, and Mrs. R. Mizera gave points on sewing an apron.

No seed catalogue pipedreams

The massive gourds above aren't the kind that seed catalogues tease gardeners with, although most gardeners would thrill to produce them. They're last season's produce from the garden of Mrs. Clara Bednar of Shonts, and we thought today was a lovely day to recall them. The cucumbers (China Longs) are 22 inches in length, while the king-size pumpkin tipped the beam at 46 pounds. Mrs. Bednar thinks it was a "field" variety. An avid gardener, Mrs. Bednar makes a hobby of growing different and unusual varieties of vegetables, then cross-breeding them. Living in one of the small cottages just east of Shonts, Mrs. Bednar's garden gets no benefit of extra watering . . . "If the good Lord didn't see fit to water them, I'm not going to" she laughed.

Centennial planners busy in many fields

(By Grace Phillips)

Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Freebury entertained members of the Tofield Centennial Committee on February 13, when those present were: Dr. Freebury, chairman; Miss Chamko, secretary; Mrs. Petra Stauffer, Tofield's Centennial Queen; Gabe Pittet, representing the town council, Bill Christensen from the Community League, Father Scriven from the Lion Club; Andy Heiberg; Jim Francis from the Tofield Historical Society, Marie Worton; Mabel Boyles; Larry Willson from the Gun Club; Grace Phillips, and Mr. Abel from the Alberta Centennial Committee.

The Tofield Winter Carnival, March 18 and 19, came under discussion. Fifty ski-doos will participate March 19 in races and a cross-country run. It is anticipated that while the latter is in process, a Mite hockey game and/or a broomball game will be featured. Before the start of the race and during the morning a pancake breakfast will be served at the Curling Rink, where the Open Mixed 'Spiel will be in full swing.

CENTENNIAL CALENDAR
Bill Christensen was commended for the splendid Centennial Calendar that now stands by the Bank of Montreal and on which significant dates in the centennial year will be placed. If any group has an event coming up, Bill will be glad to record it on the centennial calendar.

The centennial banners, the work of Mr. and Mrs. Boyles and Father Scriven, are ready to be put up in the Rink.

It was suggested that business firms be contacted to see if centennial banners could be purchased to decorate Main Street.

Mr. Francis reported that the Historical Society's "History of Tofield" was well underway.

Mrs. Boyles was commended for dressing the doll donated by Robinson's and displayed in their window. At some later date, this lovely doll with all her centennial outfits of clothes may be raffled and the proceeds used to help defray expenses of the Tofield Centennial celebrations.

Dr. Freebury reported that Centennial Square is to be bordered by trees already ordered.

Mr. Heiberg stated that the 4-H club is getting mountain ash trees from the government and will donate a large number of them to the proposed park for the north-east section of town. The 4-H club, said Mr. Heibreg, will also provide benches where people may rest in the shade. Mr. Heiberg also brought news from the Farmers' Union that they would sponsor a farm paint-up project and would offer a prize for the same.

Dr. Freebury reported that permission had been given the Tofield Gun Club to fire a 100-gun salute on June 30 to usher in the Centennial Dominion Day

It was noted with approval that centennial costumes are being worn to social events in Tofield . . . the committee applauded this trend

Mr. Abel, of the Alberta Centennial Committee, brought greetings from the Provincial Government, and spoke briefly on some of the facets of centennial celebration. He had samples of various centennial novelties, some of which were given to the committee members.

Education Week March 6-11th

(By Grace Phillips)

Plans are being finalized by the Tofield sub-local of the A.T.A. for the observance of Education Week, which occurs this year March 6-11. In Tofield, Thursday, March 9, has been chosen as the evening to observe and discuss the progress of education.

The plans for March 9 are under the direction of Mrs. Carol Rurka, chairman of the program committee. Mr. Dick Thiessen, president of the Tofield sub-local, will be chairman for the evening.

The first part of the evening's entertainment, beginning at 7:30, will consist of displays of work done in the Tofield School. There will be a display of science experiments and mathematics problems, from the Junior High School. This will be in the Biology lab. The teachers concerned will be Mr Koziol, Mr. Ronaghan, Mr. Mager and Mr. Lampitt.

At the same time in the Audio Visual room will be seen a display from the commercial department under the direction of Mr. Irwin. Displays from the elementary rooms will be highlighted on the bulletin boards and on tables.

At 8:15, the program, under the chairmanship of Mr. Thiessen, will commence. Here, the entertainment will consist of a panel discussion, speakers from among the high school students, selections by the high school chorus and by the school band under the direction of Staff/Sgt. Coates. A play will be directed by Mr. J. A. Norton, and will feature students from several grades.

From 9:15 to 10.30 the displays may again be visited, before or after coffee is served in the gym.

(Mrs. R. Misera)

RYLEY.—The Ryley 4-H Girls' Food Club held a meeting February 13 in the Home Economics Room.

It was decided to hold a meeting on Feb. 23 to discuss the Rally. The Clothing Club and Boys' Food Club would be asked to attend.

Judy Burnstad gave a demonstration entitled "Buffets". All members were given quiz questions regarding the preparation of food. The public speaking contest was slated for March 6. Patty Woods was elected treasurer of the club. It was decided not to proceed with the cook book project, as there is not enough time to finish the project in the 4-H year.

First year members made omelettes and Swedish tea rings; second year members made tossed salads, and third year members decorated fancy cookies. The members enjoyed the food they prepared.

The Ted Strilchuk rink of Ryley repeated what they did two years ago by capturing the Grand Challenge and Bank of Montreal trophy in the Farmer's Bonspiel which concluded on Friday with 22 rinks entered.

The Strilchuk rink had to "come from behind" for their victory over the Joe Hayduk rink of Round Hill, trailing 6-3 after 7-ends, the Strilchuk foursome took complete command of the last three ends to eke out a 7-6 win. Supporting Ted were Bill Holowatiuk, 3rd, Joe Strilchuk, 2nd and Nick Kushnerick, lead. Finishing third and fourth in the 'spiel were Art Francis and Lawrence Rude, both from Tofield.

In the second event, the L. Staufler rink from Tofield captured the Dr. Freebury Trophies, by defeating the Al Warner rink also of Tofield. Finishing third and fourth were the R. Rudacki and C. Sears rinks, both of Tofield.

Dave Heidebrecht who went into semi-retirement this year from curling will be forced to join the active list next year, as he won the curling sweater which was raffled.

The next big event at the curling rink will be the men's open, which will run from March 1-4. Then on March 18 and 19 there will be an open mixed 'spiel.

Snortheim - Davick vows pledged on February 4

(Mrs. R. Mixera)

Calvin United Church in Ryley was the setting of a double-ring wedding on February 4, when Betty Elizabeth Joan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Davick, became the bride of James Snortheim, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ole Snortheim, all of Ryley. The ceremony was performed by Rev. McDannold of Tofield.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a floor-length gown of white brocaded satin, styled with hooped skirt and lily-point sleeves. Her chapel veil was held in place by a crown comb, and she carried a bouquet of red roses.

Margaret Caney, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Janet Clark and Kay Fisk were bridesmaids. They wore floor-length sheath gowns of peacock blue, and carried bouquets of pink and white roses. The flower girl, Wanda Caney, wore a dress matching those of the bridesmaids, and carried a basket of pink and white roses.

The groom was attended by his cousins, Ivan Sorenson and Tom Annebo, and his brother, Ian Snortheim.

During the signing of the register, Mrs. Robert Cross played "O Promise Me".

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Ryley Community Centre. Rev. McDannold gave the blessing, and George Knudslien, master of ceremonies, proposed a toast to the bride, to which the groom ably responded. Harold Parsons extended congratulations to the bride and groom on behalf of the guests. Miss Barbara Lamont was in charge of the guest book.

A dance concluded the evening, with music supplied by the "Travellers".

Out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Joe Thygeson and family and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Teare, of Calgary; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Anderson, of Fort Saskatchewan; Mr. and Mrs Palmer Snortheim and Mrs. Martha Lilio, all of Edmonton, and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Knudslien, of Viking.

TEEN CLUB DANCE

The "Teen Club" of Holden held a well attended dance Saturday night in the Holden Community Hall with a dance band from Edmonton supplying the music. The club is sponsored by the BPOE who also have members acting as chaperones. This is something the young group around Holden need as there is little for them to take part in and it is hoped that more of these dances will be held. The club also made a very nice profit on the dance.

The guest speaker at the convention was Neil Reimer, provincial leader of the New Democratic party. After closing of the business meeting a social was held, consisting of a dance and buffet supper.

IN MEMORIAM

WESLAKE —In loving memory of my dear husband and our dear dad, George Weslake, who passed away February 20, 1961

Tonight the stars are shining on a silent lonely grave.
Where sleeps our dearest Dad,
Whom we loved, but could not save.
Just when his hopes seemed [illegible]
God called him from among us,
To his eternal rest.
When family ties are broken, and a loved one has to part,
Death leaves a wound that never heals our ever-aching hearts.
Death often comes to make us know
We love more deeply than we show,
But love in death should make us see
What love in life should always be;
So, please God, take a message
To our dear Dad up above,
Tell him how much we miss him
And give him all our love;
Tell him we won't forget him,
In our hearts we'll be ever true—
There is not a day, dear Dad,
That we do not think of you.

—Ever remembered and sadly missed by his loving wife Elsie, and Family and Grandchildren.

Amateur Night to be March 17

Friday evening, March 17, has been set for an Amateur night in Tofield. This will follow much the same pattern as last year's program, which played to a full house at the Community Hall.

This year there will be three different competitions, thus giving the younger set a better chance to compete.

Contestants are urged to get their entries in early, because if too many entries are received a cut-off will have to be made. Colleen Wyllie and Lyle Heiberg are taking entries. so anyone interested in performing is asked to phone either 662-3766 or 662-2221

The Alberta Wheat Pool is helping to sponsor the Amateur Night and are purchasing all the prizes. The Tofield 4-H Beef Club is very grateful for this kind gesture by the Alberta Wheat Pool.

Local clubs 'get with' centennial idea

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Gallinger were caught "dressed in their centennial finest" by the photographer as they entered the door at last Saturday night's Lion's Charter Night celebrations in Tofield. Nine surrounding Lions clubs were represented at the specially arranged centennial event. Mel Parsons of Innisfail and Mrs. Gallinger were awarded prizes for best costumes. The Tofield Lions eleventh annual charter night was particularly well attended by Tofield residents and thoroughly enjoyed by all. — Mercury Newsphoto.

(Grace Phillips)

Tofield will soon be gay with Centennial flags fluttering in the spring breezes. This past week, Mrs. Marie Worton, on behalf of the Centennial Committee, has canvassed the business establishments of Tofield, taking orders for the Centennial flags. The merchants have responded generously and soon the 36" x 54" flags will be flying above the business section of the town.

In case Mrs. Worton was unable to contact any group or firm who would like to purchase one of these flags for $3.00, such person are asked to phone Mrs Worton or Bill Christenson by February 28 so that any extra flags may be included in the order.

CENTENNIAL QUEEN

The Centennial Committee is meeting early next week to finalize plans for the crowning of Queen Petra, Tofield's popular Centennial Queen. This event will likely occur some time in April at a proposed Family Night. This evening will feature entertainment for whole families who, it is hoped, will come in Centennial costume.

Further details will be released later, but one thing is sure— you'll need your Centennial costume in April!

4-H SPEECH CONTEST

Andy Heiberg announces that another event in Tofield's Centennial year will occur April 7, when the Tofield 4-H Club will hold the County of Beaver elimination public speaking contest.

Colleen Wyllie will represent the Tofield 4-H Club, and representatives from 4-H Clubs in Ryley, Holden, Beaver and Viking will also participate.

The winner of this contest will represent the County of Beaver in the regional final to be held in Viking late in April. The winner of the regional final will advance to Edmonton for the provincial finals during Klondike Days.

The Tofield 4-H Club is working on the production of a history of the various 4-H Clubs which have been active in the Tofield area. It is hoped to have the publication of the book occur in the fall of 1967, thus making it a Centennial project.

JUNIOR HIGH TEA

(Ruth Dickson, Grade VIIIB)

Could you find a charming 15-year-old Valentine queen, old-fashioned costumes and unique Valentine-Centennial decorations any place but at the Junior High's Centennial Valentine Tea?

Held on February 14, from 2:00 to 3:00 in the Tofield School Gymnasium, the tea was a great success in every way. The Centennial Valentine theme was carried out in everything from large Centennial valentines to small candy hearts, from valentine red lights to a Centennial birthday cake

At 3:00 o'clock, six excited princesses entered the gymnasium for the crowning of a Valentine Queen for 1967. After Harvey LaHogue, Junior High Big Three president, had introduced the princesses, Linda Neufeld (7-B), Sandra Anderson (7-A), Audrey Lampitt (8-B), Faye Anderson (8-A), Dorothy Baerg (9-A) and Marion Hostetler (9-B), he announced Faye Anderson the winner.

After being crowned by last year's queen, Linda Onisko, Faye welcomed one and all to the tea. Guest of honor, Mrs. Petra Stauffer, Tofield's Centennial Queen, was brought forward on the arm of vice-president Colin Bowick. Mrs. Stauffer, in Centennial garb, congratulated Faye on being crowned "Queen of Hearts." For her first duty, Queen Faye drew a ticket for the door prize, the winner being Mrs. Gould of Lindbrook.

The Junior High would like to sincerely thank all who supported the Valentine Tea

Library report carried only half the story

While the Tofield Public Library operated at a loss for a short period last fall, as reported in the December issue of this mercury, the report did not portray the picture accurately as it applied to the year's situation

The Mercury is sorry that the inadvertent heading may have hurt the library's image. The fact is, the library over the entire year did an excellent job, and in fact showed an outstanding financial picture from its operations, with receipts of $1,101.77, which were a full $147.21 over the year's expenditures.

This last was drawn to our attention by the following letter, for which we are grateful:

Dear Sir:

You have an article on the front page of The Tofield Mercury dated Thursday, February 9th, 1967, headlined "Library Operates at a Loss". Unfortunately the figures you quote are for the last six months of 1966 and do not include the amount on hand June 30, 1966.

Attached is a copy of the correct financial standing of the Tofield Municipal Library as presented by the auditors for the year ending December 31, 1966.

We hope you will correct this error in your next issue of The Tofield Mercury.

Yours truly,
Rita Halverson, Sec'y,
Tofield Municipal Library Board.

UCW Centennial book now on sale

(Mrs. G. H. Taylor)

HOLDEN — The book "Memories of Yesteryear" which Mrs N. L. Campbell, has been compiling for the past several months, as a Centennial Project for the Holden United Church Women, is now finished and for sale.

The book includes some of the earliest minutes and history of when Holden first became a village and before the railroad arrived; also Church and Sunday School history of the United Church from its inception in 1888. Mrs. Campbell has spent many hours reading and checking records and minute books which she was able to obtain.

Many of the old records were lost or destroyed, presumably those having them thinking they were of little value, not realizing the wealth of information that could have been obtained from them, of pioneer times and circumstances.

Mrs. Campbell is to be congratulated on a job well done; also all those who had a part in helping to get the book ready for printing She is still busy mailing out requested copies and visitors to various parts of Canada and the U.S., to former Holden and district residents.

Copies of the book may be purchased through the Village Office, from Mrs. Campbell, or members of the U.C.W.

Coombes delegates meets Council re sale of grave

At a meeting of the Council of the Town of Tofield on Monday, Feb. 6, Mayor Dr. W. H. Freebury and Councillors Boese, Everitt, Herndon, Pillet and Swift met a delegation regarding the Harold Coombes Cemetery Plot. Three children of the late Chester Coombes would like to sell one grave in the Coombes' cemetery plot. It was suggested by Council that the Coombes' forward a letter request ing what they wanted in return for the one grave. Because they refused to do this, Mayor Dr. Freebury stated that a letter would be drafted and mailed to Harold Coombes at once by the Town.

It is expected the meeting will be told the town's financial picture is in good shape, with tax collections showing a better picture than that of last year, and a slight surplus in the overall operations for the year.

It is suggested that a motion be moved and carried that all Block 54 and North Half Blk. 32, Plan 2437 AJS be leased for fifteen

County Council meets

Following are the minutes, in part, of the regular meeting of the Council of the County of Beaver, No. 9, held January 10, 1967:

Business Arising from Minutes

In regards to the Alberta Fire Protection Convention it was moved and carried that Crs. Johnston and Krupelnicki attend this convention.

Concerning the Alberta E.M.O. Annual Conference, it was suggested that Crs. Johnston and Knudsen, together with the County's Co-ordinator, should attend this Conference.

Moved and carried that Crs. Johnston and Knudsen, together with County's Co-ordinator, attend this conference.

In regards to Mr. Nicherson's offer to purchase land in S.E. 5-51-19-W4th, the Council was informed that Mr. Nicherson's offer to purchase the lots concerned had been received.

Moved and carried that the offer to purchase four acres in S.E. 5-51-19-W4th be approved.

In regards to the Provincial Planning Conference Cr. Krupelnicki reported in writing and Cr. Braddock verbally on this Conference. They stated that the Conference had been quite successful although in their opinions too many speakers. 30, had been on the program. They felt that a Planning Commission might be the logical set-up in the future.

Moved and carried that the report be accepted.

Delegations

A delegation from the Village of Holden, J. Wright, B. Budd, M. Semeniuk, S. Hobin and D. McFadyen, interviewed the Council in regards to a plan for the Medical Centre that was proposed for the Village. Approximate cost of the Medical Centre was estimated to be some $24,000. A sum of $9,000 had been collected and the Village Council had agreed to assist in an amount up to $4,000. A Doctor had been contacted. The matter had been discussed with the local M.L.A., Mr. Gordley, who had suggested that the Committee should contact the County Council in regards to some possible assistance. It was proposed that the Centre would serve an area of a 12-mile radius except in the west.

After some discussion, it was moved and carried that the secretary-treasurer ascertain what, if any, assistance the County is allowed to give in this case.

A delegation of landowners from the M.D. of Lamont, No. 82, interviewed the Council in regards to the Ross Creek Flood Control Scheme. The delegation consisted of Maurice Van Buskirk, Stanley Krobba, Joe McLachlin and L. Schachor. Also present were the P.F.R.A. Engineer, L. Krueger from Vegreville, A. Brause and R. A. Wagner engineers with the Dept. of Water Resources. Mr. Krueger stated that assistance could not be obtained through the P.F.R.A. as assistance under their scheme was confined to flood control that would include some irrigation possibilities. Mr. Semeniuk stated that the scheme could be handled under the cost sharing system with the Provincial Government. Mr. Van Buskirk stated that Lamont was prepared to go ahead with the proposed scheme and the farmers concerned hoped that the County of Beaver would cooperate in same. It was felt that the scheme would be of benefit to the County as a whole. The Ross Creek Flood Control Scheme would protect the Village of Beaver [illegible] and would protect [illegible] the Village of Holden. It was felt that the scheme would be of benefit to the County as a whole.

more than 1.5 on the total cost. Reference was made to a letter, Sept. 12, 1966, to the secretary-treasurer of the M.D. of Lamont, No. 82, in this connection. At that time the Council of the County of Beaver had been of the opinion that, as the scheme would not be of any benefit to the roads in the County, the Council was not prepared to give any financial assistance.

After some considerable discussion, it was moved and carried that the M.D. of Lamont be contacted to see if an acceptable scheme can be worked out.

Flood Control Schemes

In regards to the Washwell Flood Control Scheme, Mr. Krueger informed the Council that a second survey had been made which was much different to the first survey undertaken. He had found that there was more land further up to drain that would benefit from the proposed scheme, and he stated that if more land could be brought under irrigation the scheme would stand a better chance to be approved by the Dominion Government. He advised that the scheme had not been dropped.

Mr. Skrome referred to the Kreger-Neal Flood Control Scheme and the schemes at Shonts and Amisk Creek, and stated that it appeared that some $10,000 might be available from the Provincial Government for this work and with the contribution of $10,000 from the County an amount of $20,000 could be reasonably considered for the flood cull schemes for 1967.

The Scheme at Shonts was given first priority, Washwell second and Amisk Creek third.

By Public Works

The Public Works Foreman attended the meeting at this time and stated that he had examined a number of lowboys in Edmonton and could install one in fairly good condition for $2,500. He had also looked over some tractor units for the lowboy and referred to a 1960 Mack tandem tractor at $2,800, a 1957 or 1958 Mack with a new motor for $4,000. He was requested to further investigate the situation, and stated that he would go to Edmonton again on Saturday.

He referred to the need for sump pumps in the grader sheds at Holden and Ryley, and was authorized to purchase two sump pumps.

He also referred to the advisability of obtaining an electric light plant for the construction camp at a price of $1,200 for a new plant. This was left for consideration at a later date.

Mr. Washwell stated that Stanley Brown had requested a road on the north side of Sec. 13-50-21-W4th to Sec. 14-50-21-W4th. Mr. Brown owns the south half of Sec. 13 and, in his opinion, the County should be responsible for a road to his property, however, this particular road allowance would be very difficult to construct a road on, and he suggested that the road be constructed on the north side of Section 13. This road would provide lease holders on Sec. 14 with access so that they could move their cattle by truck. The question was raised as to now much responsibility the County would have to construct a road of any type on this land, being the Bird Sanctuary. Should the County pay a share of the cost or should it be suggested that the farmers, themselves, could do it at a small cost. Cr. Weatherill stated that it was not a matter of grading the road but to clear the brush and possibly put in two culverts.

Moved and carried that Cr. Weatherill obtains more information as to the amount of work and cost involved.

It was moved and carried, at 6:35 p.m., that this meeting now adjourns to reconvene Thursday, Jan. 19, at 10:30 a.m.

RECONVENED MEETING

The Council reconvened in regular meeting on January 19.

Purchase of Lowboy

The Council was advised that arrangements had been made for the purchase of a lowboy from McCoy Sons Trailer Company Ltd. in Edmonton for $2,500. Cr. Knudsen stated that the Public Works Foreman had asked him to come along and investigate the equipment, and they had travelled to Edmonton on Saturday, Jan. 14.

Moved and carried that the purchase of a lowboy for $2,500 be approved and that Cr. Knudsen be appointed a Committee to assist in this purchase.

Correspondence

A letter from Vegreville Health Unit concerning the sanitation at Bruce was referred to the Council. The letter mentioned that the sanitation situation might endanger the health of the Community and the safety of the water supply. The letter also indicated possible remedies for the situation.

Moved and carried that the letter be tabled until a later meeting.

A letter from the A.A.M.D., concerning the 60th Anniversary of the Association, was referred to Council. The letter indicated that the Executive had decided to prepare and publish a book on the History of the Association and its members since inception in 1909 to commemorate the Diamond Jubilee in 1969. It was suggested that each member Municipality would be responsible for the history of the area, that they now cover, and the letter outlined what should be included in the write-up.

It was suggested that, if necessary, a qualified person should be hired to write the history of the Municipality. The secretary-treasurer suggested that possibly Mrs. E. C. Anderson of the Office Staff would be willing to undertake this work. He stated that the work would have to be done on her own time.

Moved and carried that Mrs. E. C. Anderson be employed, on her own time, to write the history of the County of Beaver, No. 9.

A letter from R. D. (Bud) Taylor of Viking, acting secretary-treasurer for the Highway No. 36 Association, was referred to the Council. The letter indicated a need for representations to the Minister of Highways for continued work on Highway No. 36 south from Killam, and that a meeting would be held with the Minister on Tuesday, Feb. 14. The letter suggested that the different organizations should write to the Minister requesting action on this road.

Moved and carried that a letter be forwarded from the County of Beaver No. 9, stressing the importance of Highway No. 36 to the eastern part of the County and endorsing the resolutions approved at the annual meeting of the Association.

A letter from the Centennial Officer requesting that application be made for the Centennial Grant prior to March 15, 1967, for work completed under the Centennial Grants Structure. The Council was advised that the Project at Kinsella had been completed and the bills turned in to the secretary-treasurer. At Bruce, very little, if any, work had been done to date.

Moved and carried that the letter be received and filed.

Letter from Alberta Crop Insurance Corporation advising that Crop Insurance is being extended into the County of Beaver for 1967 and that, tentatively, agents had been lined up to explain the program and solicit applications. It was hoped that they would be active by the end of January. Meetings would be held throughout the Counties of Camrose and Beaver and the M.D. of Flagstaff and a meeting would be held on February 7 at 2:00 p.m. in the Viking Community Hall and on February 7 at 8:00 p.m. at the Ryley Community Hall.

Moved and carried that the correspondence be received and filed.

Moved and carried that information from the P.F.A. concerning townships 46-10-Wth, 47 and 48-16-Wth be received and filed.

A letter from the Local Authorities Board, concerning annexation and separation to the Town of Viking, was referred to Council. The secretary-treasurer stated that he had discussed this matter with Cr. Roddick, who had indicated there were no objections to the proposals, and a letter to this effect had been forwarded to the Local Authorities Board.

Moved and carried that the proposed annexation and separation to the Town of Viking be approved.

A letter from the Local Authorities Board, concerning proposed annexation to the Village of Ryley, was referred to the Council. The land to be annexed was certain areas on the railway right-of-way west of the present Village boundary, and the Local Authorities Board suggested that the road allowance west of Sec. 4-50-17-Wth5, as it borders the area proposed to be annexed, should be included within the Village boundaries; the road would then provide access to the Village and would create a more uniform boundary.

Moved and carried that the proposed annexation be approved.

A letter from the Canadian National Railways, re their applications of 1963 for authority to abandon a portion of the Denwyn, Haight and Kingman subdivisions and correspondence from the Board of Transport Commissioners in the same matter, was referred to Council.

As this application had been approved by the Council in 1963, it was moved and carried that the Council pass on record as not being opposed to the application being re-voiced.

The secretary-treasurer reported that, at the Tax Sale on Dec. 20, 1966, eight parcels of land had been offered for sale. No bids had been received and the parcels sold to the County.

Moved and carried that the report be accepted.

Correspondence from the Dept. of Highways, concerning Special Contingency Roads Appropriation, was referred to Council.

Moved and carried that appli-

Ministik Church has its first wedding in history

The Ministik United church was the scene of it's first wedding Feb 4, when Miss Barbara J. Lechtie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lechtie of Tofield became the bride of Ronald Andrew Ferguson son of Mr and Mrs. Andrew Ferguson, also of Tofield.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Dwight C. Powell of Edmonton and baskets of bridesmaid gladioles graced the front of the church.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a floor-length white satin gown with lace front overlay and gently gathered skirt. Her shoulder length veil of net was held in place by a circlet of small flowers. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses entwined with ivy

Maid of honour was Miss Marlene Hanson who wore a street length dress of light grape in semi shade with a bolero lace basket of acqua net and small flowers.

Bridesmaid Miss Ann Paterson, cousin of the groom, also wore a street length dress of light green only in a shrimp shade, with matching bolero lace jacket and headpiece Both carried bridal bouquets of flowers. Flower girls were sisters of the bride, Brenda and Sandra who wore nylon dresses in pink and blue respectively Each had a basket of small flowers and carried nosegays of carnations

The groom was attended by his brother, Gary Ferguson and Don Lechtie brother of the bride. Glenn Ferguson and Brian Lechtie were ushers

The wedding music was played by Mrs. J F. Shawn and soloist was Mrs. Andrew Ferguson, mother of the groom who sang, "O Perfect Love" during the signing of the registers.

For the daughter's wedding the bride's mother chose a two piece light blue brocaded suit with hat to match and pink rose corsage The groom's mother chose a two piece wine brocade suit with matching accessories and a yellow rose corsage.

As Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson were the first couple to be married in the United Church, a large family table was erected in honor of them by Harold Dunham, a gift from the congregation.

NAME WRONG WINNERS

Phone 663-3623, Ryley, Alta., February 26, 1967.

Dear Editor:

In reference to your write-up re: "Tofield Lions Charter Night" on Saturday, Feb. 18, 1967, in the Thursday, February issue of your paper, beneath the picture you had printed that Mel Parsons of Innisfail was the recipient of a prize. Is this not an error?

I was the recipient of first prize for my Klondike dress. It is rather difficult to face the public and convince them that I was the recipient of first prize. Misinformation leads to poor public relations. Also is it not right procedure to publicize the picture of the first prize winner whether or not he is from Ryley?

I shall be very pleased if you will correct the error so that I, a teacher of 32 years, may be set right in the public eye.

Thanks.

Yours truly,
Harold E. Parsons,
V. P. Ryley School

EDITOR'S NOTE: Mr. Parsons is correct in reporting his Klondike dress won first prize at the recent Lions Charter Night, and we hasten to correct the report. Mr. Parsons was considerate not to mention a double error, so we should point out we were misinformed also on the winner of the ladies' costume, first prize for which went to Mrs. Irma Francis. Our apologies to both Mr. Parsons and Mrs. Francis; also to Mr. Mel Parsons and Mrs. Claude Gallinger, whom we wrongly reported as the winners. Insofar as pictures are concerned, procedure is invariably to use the best picture available—which may have nothing whatever to do with winners.

TREE PLANTING

We have just been informed that the cut-off date for ordering trees has been extended to the first of March. The heavy demand for Centennial trees has depleted the supply of some varieties. Ratepayers are urged to contact Frank Kehoe, D.A., or myself regarding tree planting and recent regulations respecting rural side planting. Farmers who have over 200 trees to plant are requested to contact me regarding the use of the County tree planter so that routes can be organized.

There appears to be a good supply of tall spruce to be picked up at the Government tree Nursery. These are White Spruce, 6 to 8 years old, and must be taken direct from the Nursery after all express and freight bundles are shipped out, usually around May first, depending on the weather. We will keep in touch with the Nursery and will kindly pass on any information to farmers.

PESTS

Magpies appear to be our problem at present. our control program includes the use of traps, poison baits and the County bounty. Farmers who use poison baits and take the necessary precautions are doing a good job of getting rid of these pests. We feel that the Ski-Doo boys are doing a good job on the coyote-some people feel that coyotes are being killed to excess, others report seeing 6 to 10 in a pack. We will try to assess these reports and act accordingly. Farmers who have a specific problem with coyotes may obtain poison pellets. No 1080 or cyanide gun will be released.

All residents within the County are reminded to report any suspected Norway rat infestations. Heller be a muskrat than to miss the real thing.

BRUCELLOSIS VACCINATION

We will carry on the Spring campaign this year the same as in the past. Farmers who wish to vaccinate heifer calves are requested to send in applications that will appear in the three County Newspapers around April 15th. Farmers in the Viking and Kinsella areas may notify Dr. Bildfell directly. Farmers in the Western areas, please get these applications in on TIME.

SEED GRAIN

Some varieties of grain appear to be in short supply, however, we are contacting farmers who have fair to good grain that would make suitable seed if properly cleaned. We try to maintain a list of available seed supplies at the County Seed Cleaning Plant. The phone number is 668-3917, Holden.

Mr. and Mrs. Hans Jacobsen observe 50th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs Hans Jacobsen of Edmonton, and formerly long-time farmers in the Tofield district, recently celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary.

Hans Jacobsen came to Canada from Denmark in May, 1909. After landing in Halifax he went to Vancouver, and two months later found himself in Camrose. At that time there was no transportation between Camrose and Tofield, so he walked to the farm of his brother-in-law, Chris Moos, north of Tofield. Here he worked and lived, trying to save enough money to go back home to Denmark.

In the spring of 1910, Hans bought a team of horses and went freighting between Wolf Creek, Alta., and Jasper. That winter he started freighting for the Hudson's Bay Company from Edmonton to Grouard at the end of Lesser Slave Lake and all over the Peace River Country.

In 1911, Hans took up farming in the Amisk Creek district, south east of Tofield. After two years he moved to Chipman and rented a farm half mile west of town, on the Sam Calvert homestead. Here, Hans met Martha Wolin, a Chipman farm girl. Hans and Martha were married February 22, 1917, by Rev. McCreary of the Baptist Church, Lamont. Mr. and Mrs. Chris Moos of Tofield were their attendants.

In 1919, Mr. and Mrs. Jacobsen moved to the Tofield district and took up farming north of town, where they farmed for 27 years. In 1946 they retired to Edmonton. Being farmers, they have pride and joy in their garden and flowers, and on Sundays during the summer they enjoy trips back to the farm, to see the three sons and eight grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacobsen received congratulations from Mayor V. M. Dantzer of Edmonton; Canadian Prime Minister, Hon. Lester B. Pearson; M.P. of Vegreville, Frank Fane; M.P. of Edmonton East, William Skaryk; Leader of the Opposition, John Diefenbaker; MLA for Vegreville-Bruce, A. W. Gurdey; plaque and greetings from Hon. Grant MacEwan, Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta, and plaque and greetings from Premier E. C. Manning. They also received telegrams from Hans' brothers and sisters in Denmark.

Sewing course to be held in Tofield

Mrs. Durie, home economist from Vegreville, will be starting a sewing short course in Tofield on the afternoon of March 20, at 1:30. Place of meeting will be announced later.

If those who plan to take the course are not present for the first period they will not be able to continue with the following sessions of instruction.

This sewing course is similar to the one held here last year which was so popular with the ladies.

After this is completed, Mrs. Durie suggests that those who have taken part either last year or this year may go on to more advanced work in a follow-up course of instruction.

County annual meet shows satisfaction

Far and away the greater part of Saturday's annual meeting of the County of Beaver centered on questions dealing with education, as fewer than fifty ratepayers turned out to hear reports and inquire into operations. The general impression seemed to be one of broad satisfaction with operation of the county, with only minor and secondary problems coming to light.

While the schools operated at a deficit of $17,763.04 for the year, general revenues for the county showed a surplus of $39,811.35, and ratepayers seemed satisfied with this accuracy. School estimates, for instance, were almost 98% accurate.

Questions were asked about contract buses or county owned buses, teacherages, consolidation, operation of big gymnasiums, centralization, graduations and other areas. Reeve Roddick reported there was little difference in cost in the two methods of busing, but that generally better satisfaction was obtained from county owned buses.

Teacherages and rentals brought considerable discussion, and Superintendent Marvin Bruce pointed out it was a major factor in obtaining teachers for areas such as Beaver. Housing was one of the first questions asked by new teachers, he said. Regarding the financing of teacherages, he suggested they represent a long - term asset, and could reasonably be expected to be financed over a lengthy period, also. Reeve Roddick again pointed out a committee had been appointed already to survey the rental situation and would no doubt recommend any adjustments they felt warranted shortly. Rentals at present run from about $80 to $90 per month, the meeting was told.

Asked why education costs had jumped 14% in the past year, the reeve pointed out teacher salaries had risen from 4 to 7% — bursaries were double those of last year, for between 4 and 4%, and minor other costs would account for the difference. Worth of the bursaries as a means of contributing to continuing teachers was questioned, and answered by one third of teachers now on staff by a similar amount of staff as county bursary teachers.

A remark by Superintendent Bruce that pupils could now move into High School without passing their Grade 8 exams drew a number of questions. Mr. Bruce explained the situation was applying largely to pupils who would not expect to gain matriculations. At least five reasons covered the situation, he said, namely: first, what else can a 15- or 16-year-old do in our society? Second, it is felt a pupil can make more headway under a low-geared Grade X program than an examination - geared Grade IX course. Third, success in school does not always determine success in life. Fourth, the program is aimed at reducing the number of dropouts, and fifth, the pupil can carry on through a vocational or commercial course, even to the point of gaining a diploma with only one exam, that of Grade XII English 32. He can then go on to apprenticeship courses, barbering or beauty culture, sales course, and so on.

Mr. Bruce also discussed the multi-activity courses, pre-employment and vocational courses as other attempts to provide complete educational facilities for all types of students.

ENROLMENTS DROPPING

Enrolments are starting to drop, Mr. Bruce told the meeting, reflecting the general trend in population growths, which are dropping in rural areas. He said the teaching force is well qualified, with 61 teachers out of 123 holding degrees. However, it is still very difficult to get teachers to these rural areas. It requires a high degree of effort, of a willingness to accept lower standards, he commented.

RUMOR ONLY

Both Mr. Bruce and Mr. Roddick brushed as rumor a suggestion that the school at Kinsella was to be closed. Mr. Rod-

Elderly man burned with farm house

On Saturday night, Jens Peter Sorensen was burned to death in his farm home 20 miles east and six miles north of Camrose. Mr. Sorensen was 80 years of age and lived alone.

The fire was noticed by a neighbor at about 10:00 p.m. Mr. Sorensen's son and family live in another house on the farm, but they were away from home at the time, although neighbors later got in touch with them, and the R.C.M.P. was advised.

The fire razed the house completely and the debris was so hot that it was impossible to enter it until Monday morning. The coroner, Dr. C. H. Smith of Camrose was present when the body was recovered from the bedroom area.

Federal loan for Minburn

Approval of a $20,840 federal loan for a sewage treatment project in Minburn, was announced last week under the National Housing Act. For 25 years with interest at six per cent, the loan will assist the village to construct a sewage pumping station and a sewage stabilization pond, and install 1,500 feet of six-inch forcemain.

Bev Munro to emcee amateur program

The Tofield 4-H Amateur Program, which will be held March 17th at 8:00 p.m., will be emceed by radio announcer Bev Munro, who is a great singer of Country and Western music. He will be bringing his guitar along and will entertain the audience between acts and during the adjudicating of the various acts.

At a recent 4-H committee meeting it was decided to have four different age groups compete this year: 10 and over; 13 to 15, 9 to 11, and a special class for the young fry of eight and under. The Alberta Wheat Pool is co-sponsoring this years' amateur night by providing trophys to the winners.

The Wheat Pool has always been interested in Alberta's youth and tomorrow, last year, the Pool gave a direct grant of $10,000.00 to the active work of 4-H in the province; besides $10,000.00 toward a building at Gold Eye Camp, used by a large number of 4-Her's each year.

The committee in charge of arrangements for amateur night is headed by president, Colleen Wylie, together with Marilyn Schacher, Phyllis Rose, Marjorie Moore and Grant Cossey. John Moore who is leader of the 4-H Club is also helping with the activities to encourage the talent night.

Adjudicators will be Jim Stephenson, radio farm broadcaster, of Camrose, and Tom Knight, of Vermilion, and a third one not yet named.

Anyone wishing to enter should phone 662-3706 or 662-3222 as soon as possible. Entries will close on March 15th at 8 p.m.

During the same evening a draw will be made for the $30 cowboy hat which is being raffled off by the pee-wee members. Anyone wanting to purchase a ticket contact one of the Pee-Wee members. Price of the tickets are only 10c each or three for 25c.

A Great Canadian

One of the most important aspects of our form of democratic rule under a monarch is the contribution the monarch, or his deputy, can make to the country's well-being, without in any way exercising despotic powers. The contribution was perhaps supremely well illustrated in the term of General Georges Philias Vanier as royal deputy in Canada over the past several years.

General Vanier was perhaps from birth destined to fill this noble role, for every jot of his training and background was designed to make him more capable in this capacity. He was just as much at home in the world of the English, and their tongue, as he was in his more native Quebec French background. He knew and understood, sympathized with and loved both groups as perhaps few Canadians of his time. Indeed, almost his last public wish was for deeper understanding and tolerance between the two.

The Vanier contribution to the Canadian scene will carry on for years; indeed it will be years before it can even be assessed: since it reaches into so many phases of Canadian living. Many Canadians will recall clearly how moving was his speech of acceptance as governor-general of this country, and they can reflect that at all times during the career which followed, he lived up to the bright promise which that speech held out.

Those who saw his last speech will equally long remember the emotion-choked voice which offered the challenge "that we must open the windows of our hearts and minds, that we must broaden our horizons and come to know our fellow Canadians from every region of our land".

Those of us who remain must keep Canada intact as one nation, not several little pieces, always to honor the aspirations and the objective of this great Canadian who tried in so many ways to cement nationhood among us.

The Naughty Co-Ops Again

Canada's Liberal member for East Kootenay recently complained in the House of Commons that the jobs of many of his constituents might be endangered by the "co-operative colossus" if they didn't come up on the competition with Consolidated Mining and Smelting's fertilizer operation. In one year, he complained, they had taken a full quarter of the C. M. & S. business with their promise of patronage dividends, and because of this, prices were down to 1935-39 levels.

To their credit, Liberal confreres as well as opposition members were critical of his comments, and one went so far as to say he was speaking only for himself not for the party.

The fact a co-operative could have this effect is proof there is a need and a place for them. We hold no particular watching brief for co-operatives as a way of life, for we feel there are too many places in which they fall short to contribute to major advancement of the commercial world. On the other hand, when private industry cannot regulate itself for the ultimate benefit of the consumer, there is need for some exterior form of competition.

There are too many documented reports of market fixing practices designed for anything but the consumers' benefit to allow much sympathy for the "industrial colossus". And farmers as a group have learned through sad experience to feel they are the bottom man on the totem pole. It is small wonder they turn to the co-operative when it can show such dramatic success in working for their interests.

Equalization

A month ago the Calgary Chamber of Commerce adopted the policy of promoting in every way possible the principle of uniformity of property assessments throughout the entire province, as a necessary corollary of the provincial foundation fund for education. As this fund is fixed on the basis of a determined number of mills for each municipality, points out the southern Chamber, it seems important that these mills should be based on equalized assessment regulations.

Their subsequent discussions tend to indicate they feel that urban areas generally are more highly assessed than rural areas, particularly by their suggestion that costs of a suggested study should be borne by the major cities.

There is no question but that education costs are a heavy load on the property owner, and only last week our own city was represented at a meeting of cities highly disturbed at the growing tax charges from education. Edmonton's Mayor Dantzer has many times demanded that the province assume a greater proportion of the costs.

But we can't help feel they're trying to bandage the cut without stopping the bleeding.

It matters not whether the government taxes our paycheck before we get it, or hits us every time we spend it, or taps the wife's grocery money the important thing is how many dollars overall are being taken from us for any particular reason. Certainly equity is desirable, but in the end it isn't going to reduce the total tax bite one bit, and shifting the emphasis around, we suspect, isn't going to improve the individual lot very much in the end.

Let's look at the costs themselves, and see if we have to accept the spiral as inevitable. If it isn't, then let's do something about the cause, and if it is let's resign ourselves to it and get on to something else.

Exciting Pages From Canada's Past

Samuel Hearne, an explorer with the Hudson's Bay Co., crossing the northern barrens from Fort Prince of Wales on Hudson Bay to the mouth of the Coppermine River on the Arctic Ocean. Hearne had failed in two earlier expeditions with Cree Indians, but finally, with Chief Matonabee and a group of Chipewyans, succeeded in reaching Coppermine in 1771 after a journey of eight months. He was the first white man to reach the Arctic Ocean overland from Hudson Bay. Hearne erected a mark claiming the coast for the Hudson's Bay Co.; but the company's hopes to establish a permanent shipping port on the Arctic were dashed when Hearne discovered icepacks stretching from shore to horizon. That was not the only disappointment. The Indians had told how "the hills were entirely composed of copper all in handy lumps like a heap of pebbles". Explorer of the region had copper knife, but after a search of four hours, Hearne and his men found only one recognizable piece of copper ore and gave up. Returning to Fort Prince of Wales, Matonabee guided Hearne south. They crossed Great Slave Lake on the ice, followed the Slave River south to the present site of Fort Smith on the northern border of Alberta, then turned east. As they proceeded through the spring, they were joined by groups of Indians bound for Hudson Bay, loaded with furs. Hearne arrived back at the fort safely after an expedition of 18 months which helped open up unknown lands of the prairies and the Arctic.

MacDuff Ottawa Report

THE PACKAGE DEAL . . .

OTTAWA—The mind that can be said with certainty about the Carter report on taxation for many weeks to come is that it is a very long-term proposition.

Don't let the set initial headlines the stock markets took bother you too much. And don't try to read significance into the first reactions of politicians in the long-term, they'll probably prove meaningless.

No one will be surprised that New Democratic Party Leader T. C. Douglas declared himself in favour of the recommendation to levy a capital gains tax. No more surprising is the negative reaction of Tory leadership candidate George Hees—who was until recently the president of the Montreal and Canadian Stock Exchanges.

TIME TO THINK

The best advice is that handed out by Finance Minister Mitchell Sharp, read the six volumes first and talk much later.

That is what most intelligent MP's are now doing. Long before they make up their minds, the scores of pressure groups affected by the Report will descend on them.

The Government itself will wait until at least the end of the year before indicating its general intentions. The Bill—if and when it comes—will go to a parliamentary committee for public hearings before being debated in the House. Final legislation, if decided upon, is probably two years and an election away.

The Report's first test has little to do with whether its implementation is desirable or not. The question now exercising the government and civil service is, "Is it practical?"

DIFFERENT APPROACH

The Carter Commission, don't forget, was composed of accountants, economists and other technical experts — not politicians, legislators and administrators. The commissioners came up with the challenging, progressive philosophy of treating one dollar as just as taxable as any other dollar.

That's a good theory which probably justifies the support of most Canadians. But the Commission worked entirely outside the political context. And it's only politicians and civil servants who can implement tax theory.

I suspect the most immediate obstacle to implementation is going to be provincial anger. The

Report fails to deal with what has hitherto been considered the country's most pressing fiscal problem—the allocation of tax resources to match the respective responsibilities of federal and provincial governments.

BACK SEAT FOR PROVINCES

It has been argued that because the Commission was appointed solely by Ottawa, it had no business getting involved with provincial needs. Yet the Commission itself chose to pass a judgment which simply ignored the provinces' contention—backed up by the Economic Council of Canada—that their constitutional spending needs are increasing at a far greater rate than those of the federal government.

In the name of the central authority, the Commission declares that the provinces shall have no additional personal income tax points, and shall hand over control of corporation taxes to Ottawa. If the federal government thinks the provinces maybe need more money, then it might consider giving them a slightly larger share of the sales tax.

The Commission acknowledges that the implementation of many of its proposals would require Ottawa to win the co-operation of the provinces. Yet the Commission's comments themselves are likely to make this laudable aim that much more difficult to achieve.

For the rest, initial reactions to the Report seem to set millions of lower and middle income families against virtually every pressure group in the country. On one side, it would appear, are all those people earning less than $10,000 a year, on the other side are the wealthy, the investors and big business — especially in the insurance, mining and oil companies. They and many other groups would be forced to make up the Government's revenue.

But that is a grossly oversimplified picture. A careful study of the report—when completed—would probably show that what one man loses with one hand he will practically recoup with the other.

The problem is that the Report does as authors intended — a package deal. If the Government decides to accept its laudable aims, it will have to sell most if not all of the package. That will require the sort of courage that is seldom expected from political parties. That is why a long period of digesting the practicalities is ahead.

Weeds cost too much says fieldman Rex Boyles

"It isn't hard to prove that weeds can take from $10 to $15 per acre from the value of a crop," said Rex Boyles, agricultural fieldman for the County of Beaver last Saturday at the county's annual meeting, yet, he continued, it would cost only 50 cents an acre to control them. Weeds cost more than just about any other item for the farmer, he maintained.

Mr. Boyles was making his annual report, and pointed out last year's weather made weed control very difficult. However, he continued, there are weed killers available now for just about any weed problem, most of them being highly selective.

Use of soil sterilants on the road shoulders is a highly debatable question, he said, but [illegible] areas will be treated [illegible].

[illegible] Bangs testing in the [illegible] he felt the testing of 4,500 calves last year proves the worth of the program. He urged farmers to work together on early [illegible] in order to reduce costs. A program which costs $1.00 per animal handled on an individual basis, can easily be reduced to 10 cents by mass registrations and cooperation, he said.

Mr. Boyles mentioned that keen interest had been shown in the [illegible] opened last year at Vikings and he felt there would be an expansion of this program again this year.

He said too, he had investigated several reports of rats during the year, but none were authenticated as being Norway rats.

[illegible] to attend the St. Albert [illegible] to do so, as the team would appreciate support.

On the afternoon of Wednesday, March 15, the students of grade [illegible] high school will attend a Career Day [illegible] technology, [illegible] university, Royal Canadian Mounted Police Force and the Canadian Armed Forces. Students are encouraged to select the fields in which they would like to train and attend the talks on these careers.

In the afternoon of March 7, the Tofield school students held a memorial service for the late Governor-General George Vanier. Mr. [illegible] expressed grief over the death of a great Canadian. Derrill Bell read a short biography of the Governor-General's life, Mr. Thiessen led the students in prayer, and Gerald Neufeld sounded the Last Post.

Our hearts were almost broken,
You fought so hard to stay.

So peaceful, free from pain,
We could not wish you back

Farmers try to save coyotes

"Hunters are far worse than the coyotes" maintained a number of farmers at Beaver County's annual meeting on Saturday, claiming an indiscriminate slaughter of the animals. In addition, it was claimed disposal methods left a great deal to be desired, and could lead to spread of contagion.

Hunters on motor toboggans were singled out, but so were hunters with hounds. Some play the coyotes by the use of tracking hounds, it was claimed, then turn coyote hounds loose on worn out and defenceless animals. "After all, the coyote should have some chance, too", said one farmer, who suggested the coyote control program should be abandoned. Other farmers agreed, pointing out the coyotes do an excellent job of controlling other pests.

Questions on the toboggan owners rights brought the answer that they cannot go on private land without permission, even while hunting. Entering without permission leaves them open to charges of trespassing, the meeting was told. Some complaints of fences being cut were also heard.

Modern etiquette

Q. My wedding was postponed because of the sudden death of my mother. How long should I properly wait before my wedding?

A. This usually depends pretty much on the community in which one lives. However, I think you could safely wait for about three months, which is more or less the modern idea of a "mourning period".

Q. When eating a biscuit and jelly at the dinner table, may the jelly be applied to the biscuit with the fork?

A. No; this is for the knife.

A CENTENNIAL PRAYER FOR OUR HERITAGE

"Almighty and merciful God, who in Thy wisdom dost divide to the nations their inheritance, yield Thee hearty thanks for Thy loving kindness in appointing this good land of Canada to be our dwelling place among the children of men: for the wealth and glory of its plains and mountains, its fruitful fields and teeming waters, and for the precious things of heaven, the dew, the sunshine, snow and rain in their season, and the precious things of the earth and the fulness thereof, for a land where is bread without scarceness. For all this, and the opportunities thus vouchsafed to us, we bless Thee and magnify Thy name, and we pray Thee, grant us grace so to sanctify thee in our heritage that the world may know that Thou art our God for ever and ever, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen. (From the prayer book).

CURLING NOSTALGIA

Curling review, the official publication of the Alberta Curling Association, in its February issue showed an old photo of a foursome taken many years ago, and asked for identification of men. Holden news

(Mrs. G. H. Taylor)

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor received a phone call last week from their son Brian in Ottawa, where he and his family are getting settled in their new home. He said they had a great deal of snow there with the temperature much below normal, since arriving February 15.

Mrs. Helen Tiedemann attended a district Christian Growth Meeting on Feb. 25 to prepare workshops for the B.C. and Alberta districts of the Women's Missionary Society. This was held in Calgary at the Calvary Lutheran Church. There were four members from Edmonton, two from Vancouver, two from Calgary and one from Fort Saskatchewan attending. Mr. Tiedeman drove to Edmonton Thursday night to bring Mrs. Tiedeman home and visited with his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Morrison.

Mrs. Alfred Sorenson motored to Edmonton, Sunday evening, taking their son David back on his way to Red Deer. Mrs. Sorenson visited Monday and Tuesday with friends and relatives in the city.

A number of ladies attended a Tupperware demonstration and tea at the home of Mrs. Clint Armstrong, Sunday afternoon. The lady demonstrating the goods was Mrs. J. Tuchsen of Edmonton (nee Josie Kendrat), a former district resident.

VANDALS FOILED

A number of Holden families were surprised last Friday evening when a gang of 13 to 16 youths from the Mundare district were in Holden, presumably with the idea of raiding the residences. However, none of the houses were unoccupied so no entry was made and the youths were chased away. The constable was away so none of the youths could be apprehended.

Schultz again heads Historical Society

(Grace Phillips)

The Tofield Historical Society held their annual meeting on Feb. 20 at the museum with 23 present. Stan Dunham, a committee member, was present to record history by taping the highlights of the meeting.

The year's activities were reviewed by the President, Harold Schultz, and very commendable financial report was given by Mrs. Edna Bowick. The only change in the committee of directors saw Mrs. Ethel Wood replacing Clifford Appleby.

Discussion on the July 1st celebrations and Centennial projects took up the major portion of the new business it was agreed that the Society offer assistance in the restoration of the Logan cemetery.

After adjournment, Queen Petra related some humorous incidents of her early years, much to the enjoyment of those present.

Mrs. Mary Tiedemann was presented with a lovely desk set from the Historical Society During the raffle breaks Axel Ranng showed slides on the July 1, 1905 celebrations, courtesy of C. F. Kallal.

dick declared the school committee's policy was to keep schools open as long as staff is available. In the high school field, he said, it was to maintain the schools as long as the program is considered adequate. He pointed out grants are cut by the department of education if the program falls below a desirable level.

Mr. Bruce said no plan had yet been mentioned at school committee meetings to close any elementary schools. Junior high grades are becoming just as specialized as those in high schools. It is a question of looking at costs, he said . . . what are you sacrificing in the name of economy? How willing are the taxpayers to pay for continued local school costs?

The high costs of schools in Beaver County, he pointed out, are occasioned largely by the high schools, and the excellent programs they offer.

ROAD COSTS

Answering a question about road costs, the reeve stated it cost between $1,500 and $10,000 a mile to construct roads in the county, depending on what kind of country is was going through.

They also invite people who feel repayment from all executors of estates where the estate has an equity in the Tofield Co-operative.

Plans are underway to do a complete re-decorating job on the Co-operative Both inside and out. the Co-op Shopping Centre will receive a fresh coat of paint. Visible proof that the Tofield Co-op is moving ahead in this Centennial year

the Joys of Easter

It only takes a moment in this busy life to praise a husband or thank a mother — adding a special glow to their enjoyment of Easter. Isn't there a favorite relative who would like to be wished a "Happy Easter"? Isn't there a friend who would enjoy a card that says "thinking of you"? Isn't there a child who would be thrilled receiving mail all his own?

That's one of the special joys of the season. And all it takes is a little thoughtfulness, a stamp and a Coutts Hallmark Easter card from our collection.

To sing at Salem

The A Cappella Chorus of Western Mennonite School, Salem, Oregon, will present an Easter chorus program on March 22 at 8:00 p.m., at Salem Mennonite Church.

The program consists of three groups of sacred music. The first sect on is made up of various praise and worship numbers. The second section is a group of hymns which will appear in the new Mennonite Church Hymnal to be published in 1969. The chorus received permission to sing these hymns as a preview to the hymnal. Easter songs make up the last group. These songs tell of Christ's suffering, death, and resurrection.

Interest mounts in centennial programs

(Mrs. G. Phillips)

Mr and Mrs. Ben Boyles were hosts to the Centennial Committee for their March 14 meeting, at which progress reports were made on Tofield's Centennial program. Mayor Dr. Freebury conducted the meeting.

Queen Petra reported that Ed Watson had kindly had plans drawn up for the landscaping of Centennial Square, secretaries referred to by the committee as "Petra's Park" due to her interest in having this area of greenery in the centre of town.

Mr. Ian Worton reported that the demand for both Canadian and Centennial flags has been brisk; 47 were ordered and further inquiries have since been made regarding extra orders. The Tofield Community League has purchased ten of the banners which are being made by local ladies.

The auditorium program of ethnic dances under Miss Krause's direction will be held on May 27, from 7:30 - 9:30; the indoor dance to follow will be sponsored by the Community League and held in the Community Centre.

J. R. Francis reported that while work on the proposed "History of Tofield" was progressing well, publishing costs are likely to be higher than expected. It was suggested that copies of the book be pre-sold. This technique has worked well in other places.

Dr. Freebury reported that the film, "The Newark Plan", shown by the Chamber of Commerce on urban renewal had been well attended; a committee had been formed to canvass local merchants in regard to suggestions given in the film.

LIONS CARNIVAL

Father Scriven, Lions' representative to the Centennial Committee, reported that the Lions' Carnival on March 19 would get underway with a pancake breakfast being served at the Rink from 8.45 to 1.00 o'clock. Pancakes and sausages, guaranteed by Father Scriven to be delectable, will be the menu—with coffee, of course. The ski-doo races are arranged for, and Father Scriven amended his previous information about the sky - diving exhibition. There will be two jumps, each of which will feature four divers.

Andy Heiberg reminded the meeting of the 4-H public speaking contest on April 11 in the Community Centre. This will be the finals for the County of Beaver. Mr. Heiberg also announced special features of the big Centennial Bonspiel, March 17 - April 1. Each evening, preceding the last draw, there will be a barn dance. During the spiel, prizes will be awarded to the oldest married couple curling, the lady with the best Centennial costume, the gentleman curler

Annual reports show town's finances good

The annual meeting of ratepayers of the Town of Tofield was held Monday, Feb. 27, at 8:00 p.m. in the meeting room of the Tofield Community Centre. J. E. Sinson was appointed chairman and Rita Halverson recording secretary. The meeting was attended by 38 ratepayers.

HEALTHY POSITION

Rita Halverson read the Secretary-Treasurer's report, stating that the Town showed a working surplus of over $10,000, and the cash position was much better than previous years. The total tax credits amounted to $38.09, over 100% , which included 96% tax arrears collected in 1966. The total arrears at the end of the year were higher than in 1965 due to the fact that the total tax levy was higher. Building permits sold totalled an estimated value of $130,500, consisting of two new dwellings, six garages, one business building and six additions and renovations. As a result the taxable assessment has increased by $36,000 for 1967. For every $100 paid by the tax payer in 1966, $55 went to Education; $8 to health services; $16 to local improvement debenture debts and the balance of $21 for Town administration.

LIBRARY SHOWS INCREASE

The Tofield Municipal Library report, read by Rita Halverson, secretary to the board, showed a steady increase in the number of borrowers. There were 110 membership cards sold in 1966. At the end of the year, inventory showed 1,085 volumes on the shelves. Two hundred and fifty books were purchased and 171 donated. The "Young Canada Book Week" program held in the evening for the first time proved successful. The Library ended 1966 with a surplus of $227.07.

FIRE DEPARTMENT REPORT

The Fire Department activities were reported by Fire Chief William Friesen. The department had attended seven fires in 1966, spent one week burning grass and had trained 23 rural firemen. Mr. Friesen hoped Town Council

Chamber studies urban renewal

Tofield Chamber of Commerce chaired by president, E. F. Watson held a special meeting in the Tofield Community Centre last Wednesday evening, and was attended by most of the business people of the town and others.

The meeting was for the purpose of viewing a film on Urban Renewal, sponsored by Norwich Union Insurance Company. A the balance of $21 for Town administration.

The old order changeth

"Change and decay in all around I see" are familiar words, and they're being applied with considerable criticism today to the efforts of several church denominations to modernize or liberalize their form of worship as they study the influence that the best generations and youth generally are bringing to bear on traditional worship forms.

"Of course," said one leading church writer, "there is a great body of church people who regard contemporary English and other suggested changes as inadequate substitutes for traditional uses, particularly in regard to Holy Communion. But many others, not only young people, feel that forms and ceremonial bearing the stamp of medieval monasticism have no relevance to the modern age."

This reluctance to change, of course, form at one and the same time one part of the great strength of the established churches, and one part of their weakness. It is one of the very basic reasons behind the division and subdivision of sects, as rebellious spirits seek to express their worship of God in some form more akin to their daily experience.

Yet surely there is ample justification in history for the service, the music and the language being in the vernacular of the day. Even plain chant or plainsong was considered daringly different when it was first introduced hundreds of years ago. The Bible recalls, too, that the apostles received the gift of tongues, and leaves the impression they were able to talk with the people they met in everyday, folksy language. Why should we now, then, insist that the only right way is to use the stilted expression of two or three hundreds years ago?

For ourselves in the main we really enjoy the beauty of expression and the ring of substance in the ancient wording, but at the same time we realize there are many to whom it is completely incomprehensible, and therefore not only useless but also annoying, which is worse.

Surely there is room for both philosophies in the framework of the churches. If the innovation serves any useful purpose. The fact that all major denominations are seriously studying the matter indicates how important it is considered to be. And despite the feeling of many that folk music or jazz would constitute an abomination, there are enough church services, such as the mass, written in all kinds of modern idiom, to prove that it's not what sort of musical composition is used, but how it is handled that counts.

Past time for change

Chairman of Alberta's Liquor Control Board, Peter Elliott is reported to have said recently that changes in operation are planned for members of his inspection staff, so they will be able to spend more time in the field and less in the office filling out reports. This following the blow-up over situations at Gleichen - Cluny, where the liquor traffic and the Indian population seem to have gotten out of hand.

But there seems no reason why this change should have been needed in the first place. If memory serves correctly, Mr Elliott won his spurs as a newspaperman in earlier days, and should know that no reporter can keep getting his stories without moving out into the field.

The unwholesome situation in the south seems incomprehensible in the first place. Why should this centre have any more trouble than is the case in several other towns where there are heavy Indian populations? Are the laws being overlooked? Are the inspectors not inspecting?

From reports given us by hotelmen in several centres, their licenses are in serious jeopardy for much less flagrant abuses of liquor control than reported from Gleichen. Why should there be any difference?

Pluses and minuses

There has been a good deal of rejoicing over the proposal of Alberta Highways Minister Gordon Taylor to bring all regulations of the road in Alberta under the same authority, introducing a uniformity we do not now have.

Mr. Taylor, for instance, thinks it should be possible to drive in any city or town in the province, safe in the knowledge you can drive the same way as in some other Alberta centre. There is a good deal to be said for the idea since it would obviously tend to eliminate some of the petty annoyances, and seemingly irreconcilable differences from community to community.

However, there are checks and balances for every force in nature, so that for every advantage gained by the new proposal there will be equal disadvantages. One if the more serious objections, we believe, is that driving progress would advance only at the speed of the slowest member of the community of cities and towns, or alternatively at the absolute distate of the department of highways. This would be unfortunate as the present situation

Unemployment And Prices . . .

OTTAWA —A substantial measure of unemployment appears to be the unacceptable alternative to inflationary price increases. The Economic Council of Canada spent a year and a half trying to find some other alternative and came up with the final conclusion that it was "inherently difficult" to contain inflation and maintain high employment. The best it could suggest was a proper assessment of how much employment and output should be sacrificed in return for how much slow down in the price rise.

The Carter Royal Commission on Taxation with its tendency to make quite definite assumptions and assertions on a number of facts of life has come up with a formula. If Canadians want to restrict increases on a year to year basis of 1.5 per cent to 2 per cent they must not keep more than 96.5 per cent of the labour force in jobs. But this will be achieved only if strong measures are taken against those responsible for pushing up wage levels, something which Canada has never tried to do in peacetime and is unlikely to try.

The difficulty of holding the price line begins when less than four per cent of the labour force is unemployed. This is the target used in the United States but the Commission believes that so long as Canada maintains its safety valve of immigration inflation can be contained at the lower figure.

This would not mean that the 3.5 per cent unemployment rate would stretch across Canada. It would mean that six per cent of the labour force in the Atlantic provinces would be unemployed, 4.6 per cent of the Quebec labour force and four per cent in British Columbia. Any attempt to decrease aggregate demands in these regions in order to bring the unemployment rate down to the 3.5 per cent level would result in rapidly rising prices.

The Commission has looked over the experience of the 10 years from 1956 to 1965, reviewing at the same time the fiscal policies used to contain prices or create employment. In 1956 the average unemployment rate stood at 4.4 per cent and prices rose only 0.7 per cent. By 1958 unemployment had dropped to 3.4 per cent and prices rose by 3 per cent. From 1961 to 1963 Canada was experiencing a recession with the unemployment rate changing from six to more than seven per cent. After a price increase of 2.3 per cent in 1959 prices were stable over the next three years with the increase in 1963, the start of the upward cycle only 0.3 per cent.

PRESSURE EASING OFF

Under a restrictive fiscal policy which started with the budget of last March and continued with December's mini-budget prices are beginning to show a slight sign of flattening out. The past winter's business committee on Prices which has just returned from a country-wide hear- and housewives who only recently were demonstrating in protest against meat prices are astonished that the unemployment rate this winter 3.5 per cent is January) is higher than last year.

As a result of its outside Ottawa investigations the Senate-Commons committee all recommended a substantial extension of the term of N.H.A. mortgages by much as 40 years is being suggested investigation of housing costs was the primary purpose of the committee tour and it soon found that both houses were beyond the reach of wage earners with incomes of much less than $10,000. To meet the minimum housing needs almost anywhere in Canada a man with a $7,000 salary, the Committee found, must pay $16,000. Interest rates on N.H.A. loans are so low as they can realistically go while down payments have been reduced to the absolute minimum. The only assistance that can be given is through lengthening the term and reducing annual payments.

CAPITAL HILL CAPSULES

The housing picture for January showed some slight improvement with the seasonally adjusted rate of starts up from 92,300 to 98,000. The improvement was entirely due to construction of apartment blocks, particularly in Montreal where buildings started in January will provide 1,849 dwelling units. In contrast, Toronto apartments starts in January will add only 214 units instead of the 1,058 started in January 1966. There is some indication of an easing in the housing shortage situation in that city, however, with apartment vacancies on the increase.

If Canada is to provide the 750,000 new jobs which the Economic Council of Canada says will be needed by 1970 to meet the growing labour force, Canadian industry must concentrate on developing products and processes already produced by basic research. The Engineering Institute of Canada in a brief to the Government says there is no time to wait for new ideas.

Trade Minister Robert Winters will make a trip to Geneva to see at first hand what progress is being made in the Kennedy round tariff negotiations. Mr. Winters for some time has been an optimist about the Kennedy round but this trip is likely to cool his optimism. The talks are moving slowly and the United States has set the end of this month as the deadline for completing negotiations. If the results are to be implemented before the expiration of the U.S. Trade Expansion Act at the end of June.

Mile of grain cars

The biggest grain train of the year in Eastern Canada— a mile long Canadian Pacific special with 135 boxcars laden with 226,000 bushels of export grain— moved through Moosomin recently bound for the East Coast.

Pulled by four powerful diesel locomotives, it was the longest train with the heaviest single movement of western grain to pass through Montreal since the record crop year began last August 1.

Although the 123-car grain train on the last load during this crop year in the East, Canadian Pacific frequently operates longer grain trains in the West. In October last year, the railway moved a 152-car train of grain between Brandon and Winnipeg. Trains of 135 loaded cars of grain are commonplace.

Gleanings . . .

A Crowley rancher was the recent victim of cattle rustlers who shot one of his Angus steers dragged it out of the field and butchered it. The would-be thieves were apparently scared off before they could complete the job, and as a result they left the carcass behind.

Up in Peel way a farmer who had a couple of heifers placed a classified advertisement describing them, but they hadn't been strayed, and requested no television leading to their recovery. A few days later he received a pained note in the mail advising him that his two steers were in a deep freeze. The thief apparently had second thoughts about the whole matter for he also enclosed a cash payment of $250. That is not quite the value of the animals, but then they say "that half a loaf is better than no loaf at all."

The old order changeth

"Change and decay in all around I see" are familiar words, and they're being applied with considerable criticism today to the efforts of several church denominations to modernize or liberalize their form of worship as they study the influence that the best generations and youth generally are bringing to bear on traditional worship forms.

"Of course," said one leading church writer, "there is a great body of church people who regard contemporary English and other suggested changes as inadequate substitutes for traditional uses, particularly in regard to Holy Communion. But many others, not only young people, feel that forms and ceremonial bearing the stamp of medieval monasticism have no relevance to the modern age."

This reluctance to change, of course, form at one and the same time one part of the great strength of the established churches, and one part of their weakness. It is one of the very basic reasons behind the division and subdivision of sects, as rebellious spirits seek to express their worship of God in some form more akin to their daily experience.

Yet surely there is ample justification in history for the service, the music and the language being in the vernacular of the day. Even plain chant or plainsong was considered daringly different when it was first introduced hundreds of years ago. The Bible recalls, too, that the apostles received the gift of tongues, and leaves the impression they were able to talk with the people they met in everyday, folksy language. Why should we now, then, insist that the only right way is to use the stilted expression of two or three hundreds years ago?

For ourselves, in the main we really enjoy the beauty of expression and the ring of substance in the ancient wording, but at the same time we realize there are many to whom it is completely incomprehensible, and therefore not only useless but also annoying, which is worse.

Surely there is room for both philosophies in the framework of the churches, if the innovation serves any useful purpose. The fact that all major denominations are seriously studying the matter indicates how important it is considered to be. And despite the feeling of many that folk music or jazz would constitute an abomination, there are enough church services, such as the mass, written in all kinds of modern idiom, to prove that it's not what sort of musical composition is used, but how it is handled that counts.

Past time for change

Chairman of Alberta's Liquor Control Board, Peter Elliott is reported to have said recently that changes in operation are planned for members of his inspection staff, so they will be able to spend more time in the field and less in the office filling out reports. This following the blow-up over situations at Gleichen - Chany, where the liquor traffic and the Indian population seem to have gotten out of hand.

But there seems no reason why this change should have been needed in the first place. If memory serves correctly, Mr. Elliott won his spurs as a newspaperman in earlier days, and should know that no reporter can keep getting his stories without moving out into the field.

The unwholesome situation in the south seems incomprehensible in the first place. Why should this centre have any more trouble than is the case in several other towns where there are heavy Indian populations? Are the laws being overlooked? Are the inspectors not inspecting?

From reports given us by hotelmen in several centres, their licenses are in serious jeopardy for much less flagrant abuses of liquor control than reported from Gleichen. Why should there be any difference?

Pluses and minuses

There has been a good deal of rejoicing over the proposal of Alberta Highways Minister Gordon Taylor to bring all regulations of the road in Alberta under the same authority, introducing a uniformity we do not now have.

Mr. Taylor, for instance, thinks it should be possible to drive in any city or town in the province, safe in the knowledge you can drive the same way as in some other Alberta centre. There is a good deal to be said for the idea since it would obviously tend to eliminate some of the petty annoyances, and seemingly irreconcilable differences from community to community.

However, there are checks and balances for every force in nature, so that for every advantage gained by the new proposal, there will be equal disadvantages. One of the more serious objections, we believe, is that driving progress would advance only at the speed of the slowest member of the community of cities and towns, or alternatively at the absolute dictate of the department of highways. This could be just as unfortunate as the present situation

Unemployment And Prices . . .

OTTAWA — A substantial measure of unemployment appears to be the inescapable alternative to inflationary price increases. The Economic Council of Canada spent a year and a half trying to find some other alternative and came up with the final conclusion that it was "inherently difficult" to contain inflation and maintain high employment. The best it could suggest was a proper assessment of how much employment and output should be sacrificed in return for how much slow down in the price rise.

The Carter Royal Commission on Taxation with its tendency to make quite ludicrous assumptions and assertions on a number of facts of life has come up with a formula. If Canadians want to restrict increases on a year to year basis of 1.5 per cent to 2 per cent they must not keep more than 96.5 per cent of the labour force in jobs. But this will be achieved only if many measures are taken against those responsible for pushing up wage levels, something which Canada has never tried to do in peacetime and is unlikely to try.

The difficulty of holding the price line below what less than four per cent of the labour force is unemployed. This is the target used in the United States but the Commission believes that so long as Canada maintains its safety valve of immigration inflation can be contained at the lower figure.

This would not mean that the 3.5 per cent unemployment rate would stretch across Canada. It would mean that six per cent of the labour force in the Atlantic provinces would be unemployed, 4.6 per cent of the Quebec labour force and four per cent in British Columbia. Any attempt to increase aggregate demands to these regions in order to bring the unemployment rate down to the 3.5 per cent level would result in rapidly rising prices.

The Commission has studied over the experience of the 16 years from 1934 to 1963, reviewing at the same time the fiscal policies used to contain prices or create employment. In 1954 the average unemployment rate stood at 4.6 per cent and prices rose three years with the increase in 1951, the start of the upward cycle, only 0.2 per cent.

PRESSURE EASING OFF

Under a restrictive fiscal policy which started with the budget of last March and continued with December's mini-budgets prices are beginning to show a slight sign of flattening out. The Senate - Commons Committee on Prices which has just returned from a countrywide tour, and numerous who only recently were demonstrating in protest appeared much more satisfied. But the unemployment rate this winter will be 3½ per cent in January is higher than last year.

As a result of its outside the Council recommended the Senate - Commons Committee should recommend a substantial extension of the term of NHA mortgages. As much as 30 years is being suggested. Of Tofield's pioneers . . .

—Jim Francis

(Mrs. Grace Phillips)

A pioneer of the Tofield district and an active member of the community for many years was born in Tofield of a pioneer family.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Francis, Jim's parents were born in Mitchell, Ont., where they grew up and obtained their early education. Later, Mr Francis attended the University of Toronto from which he obtained his B.A. and M.A. degree. He taught for several years in Ontario before coming to Estevan, Sask., in 1891. Here he homesteaded for three years but found farming conditions somewhat less than ideal. Jim recalls his father's comment on Estevan as being, "If it wasn't blown out it was dried out." In 1894 the Francis family left for Edmonton.

In Edmonton, Mr. Francis taught for a year, but July 1895 found the Francis family again on the move. This time, they came to the Tofield district and settled on S. E. 1/4 of Sec. 34, Tp. 51, R. 19, just across the road (south) from the present residence of Mr and Mrs. John Wood. On this farm, Jim Francis was born. From here Mr. Francis drove five days a week to teach in the MacKenzie School No 234, one of the earliest schols in the province.

In July of 1897 the Francis family again moved, this time the move was to the site of their permanent home, at the south end of Beaverhill Lake on S.E 1/4 of Sec 4, Tp. 53, R 18. Here Mr and Mrs Francis spent the remainder of their lives and took an active part in community affairs. Mrs. Francis was particularly active in church work, the choir and the Ladies' Aid being her special fields of endeavor. Mr. Francis taught the Tofield School for several years. He was also interested in public affairs, and held office in several community organizations. Mr. and Mrs Francis raised a family of ten children, three of whom are still living. Mrs. Louise Lovell lives at White Rock, B.C., while Arthur and Jim still reside in Tofield.

Jim recalls that his first school days beginning in September, 1902, were spent in the log school house which was later used as the Methodist Church. Eventually a new school was built on the S.E. corner of the N.E. 1/4 of 36-50-19 which the Francis family attended. The next move of classrooms was to the storey above the R. O. Bird Hardware in Tofield and finally in the fall of 1909, the students moved into the first brick school in Tofield. Here Mr. James A. Younie was principal whom Jim remembers as a fine person and an excellent teacher. At the age of 13, Jim left school to assist int he work of the farm which included herding sheep. His pioneer blood called Jim in Nov. 1915 to seek a homestead about six miles northwest of the present Dawson Creek, B.C. At that time, the railroad reached only as far as Smoky River so to reach his homestead, Jim became involved in a 210-mile walk, via Grande Prairie. This jaunt took six days; with a 40 pound pack and a rifle to carry. Jim welcomed the end of the trail.

Once having reached his homestead, Jim says, "I bet the government $10 against a quarter-section of land that I could live on it for six months out of each of three years, break thirty acres of ground and build a suitable dwelling and I won my bet".

World War I was raging during these years and in 1918, Jim went overseas to spend till September 1919 in England. On his way home he received his discharge in Ottawa and went to see his Ontario relatives in Mitchell, Ont. While there, he met not only his relatives but his future wife who at time, was Miss Marie Skinner.

On returning to the west, Jim spent a short time on his homestead and "proved it up" as required by government regulations. In June, 1920, he returned to Tofield where in the fall of 1920, he became a member of the Tofield Agricultural Fair Board.

In 1927 he was elected an elder in the Tofield United church, an office he has held ever since. In 1933, he helped to form the Tofield Mutual Telephone Co., for which he was president and "trouble shooter" for several years.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis were married in 1923 and raised a family of six — five boys and a girl. The entire family was active in church and community affairs.

In 1957, the Francis family left their farm at the south end of Beaverhill Lake and came to live in Tofield where Jim has been engaged in carpentry. He was chairman of the building committee of the Tofield United Church when the congregation decided to build a new church, and it was under his direction that the present Tofield United Church was built. He has taught Sunday school for 30 years and been its superintendent. He was a charter member of the Tofield Historical Society and has been active in preparing exhibits for its museum. He is also a member of the Co-op and the Tofield Community League and the Tofield Curling Club.

On three occasions, he has been a delegate to the General Council of the United Church — in Sackville, N.B., in London, Ont., and Windsor, Ont.

Recently Mr. and Mrs. Francis have journeyed to Eastern Canada, to Dawson City and to England. On these trips Jim has been able to indulge his hobby of photography, the excellent results of which he is always willing to share with friends.

He was a member of the Jubilee Committee of 1959 which directed the activities of Tofield's Golden Jubilee year, he is now a member of Tofield's Centennial committee.

All his life, Jim Francis has been an integral part of the life of the Tofield area. He has always been generous in sharing his talents and energy. Two expressions heard frequently in the Tofield area are "Ask Jim Francis; he'll know" and "Ask Jim Francis; he'll help."

ATA sub-local presents Education Week program

(Mrs. G. Phillips)

With Dick Thiessen, president, as chairman, the Tofield sub-local of the A.T.A. presented its Education Week program in the school gym last Thursday night to a large audience.

Displays from elementary, junior high and senior high students lined the halls of the school and were viewed by the visitors before the program commenced. Centennial costumes were worn by students, staff and visitors. The school band, under direction of Staff-Sergeant Coates, presented several numbers, as did the high school chorus, directed by Mr. Theissen.

A quartet of high school students, composed of Wendy Arnett, Shirley Smith, Margaret Hallett and Frances Schultz, sang The Canada Song, as well as a French song, "Dominique". Miss Cumming's French class presented "Le Docteur Malgre Lui" in French. Mr. Ferguson's class presented a panel discussion, "Canada's Next Hundred Years", in which the influence of U.S.A. on Canada was evaluated. Mr. Norton directed a play depicting a school of bygone days, in which Ruth Fairbrother was the competent, if harrassed, teacher. Two speakers, Diane Ferguson and Jane Chorney chose as their topics, "Canada — One Hundred Years of Progress" and "Rhodesia, England's Problem", respectively. Mrs. Cuss directed a skit in which Bruce and Colin Bowsck demonstrated programmed learning.

Modern teaching aids were on display, and much interest was in evidence regarding the contribution they can make to efficiency in education.

Lunch was served by the social committee, consisting of Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Kennedy, Mr. Lampiet and Mr. Pullen, assisted by Donna Mosby, Evelyn Schmidt, Dorothy Baerg and Lillian Bater.

The evening's entertainment was arranged by Mrs. Carol Burka, chairman of the Education Committee of the Tofield sub-local of the A.T.A.

Rebekahs have 3-day assembly in city

(Mrs. E. Minors)

The Ryley Carwell Rebekah Lodge No. 55 was represented by their delegate, Mrs. R. N. Whitson at a three day assembly in the Macdonald Hotel in Edmonton. Mrs. Dorthy Clark and Mrs. Hazel Patterson of Tofield were among the over 354 delegates who registered for the assembly.

Mrs. Florence Grant of Winnipeg is president. Mrs. Percy E. Thurston of Regina addressed the gathering, saying the Rebekah assembly used to be classed as a secret organization but are not anymore. The only thing secret within the organization are the sign words to gain admittance, and pass words. They make no secret of their projects, said the representative of the International Association of Rebekah Assemblies.

R. Routledge an honor student of Lougheed spoke on his trip to the United Nations Pilgrimage for Youth. His worship Mayor V. M. Dantzer of Edmonton gave a welcoming address at the banquet and several other speakers addressed the assembly.

would approve the purchase of a breathing apparatus at their next Council meeting. Two such apparatus' are necessary, and the Rural Fire Department had agreed to purchase one providing the local fire department did the same. Also, he wished to be authorized to appoint about 10 auxiliary firemen to be available when needed, and asked if some method of answering service could be arranged by the Town. Hans Christensen inquired about the Fire Siren not being used. Mr. Prinsen replied that he preferred not using the siren because cars and people jammed the roadways, making it difficult for the firemen to do their job properly.

Mrs. Mabel Boyles, welfare officer for the Town of Tofield, reported that the department had processed nine welfare applications, with more than half not qualifying for assistance. Food hampers were distributed to four families at Christmas, donated by local organizations.

The Emergency Measures report was read by Father Scriven, local ex-officio. In this a successful rescue course was offered to all firemen and on July 1, a demonstration as a result of the course, was viewed by hundreds of persons. Father Scriven stated that Tofield was next on the list for a Warning Siren which would be controlled by Army Headquarters.

COMMITTEE REPORTS

Finance Committee report by Clr. A. Herndon stated that although a great deal of work had been done in 1966, the town's finances were being built up so that no borrowing would be necessary in 1967. The payment of taxes was working out to the advantage of the ratepayers as well as the Town.

CRIME INCREASES

Police and Bylaws Committee report was read by Const. J. Wall. The Police Department showed an increase in all phases of violations except under the Criminal Code. The greatest increase was under the Liquor Control Act, with the Vehicles and Highways Traffic Act convictions running a close second. Thus the total fines collected were $2,015, as compared to $1,325 the previous year. Water and Light Commissioner report given by Clr. Swift stated that the original pump installed in 1954 had been replaced. Also a new chlorinator was installed at the treatment plant. The original lines were gradually being replaced as required by a better grade material. Town Property Committee report, read by Clr. Pittet, informed the ratepayers that improvements had been made at the Skating Rink, and also at the Tofield Cemetery.

ROADS PROGRAM

Public Works Committee report by Clr. Herndon revealed the year's work, which had included two blocks of sidewalks and curb and gutter, the building up of 4th Avenue East and the oiling of approximately 22 blocks of streets in Tofield. The ratepayers present urged Council to implement the dust - laying program again this year, with perhaps a second application to Main Street. Clr. Herndon stated that his department hoped to improve the South entry from Highway 14 into Town this coming year and also to continue with the sidewalk program.

MAYOR'S REPORT

Mayor Dr. W. H. Freebury took this opportunity to thank Mrs. M. Boyles, George McFadzean, J. E. Stinson, Father Scriven, Ed Watson and the Library Staff, and the Volunteer Fire Department for the many hours of work donated for the welfare of the Town of Tofield. Dr. Freebury went on to compare 1966 and 1965. Although the mill rate had remained at 62 mills, a greater revenue was realized from property tax in 1966 due to a higher taxable assessment. But also more arrears were unpaid at the end of the year. The Municipal Assistance Grant from the Provincial Government was increased by $2,328, but the Education requisitions were increased by $3,225 for 1966. Dr. Freebury urged ratepayers to support the local business firms so that Tofield may survive the trend toward large centralized communities. As Centennial Committee Chairman, he also wished to thank the people of Tofield for the excellent co-operation received concerning Centennial plans.

L. E. Hunter felt the Council should be given a vote of thanks for the many improvements to the Town in 1966 and also for retaining the mill rate at 62 mills at a time when costs are increasing so rapidly. He felt that if Tofield is to survive the trend toward urban centralization, the sewers and paving of Main Street would have to be seriously considered very soon.

Fun with the NHL

The following little item provided a bit of fun for one of our readers who worked it out from about thirty greats in the world of the National Hockey League. It's enough fun to pass it on.

HAY there! Let me tell you a STORY about a PLANTE my friend Chuck has in his greenhouse. It is called LARGE CANADIENNE, a beautiful Canadian lilac, which he bought at a great PRICE When it was YOUNG it CROUSSEAU well, but it EXIN-

ICKI now. Yesterday I SAWCHUCK, full of MORRIS, and looking SELKE and discouraged. We walked across the GARDENS to the small SHACK where he grows his flowers. He unlocked the door, put the KEON the shelf, and with an ARMSTRONG last gentle, pulled the ORLAN CUEFENBACK. The PLANTE, once a bright KELLY GREENE, was still TALBOT BROWN and THEMBLAY. MILLMAN, it is DUFF to know HOWE to treat it. Should it be DOUGLAS near the roots and MOORE farther away? Should we JACQUE it up and have it STAPLETON the WALL.

ORR ELLIS HEWITT DOWN and though he could shout one word but it start over? It is a GAMBLE either way. Chuck feels so HULA.

Holden hockey season closes

The 1966 - 67 hockey season draws to a close after a very successful season Players of the Tiny Mites and Pee-Wee teams look back on one of the best hockey seasons Holden has ever known.

The Pee-Wees (11-12 years old), coached by Paul Lanteen and Bruce MacDonnell, reached the semi-finals, but lost to Viking, who went on to win the Black Diamond Trophy, donated by Black Sales and Services of Holden.

The Tiny Mites (10 years and under), coached by Dennis Cooper and Don McFadyen, reached the finals by defeating the Tofield entry in the semi - finals. However, the Viking team defeated Holden in the third game of the best-of-three series. The Mite trophy was donated by the Senate Grain Co.

The teams took part in a number of exhibition games, including the towns of Vegreville and Devon. Players of the Mite team will always remember the trip to Devon on March 11, where they were treated royally by the Devon Women's Institute, who provided the boys with lunch before the game and a treat for each boy for the trip home. This act of kindness does not go unnoticed, and many thanks are due this ladies' organization of Devon. The team was victorious at Devon, as well as in most of the games played, with one player scoring over 20 goals.

The teams and coaches wish to thank the Ellis Lodge for providing the ice, Mr. Hanovsky the caretaker, and all who helped make hockey the success it was during the past year.

Winter Carnival proves successful

Over 300 hungry people started the Tofield Winter Carnival off with a good feed of pancakes on Sunday morning, as the Lions and their wives "slaved" over the hot stove in the curling rink. The day's activities then advanced to power toboggan races, sky diving, hockey and broomball. The mixed bonspiel in progress kept many returning to the warmth of the curling rink, and youngsters enjoyed skating during the afternoon.

The power toboggan races proved very popular and drew entrants from Edmonton, Camrose, Mulhurst, and as far away as Calgary. The class D stock event was won by Mike Gallin, driver in the Men's Oval race event. Mike then entered in the Cross-country and again captured first in the same classification. In the Ladies' Stock oval race, Betsy-Ann Gallinger placed first, and second in the ladies' modified oval race.

Trophies for the events were donated by Robinson's, Palm Dairies, Killearn Farms, John Widynowski, Ed Kagsler, John's TV, Crown Lumber, Graham's Atlas, Tofield Cafe, Verner's Bakery, Gabe Pelzer and Tofield Texaco.

SKY DIVING THRILLING

Three divers landed right "on target" at the sky diving exhibition. Their progress could easily be traced by ... of the smoke bombs carried... for identification.

In the hockey games, the Viking crew downed the Gas Line Aldators to a score of 6-5, and Kingman Old Timers bumbled Tofield Oil Timers by a score of 8-2.

The Mothers and Sons broomball game ended in a mad, cramming tie, 6-6. Many the ... that didn't "stir" for supper!

The Tofield Lions were pleased and grateful for the excellent turn-out to their first Winter Carnival, and expressed sincere thanks to the firemen for their aid in handling the parking problem.

TALENT NIGHT POSTPONED TO APRIL 1

The Tofield 4-H Talent Night, scheduled for March 17, will be held on Wednesday, April 5th, at 8:00 p.m. It will consist of a variety of twenty-three acts, and Bev Monroe will still be master of ceremonies

The program will be enjoyed by everyone, as some excellent acts have been lined up.

Teachers and county co-sponsor leadership training program

The growing cooperation between the teachers of Beaver County and the peoples elected representatives is shown by the announcement that th. Local ATA and the School committee of Beaver County wih each sponsor a teacher to a Leadership Course to be held on April 3, 4, and 7 at Barnett House, head office of the Alberta Teacher's Association in Edmonton.

These two teachers will, along with other duties, return to their schools and provide leadership for teachers in the county schools who are co-operating in the Intern Teaching Program.

Mr. Marvin Bruce, Superintendent of School for the County of Beaver, points out that there will be some fifteen or twenty new teachers undergoing a period of internship in county schools.

First, there is a 35-day period during which time new teachers who are coming on staff in September will be working in the classroom under the guidance of experienced teachers co-operating, with the program.

There is also a 10-day program for people at the University who have not yet undergone a period of student teaching. With these, the time spent in the classroom is of vital importance, giving the student a chance to see if he wishes to continue on as a teacher.

Spokesmen for the Alberta Teachers' Association have expressed the hope that the time spent in Edmonton by the two county teachers will enable them to return and give their colleagues a new insight into what is at present being taught at University concerning the science of teaching.

Mr. T. F. Rieger feels that a "new look" must be taken at Education. Teachers, both new and experienced, need to be confronted with their professional responsibilities, particularly as it relates to the classroom.

Furthermore, the new teachers need, among other things, to be given some sort of reason for the ... unfamiliar lists of non-teaching duties which are theirs.

Another spokesman pointed out that this program is an example where the Alberta Teachers' Association, the Alberta School Trustees' Association, the Department of Education, and the University of Alberta are working together in harmony.

The cost of sending the two teachers from the county is $100, shared equally by the Local Alberta Teachers' Association and the School Committee for Beaver County.

Winter Carnival proves successful

Over 300 hungry people started the Tofield Winter Carnival off with a good feed of pancakes on Sunday morning, as the Lions and their wives "slaved" over the hot stove in the curling rink. The day's activities then advanced to power toboggan races, sky diving, hockey and broomball. The mixed bonspiel in progress kept many returning to the warmth of the curling rink, and youngsters enjoyed skating during the afternoon.

The power toboggan races proved very popular and drew entrants from Edmonton, Camrose, Mulhurst, and as far away as Calgary. The class D stock event was won by Mike Gallinger in the Men's Oval race event. Mike then entered in the Cross-country and again captured first in the same classification. In the Ladies' Stock oval race, Betty-Ann Gallinger placed first, and second in the ladies' modified oval race.

Trophies for the events were donated by Robinson's, Palm Dairies, Kilsaara Farms, John Wadynowski, Ed Repsher, John's TV, Crown Lumber, Graham Allen, Tofield Cafe, Varner's Bakery, Gabe P'Cat and Tofield Texaco.

SKY DIVING THRILLING

Three divers landed right "on target" at the sky diving exhibition. The divers were flown to a height of 5,000 feet; they did a free fall for 30 seconds before pulling the rip cord, and then landed on a small circle placed in the ball diamond. The purpose could easily be traced, however, of the smoke bombs carried, for identification.

In the hockey games, the Viking crew downed the Gas Line Allstars to a score of 6-0, and Kingman Old Timers bumbled Tofield Oldtimers by a score of 8-3.

The Mothers and Sons broomball game ended in a mad, cramoling tie, 6-6. Many the sons that didn't "act" for supper!

The Tofield Lions were pleased and grateful for the excellent turn-out to their first Winter Carnival, and expressed sincere thanks to the firemen for their aid in handling the parking problem.

Bonspiels mark end of season

(Mrs. R. Minors)

The Ryley Curling Club's secretary D. Abercrombie reports an active agenda for the next several weeks. This coming weekend March 24 and 25 a 16 Cash Spiel will be held. Family curling will replace the Father and Son bonspiel this year. In this spiel, starting March 27 fathers and mothers are invited to take brooms in hand, and if you have not a son or daughter under 16 years of age you will be able to adopt one for this spiel. Some 24 entries are anticipated and it is hoped to see many families out for real fun. A banquet will climax this spiel.

Friday evening, March 31 will see the Ladies' Bonspiel get un-

TALENT NIGHT POSTPONED TO APRIL 5

The Tofield 4-H Talent Night, scheduled for March 17, will be held on Wednesday, April 5th, at 8:00 p.m. It will consist of a variety of twenty-three acts, and Bev Monroe will still be master of ceremonies.

The program will be enjoyed by everyone, as some excellent acts have been lined up.

Teachers and county co-sponsor leadership training program

The growing cooperation between the teachers of Beaver County and the peoples elected representatives is shown by the announcement that the Local ATA and the School committee of Beaver County will each sponsor a teacher to a Leadership Course to be held on April 3, 4, and 7 at Barnett House, head office of the Alberta Teacher's Association in Edmonton.

These two teachers will, along with other duties, return to their schools and provide leadership for teachers in the county schools who are co-operating in the Intern Teaching Program.

Mr. Marvin Bruce, Superintendent of School for the County of Beaver, points out that there will be some fifteen or twenty new teachers undergoing a period of internship in county schools.

First, there is a 25-day period during which time new teachers who are coming on staff in September will be working in the classroom under the guidance of experienced teachers co-operating with the program.

There is also a 15-day program for people at the University who have not yet undergone a period of student teaching With these, the time spent in the classroom is of vital importance, giving the student a chance to see if he wishes to continue on as a teacher.

Spokesman for the Alberta Teachers' Association have expressed the hope that the time spent in Edmonton by the two county teachers will enable them to return and give their colleagues a new insight into what is at present being taught at University concerning the science of teaching.

Mr. T. F. Hieger feels that a "new look" must be taken at Education. Teachers, both new and experienced, need to be confronted with their professional responsibilities, particularly as it relates to the classroom.

Furthermore, the new teachers need, among other things, to be given some sort of reason for the multifarious lists of non-teaching duties which are theirs.

Another spokesman pointed out that this program is an example where the Alberta Teachers' Association, the Alberta School Trustees' Association, the Department of Education, and the University of Alberta are working together in harmony.

The cost of sending the two teachers from the county is $100, shared equally by the Local Teachers' Association and the School Committee for Beaver County.

This week we'll support

Readers of this column probably are aware of our aversion in general to the hundreds of 'weeks' that various groups in the country mark from time to time, covering almost the entire range from National Fly to the Moon Week to National Three for a Dollar Week.

But we were delighted at one suggested recently by The Strathmore Standard in an editorial column which says in part "The world talks of man's best friend being dogs or horses. Have you ever considered what is probably the most useful of all is affectionately known as Granny. This creature really comes into her own when daughter or daughter-in-law is indisposed— you know, sick or having another grandchild.

Father, that great stalwart of any family, suddenly realizes that the housekeeper known as 'wife' is taking off to hospital. The first reaction is 'OK, that's fine, don't worry We'll be alright.' Second thoughts follow very fast but our intrepid husband has to put on a good face. 'Beds' says he, 'we'll make 'em or at least the kids can make their own.'

Eating suddenly becomes a problem. 'I'll open a can of beans.' Wife sarcastically, 'Every day, three times a day?' Husband on the defensive says 'Heck, we like beans.'

Upon reflection, the erstwhile hero comes up with the solution.

'Hey' Just got an idea. What about phoning Granny?' Problem immediately solved

This newspaper respectfully suggests that instead of all these weeks that honor everything from Teamsters' Union, to National Milk Week, we as Canadians should have a week known as 'Good Old Granny Week

The business of words

It's common to think of words as the stock-in-trade of politicians while they are running for office, and many of them continue to make exceedingly lengthy speeches after they're elected, too. But we don't always think of them as rushing to get their words into print.

So it comes as a bit of a surprise to see the amazingly heavy load of paper work coming out of this year's sessions of the Alberta Legislature. There are not as many bills this year as last, we think, nor maybe the year before. However, some of the bills presented are unusually long, and for that matter, involved.

It's no wonder for instance that general objection has been expressed to the rapid passing of the new Municipal Act, for it runs to more than 200 pages. And somewhere in those 200 pages are clauses which are going to affect the future of a lot of communities across the province.

There's a new Municipal Taxation Act, with nearly 80 pages, a new Securities Act, with 90 pages, a new Highway Traffic Act, with slightly over the 100, and a white paper tabled this week on government policy and outlook which runs to a couple of hundred pages

There may be very few changes in the Acts introduced, just sort of bringing them into line with accepted procedures of the day, but there could be some really serious new introductions, slipped in accidentally or intentionally with the hope of not too much attention being focussed on the changes Still, it's the job of that little corporal's guard of an opposition that we elected to scout through all this paper and try to be sure everything's in order.

Really boning up on that much paper, and trying to keep up with other responsibilities of being a member, can be really tough for anybody. Little wonder that personalities sometimes extend a little beyond the bounds of propriety.

Not Simon pure

Canadians have long prided themselves on having a judicial system that is far fairer and much less corrupt than that of the United States, but according to a survey printed in next month's issue of Maclean's Magazine, there are several basic areas where individual Americans enjoy far more legal rights than do Canadians.

Apparently some of the legal safeguards most of us have always assumed were automatic just don't exist in actual fact. For instance, there is no onus on the police to tell a suspect he is entitled to have his lawyer with him in the station house, apparently There is nothing wrong if the police fail to make it clear to a suspect that he is under arrest. And even if evidence is discovered illegally by the police, the evidence can still be used in court against the suspect.

The trouble with this sort of system is that the people who most need the protection of these safeguards are those who are least likely to be in the know, the so-called 'little guy' who oftentimes becomes involved with the law more through a combination of bad luck and bad judgment than bad intentions. But the type from whom society most needs protection, and the type which offers most trouble to the police forces is that which intends to run beyond the edge of the law and which usually knows most of the devices available to him not only for protection, but for stalling as well

We're thoroughly convinced that law enforcement forces need all the help we can reasonably give them in their efforts to protect us And we're not at all convinced they're getting all that help now All the same, when a client is their guest at the police station they're on home ground, and there should be legal safeguards to insure certain rights for private citizens too

SPENDING SPREE

OTTAWA. — Canadians appear to be heading into another round of tax increases.

The bad news broke over their heads as most of them were in the throes of wrestling with their 1966 income tax returns

Revenue Minister E. J. Benson tabled the main estimates in the Commons in mid - March They disclosed that the Federal Government is heading into a record spending year in 1967-68. It will need the taxpayers more than $11 billion!

The Ma[illegible] estimated for the fiscal year that ends April 1 total 10 billion 300 million in addition Ottawa will pay out approximately $1,500,000,000 in old age security payments and pensions under the new guaranteed income plan for the aged.

The massive increase in spending is the largest in peacetime history The new outlays are of such a size that Finance Minister Mitchell Sharp may be forced to resort to new tax increases in his coming Budget.

The Budget is expected to be introduced in April it will be a "hold-the-line" budget to the federal officials and the provincial officials study and meet later in the year to examine the Carter Royal Commission proposals for overhauling the taxation setup in Canada The new Budget is not expected to implement recommendations of the Carter Commission. It is far too early

Mr Sharp wants the people of Canada, the provincial officials and the municipal officials together with organizations, to weigh the findings of the Carter Commission. He expects a lot of debate and study before the Federal Government is prepared to start moving on the recommendations Possibly the Budget in 1968 might make a start towards implementing some of the Commission's proposals.

Meantime, faced with the large increase in governmental expenditure the Financial Minister will have to take into account how he is to raise the funds to meet the higher bills.

Despite the Finance Minister's declaration that he had to apply the brakes last year to hold down the inflationary pressures the Government's spending in the year 1967-68 has soared because of rising wages and costs for programs already approved by Parliament

On the same day that the Revenue Minister tabled the estimates the annual report of the Bank of Canada was issued In it the Governor of the Central Bank, Louis Rasminsky issued a blunt warning to the Canadian people and their governments that "for much of the last two years we have overlooked the economy" He warned serious concern over a pattern of exorbitant wage increases unaccompanied by compensating increases in productivity

Mr. Rasminsky was sharply critical of Canada's governments for increasing their spending commitments at a much faster pace than their revenues could accommodate He noted with concern that the Canadian economy had experienced last year "the greatest increase in prices since the [illegible]

The Governor said that it was necessary for Canada to achieve [illegible] and a cost-price performance of the sort prevailing in the United States [illegible] to avoid serious difficulties. He said that for some time past Canada has been following a course of [illegible] standard. The Governor warned such views do not necessarily reflect those of the whole Government

Mr Rasminsky [illegible] it has to be made to find that such [illegible] patterns do exist. It is essential that these patterns be realistic There is very little to be said in favour of income negotiations, often difficult, prolonged and costly to all concerned, which lead to agreements that are bound to be greatly amended in their final effect by subsequent increases in prices.

"As a matter of simple economic arithmetic the real income of the community is inevitably limited by the amounts we can in fact produce You cannot get a quart of wine out of a pint pot" — said the Governor

He warned that the average increase in wage and salary rates last year was far in excess of any reasonable expansion of the average annual increase of one per cent per worker He said it was even further above the "disappointingly small gain" in manufacturing productivity which Canada had in fact achieved last year. He sounded a strong note of caution as to how there were definite limits to the economy's ability to absorb such shocks.

The Canadian taxpayer forking over his hard-earned income to pay income taxes is acutely aware of what the wage increases and other outlays can do in imposing a drain on his income through the payment of higher taxes

For example, in the main estimates the defence budget for 1967-68 is estimated at $[illegible] 000,000, an increase of $[illegible] 000,000 over the fiscal year ending March 31, 1967 The defence expenditures are the highest since 1952-53

But spending on equipment in the fiscal year 1967-68 will be less than was estimated for 1966-67, but more than was actually spent. This anomaly is explained by the fact that some spending that had been planned for equipment last year was postponed. The higher defence bill is due to pay increases and higher payments into pensions. The Defence Department in 1966-67 seriously underestimated the government's contributions to the armed forces superannuation account Instead of the estimated $79,469,775 contribution the government has had to pump in an estimated $138,342,300 and in 1967-68 will contribute $141,182,434.

Two armed forces pay increases that occurred in the last two years will increase spending on wages and salaries by $71.3 million.

It is apparent that Defence Minister Paul Hellyer's goal under integration to reduce or maintain operating costs while spending more on equipment is not being realized at this time. That was evident from the estimates.

Centennial celebrations will cost the Federal Government more than $30,000,000 in 1967-68.

THE FUTURE

When a youth just out of my teens I caught conversation. And have suffered with it to a degree ever since And last week I attended, as a delegate, the largest convention of all of them, from teenagers to adults, taking part. At one session, in one of the largest convention halls in greater Edmonton, the hall was filled But what interested me the most was that it had the greatest percentage of youth attending any convention I had ever attended. In fact some of them began to take part with the adoption of the agenda.

We often hear "our civilization is going to the dogs" for youth are taking no interest in public affairs but when they take the form action and interest that they did there we have no need to fear the future

(Mrs. G. N. Taylor)

Some 45 guests were present at the Holden Chamber of Commerce supper held March 7th at the Community Hall, when a most enthusiastic group reviewed reports on the past year's activities and made plans for the coming year.

A committee of 10 representatives from various local organizations was formed to plan and co-ordinate centennial activities for the village Discussions pertinent to the matter took place, and suggestions were made. Mrs. Campbell gave ideas that other villages were using, that could possibly be used here A meeting of the committee was called the following Tuesday at the High School to more fully discuss the centennial plans.

At the March 7th meeting one of those submitting reports was Earl Hardy from the school, who stated that the students will be presenting an outdoor pageant, and also making a marker to commemorate the old Battleford trail This affair will be open to the public, and will be held sometime in June Watch for further announcements concerning this.

On the same day that the Revenue Minister tabled the estimates the annual report of the Bank of Canada was issued. In it the Governor of the Central Bank, Louis Rasminsky issued a blunt warning to the Canadian people and their governments that "for much of the last two years we have overloaded the economy". He voiced serious concern over a pattern of exorbitant wage increases unaccompanied by compensating increases in productivity.

Mr. Rasminsky was sharply critical of Canada's governments for increasing their spending commitments at a much faster pace than their revenues could accommodate. He noted with concern that the Canadian economy had experienced last year "the sharpest increase in prices since the mid-1950's".

The Governor said that it was necessary for Canada to achieve "at least as good" a cost-price performance as the cost-price performance of the United States "if we are to avoid serious difficulties". He said that for some time now Canada has been falling short of this standard. The Governor viewed with concern [illegible] approval the steep increase [illegible] term that had been put in train.

Said Mr. Rasminsky: "It has to be borne in mind that [illegible] with or without [illegible] present [illegible] expectations [illegible] patterns be realistic. There is very little to be said in favour [illegible] of income negotiations, often difficult, prolonged and costly to all concerned, which lead to agreements that are bound to be greatly amended in their final effect by subsequent increases in prices.

"As a matter of simple economic arithmetic the real income of the community is inevitably limited by the amounts we can in fact produce. You cannot get a quart of wine out of a pint jug!" said the Governor.

He warned that the average increase in wage and salary rates last year was far in excess of any reasonable estimate of the average annual increase of output per worker. He said it was even further above the "disappointingly small gain" in non-farm productivity which Canada had in fact achieved last year. He sounded a strong note of caution when he said there were definite limits to the economy's ability to absorb such shocks.

The Canadian taxpayer forking over his hard-earned money to pay income taxes is acutely aware of what the wage increases and other costs can do in imposing a drain on his income through the payment of higher taxes.

For example, in the main estimates the defence budget for 1967-68 is estimated at $1,666,000,000, an increase of $115,300,000 over the fiscal year ending March 31, 1967. The defence expenditures are the highest since 1956-57.

But spending on equipment in the fiscal year 1967-68 will be less than was estimated for 1966-67, but more than was actually spent. This anomaly is explained by the fact that some spending that had been planned for equipment last year was postponed. The higher defence bill is due to pay increases and higher payments into pensions. The Defence Department in 1966-67 seriously underestimated the government's contribution to the armed forces superannuation account. Instead of the estimated $79,400,772 contribution the government had to pump in an estimated $138,347,500 and in 1967-68 will contribute $141,182,634.

Two armed forces pay increases that occurred in the last two years will increase spending on wages and salaries by $71.3 million.

It is apparent that Defence Minister Paul Hellyer's goal under integration to reduce or maintain operating costs while spending more on equipment is not being realized at this time. That was evident from the estimates.

Centennial celebrations will cost the Federal Government more than $50 000 000 in 1967-68.

Vanier praises Declaration of 32 churches

When the late Governor General Georges P. Vanier formally accepted the Centennial Declaration of the Canadian Interfaith Conference just two weeks before his death, one of his last official functions, it was at a simple, moving ceremony at Government House, climaxing several months of careful planning in which he played an active part.

During the late fall months, even during his hospitalization, he took time to consider some of the proposals regarding this Declaration, conveyed back and forth through his secretary, Mr. Esmond Butler. Later, while convalescing at home, he invited the Chairman of the Canadian Interfaith Conference, Mr. Lavy M. Becker, for private discussions to finalize the format of the Declaration.

He had expressed the wish to formally receive a framed copy of the Declaration in the last week of December, so that he might comment on it publicly as the Centennial year was about to begin. Unfortunately, this event had to be postponed.

Thus it was that he received Mr. Becker, Mr. John Fisher, Father John Keating, Rev. Keith Woollard, Father Jean Brunelle and Mrs. Eve Gilstorf on February 14th. He was deeply moved by the fact that all of the 24 faiths in Canada had been able to find a basis for co-operation. He considered it an historic event, for only Canada had succeeded in such an effort. He was delighted to see the publication of an Anthology of Prayer in the two languages native to him and expressive of common religious concepts. But, above all, he thrilled to the 180 simple words of the Declaration, for they reflected the most important concepts of Canada which he held dear. . . . "spiritual and moral foundations" . . . "free to fulfill their destiny under God" . . . "many origins—sharing a common country" . . . "in brotherhood—in common pursuit of righteousness" . . . "we shall think not of ourselves alone, but of all the people of the world".

Small wonder, then, that he and Madame Vanier were pleased to act as Patrons of the Canadian Interfaith Conference and that they were so wholehearted in allowing their names, indeed their signatures, to be attached to this beautiful and meaningful Declaration.

As tribute to him, and as constant reminder of his great human qualities, Canadian families will each wish to have a copy of this Declaration in their homes. In either 11" x 8" or the large 11" x 16", it can be purchased from the Canadian Interfaith Conference, 227 Laurier Ave West, Ottawa, or through your church.

Guidelines for farmers in the use of fertilizers

Fertilizer has been very profitable in this district and it would be unfortunate if farmers did not take advantage of them.

There are certain guidelines in the use of fertilizers. These guidelines for Solonetzic soils and the reasons for them are as follows

(1) Use 11-48-0 at 30 - 40 pounds per acre for wheat on fallow. This low nitrogen fertilizer is suitable because the soil releases a good deal of nitrogen during the fallow year, if the fallow is well kept. Too much of this nutrient would cause lodging, delayed maturity, etc. This fertilizer contains considerable phosphorous which balances the high soil nitrogen and provides for high yields with early maturity.

(2) Use 27-14-0 or 23-23-0 at 70-80 pounds per acre for stubble crops. These fertilizers are high in nitrogen and replenish the supply of this element removed by the fallow crop and tied up in the break down of straw from the crop stubble. In general they provide enough phosphorous to allow a good crop yield within the limits of moisture restriction, etc. Early maturity is not usually a problem with oats and barley, the common stubble crops.

(3) Use 33.5-0-0, 21-0-0, Urea, or some other source of nitrogen at a rate equal to 200 pounds of 33.5-0-0 per acre for hay land. The soils of this area have been shown to be poor suppliers of nitrogen, a nutrient that must be present in large quantity for hay production.

Some may wonder why I write this release when all a farmer has to do is send a soil sample away for analysis. For a strong and prosperous agriculture, I feel that farmers should come to the point where they have their soils analyzed, compare the results with those for productive soils, and make their own decisions on fertilizer use. In the meantime, the guidelines suggested above will give most farmers in this area a good level of production.

The following points should be in each farmer's mind

1. Fertilizer use will not pay every year but on the average will be very profitable. It cannot overcome severe drought, frost, etc.

2. Fertilizer supplements but will not substitute for good farming.

(3) Nitrogen stimulates general plant growth and tends to delay maturity. Nearly all of the nitrogen in the soil is in the organic matter and much of it gets tied up in the breakdown trash. My

The amount of fertilizer is shown by the first figure in the formula: 33.5-0-0, 11-48-0, 16-20-0, etc.

(4) Phosphate also stimulates general growth, but plays an additional key role in the setting of seed and hastening of plant maturity. The amount in a fertilizer is shown by the second figure in the formula: 11-48-0, 16-20-0, 27-14-0, etc.

(5) The third and subsequent figures in a formula are reserved for potassium and sulphur, neither of which has been shown to be critical in this district. However, a farmer who simply can't get satisfactory yields of cereal crops under good weather conditions and after applying nitrogen and phosphate, would be well advised to buy a bag of muriate of potash and spread it over a quarter of an acre just before or just after seeding his crop. To make such a test might cost $5.00, but might gain hundreds of dollars in subsequent years.

This article is not intended in any way to deny the value of soil testing. It is intended as a guide to that group of farmers in this area, who are trying to produce maximum profits from crop production. Some recommendations coming from the Soil Test Laboratory call for the separate application of 33.5-0-0 and 11-48-0 for stubble crop production. The failure to apply one or the other would cause serious losses and thus a farmer who has not the time or equipment for making double application may go directly to the guidelines I have presented.

There is, in my opinion, no substitute for a farmer's personal decision based on a sound knowledge of principles involved. Most primary producers and manufacturers operate in this way. They get the best information available and apply it in the light of their own knowledge of their operating conditions.

(Mrs. R. Misera)

RYLEY.—In this, our Centennial year, the Ryley 4-H Dairy Club is celebrating its 20th year in operation. Under the leadership of Edwin M. Magneson, the Club was formed in 1947. R. Forming the first adult committee were Mike Seniuk, Noah Solberg, Johnny Knudslien, R. Westmancoat and E. Magneson.

Advice on weed control from Lacombe specialist

The weed control workshop in the provincial building, March 15, under the aegis of the district agriculturist's office, was attended by about 30 people. E. A. Havlik, agricultural fieldman, explained the extensive weed control program in the County of Camrose. In the northern part of the county the buckwheat weeds gave cause for economic concern, he said, and in the southern part green foxtail, or wild millet, was prevalent, while hemp nettle and cornspurry were on the increase.

Guest speaker was H. A. Friesen, weed control research specialist with the Lacombe Experimental Farm. Weeds, he said, need hydrogen and are efficient in getting it; they have high water requirements and the Spring is the critical time when, with moisture, they develop more rapidly than crops and cause heavy loss to the farmer.

"What to do about them?" asked Mr. Friesen. Summerfallowing used to be common, but has been discouraged in this area, where the tendency has been to grow crop after crop and depend upon fertilizers. Delayed seeding was not new and was effective with weeds like the buckwheat. But tilling stubble or fallow in the Spring meant late seeding of early maturing crops with lower yields.

The cost of wild oat chemicals was quite high, said Mr. Friesen, running $4 per acre for Avadex and $3 for Carbyne. He demonstrated on the blackboard how the former requires to be worked into the soil with the crop seeds under the treated layer. It needs moisture to make it work. The amount recommended for this area is one and a quarter pounds per acre.

Results with Avadex on stubble were variable and it was not recommended in this area. It must be sprayed early in Spring before wild oats shoot up. Mr. Friesen said they were working at Lacombe to develop granular forms of Avadex for use on stubble.

Carbyne, Mr. Friesen explained, was a chemical that required to be in contact with the wild oat when it was in the two-leaf stage, and the spray should be as fine as possible. The effect was gradual and the weed here and there might put up a tall shoot and seed. Nevertheless, he said, these chemicals can save enough grain to be worthwhile. He pointed out that chemicals did not increase yields, only stop loss of yield. He answered the question, "Will burning straw kill wild oats?" by replying that if there was a heavy swath and the fire moved slowly, it might well do so, especially in the Spring, as later on the wild oats are buried, but a fast burning fire would not kill them.

After coffee and doughnuts were served through the courtesy of Camrose Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Friesen gave the second part of his talk. He dealt with buckwheat, smartweed and hemp nettle. These, he said, were tolerant to the commonly used 2-4D and MCP. He recommended instead, new chemicals available, Banvel 2, Buckril M and Bromnil for their control. The last two, he said, showed a high degree of crop tolerance and were safer than 2-4D.

Lakeshore - McKenzie news items

(E. Wood)

Joe McLennan returned last weekend from Florida where he had been on a three week trip with his sister and mother.

The Emil Tiedemann's were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Tiedemann's home at Deville on Sunday.

Harold Wetherill left on Monday morning for Calgary with Mr. and Mrs. Verlyn Moss who were going to visit their daughter, Marilyn and family and attended the spring bull show and sale. Harold had shipped several bulls to the sale on Saturday with Andy Hellberg in charge. He remained in Calgary till after they were sold and Mr. and Mrs. Moss returned Tuesday evening.

The 4-H talent show that was scheduled for St. Patrick's Day was cancelled after the storm last week blocked county roads. The club decided to hold their event Wednesday, April 5, hoping for favorable weather and road conditions then.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Miller of Stony Plain motored here Tuesday to spend the afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Wood.

Mrs. Eaton drove to Tofield from Edmonton last Saturday on business but roads were blocked to the farm, so she returned to visit for awhile longer with her sons Leroy in Edmonton and Walter at Seba Beach. We hope she will be back at the farm next week in time to report the news items anyone may have.

SHE EARNED IT

"Young man," the doctor exclaimed to his convalescing patient, "you owe your remarkable recovery to your wife's tender care."

"Glad to hear you admit it, doctor," came the cheerful rejoinder. "That being the case, I'll just make out the cheque to the little woman."

Excellent school displays viewed by many visitors

Open House was held at Holden School, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., March 9, with Gail Josey in charge of the guest book.

Visitors then participated in a tour of the building and classrooms, where all grades displayed their work and other projects, and a display of school equipment and a tour of the library and biology and chemistry labs followed.

Most of the classrooms were decorated with Centennial emblems and a film "Willie Catches On" was shown twice during the evening. Grade six girls under the supervision of Mr R. Bell gave a gymnastic display, with Wendy Hooper, Denise Good, Linda Scherger, Dianne McDonall, Laura Wright, Cheryl Malick, Barbara Schwanke and Denise Rurka demonstrating.

Under the supervision of Mr. J. Fornal, Geraldine Hrabec then showed how a rabbit was dissected in the Biology lab. Mr. Fornal also tested the blood of anyone who wished to know their type.

The copper mural made by the high school students under the supervision of Mr. Earl Hardy, was on display and visitors were advised that this mural had been taken to the recent teachers convention for display and was greatly admired.

Another note-worthy display was the paper mache crests of all the provinces in Canada, and painted in their original colors, in Mrs. Grace Appleby's room. These were also praised at the convention.

Miss Ethel Brown, grade two teacher had a display of many old-time objects in her room — one goblet over 100 years old, a wedding gown over 80 years old and many items used in the early years of the century.

Mr. Josey displayed all the various cleaning equipment used in the school.

At the conclusion of the tour the teaching staff served coffee and doughnuts to their visitors.

NDP candidate at farm session

(Mrs. G. H. Taylor)

HOLDEN — Albin Lukawiecki, NDP candidate for Vegreville-Bruce, attended the recent two-day NDP Western Farm Conference held in Saskatoon.

Chairmen for the conference were, Ed Nelson, Alberta, A. P. Gleave, Saskatchewan; Ed Schreyer, M.P., Manitoba. The conference was held for the purpose of formulating a practical and acceptable policy which would help farmers in the immediate crisis and enable them to achieve a higher net income and standard of living.

A number of distinguished speakers spoke on a variety of topics pertinent to the farmer. The closing address was given by T. C. Douglas, MP, National Leader. After each speech a question and discussion period was held and resolutions were dealt with.

It was agreed that farmers do not want any handouts, but a fair price for products and a parity price.

Delegates were present from the four western provinces. Attending from this area were William and Alvin Zaserbida of Vegreville, Glen Volbeau of Wainwright, Rudy Swanson of Camrose and Albin Lukawiecki of Holden.

Anticipating a friendly, gay atmosphere, it is hoped all members who desire to wear their centennial costumes will take this opportunity to parade their 100-year-old styles of clothing.

Real bargain at $26,000

H. Heitman has been having a rough time of it this past week, and all because The Mercury goofed.

Pretty proud of the used car he was driving, he listed it for sale in The Mercury's classified ads.

He listed his used car in the classified ads last week, and hoped he'd get some quick action. He's pretty proud of the car, but even Mr. Heitman didn't really think it was worth all the $26,000 The Mercury claimed he wanted, especially when we made it nine years older than it really is, too. After all, $26,000 for a twelve-year-old car is pretty steep . . . just think of what it would have been worth new!

On the other hand, $2,600 for a two-year-old model doesn't seem really too bad. Sorry!

The Ryley Times

Cavell Rebekahs, Ryley, observe 50th anniversary

RYLEY. — On March 18, 1967, Cavell Rebekah Lodge No. 56 of Ryley reached an outstanding milestone in its history—the 50th anniversary of its installation in 1917.

To celebrate with Cavell, 56 Rebekahs past and present, guests and dignitaries accepted invitations to the banquet and program. Greetings were brought from Camrose Jubilee Lodge by Mr and Mrs Ted Gjerde; from Maple Leaf Lodge by the Noble Grand, Selina Gerdes, and from Unity Lodge by Mrs. Audrey Powers. Flowers arrived from Mrs. Sheila McCready of Whitehorse, Yukon, and Mrs. Anna Kongsrud of Ryley, followed by many messages of congratulations.

Receiving the guests were Noble Grand Mrs. Ethel Pepper and Vice - Grand Mrs. Eleanor Campbell, with Mrs. Anne Bray in charge of the guest book. Mistress of ceremonies was Mrs. Hazel Patterson, and Noble Grand Mrs. Ethel Pepper welcomed the visitors. Table grace was offered by the Lodge Chaplain, Mrs. Bertha Wiseman, and the Toast to The Queen by Mrs. Harriett Busby, Past Noble Grand.

Serving the banquet were members and friends of the U.C.W. of Calvin United Church, Ryley. The tables carried the theme of the evening with golden "50's", white candles and flowers. Marking each place were gold - backed cards carrying a golden "50" flanked by two roses depicting the Lodge colours of pink and green. The names were in gold lettering. The backdrop was decorated with a huge golden "50" supported on each side by the three golden links emblematic of "Friendship, Love, and Truth" the Lodge ideal.

On display until dessert time was a huge, beautifully decorated centennial cake, a gift of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Clark of Tofield.

Following the banquet, Mrs. Patterson introduced the dignitaries at the head table. His Honor Robert Cross, Mayor of Ryley, brought congratulations from the Village. Noah Solberg of Camrose, a former member of Cavell, proposed a toast to the Lodge, to which the Vice-Grand, Mrs. Eleanor Campbell replied.

Due to serious illness, the Grand Master of Alberta, T. Mullen, was unable to attend. Ernest Brown, Past Grand Master, spoke to the Lodge, emphasizing the Lodge Youth Work.

Noble Grand Mrs. Pepper gave a brief history of the first Lodge meetings, including the naming of the Lodge after the courageous nurse, Edith Cavell. Mrs. Pepper presented the Lodge with a picture of Miss Edith Cavell and one of Nurse Edith Cavell.

LAST CHARTER MEMBER

Mrs Bertha Hay, the only remaining charter member, was presented with a 50-year jewel by Mrs. Doris Colmel, herself a member of 46 years. Mrs. Hay replied with a very moving tribute to the Lodge for the friendships within the Lodge and for the inspiration it has endowed her with over the years. Twenty-four jewels were presented to Mrs. Gladys Annabo and Mrs. Harriett Busby by Mrs. Dorothy Clark, Past District Deputy President.

The guest speaker, Mrs. Doris Allard of Edmonton, President of the Rebekah Assembly, paid tribute to the great work of the Lodges of North America and Cavell's part in the establishment of an eye research centre in the Johns Hopkins Hospital, the upkeep of senior citizens homes throughout the United States and Canada, the establishment of nursery funds and scholarships, the aid to the blind, the sick, and the needy at home and abroad, to mention a few of the endeavors, inspiring all to greater efforts on behalf of mankind.

To provide entertainment, talented Filipino pianist, Miss Teresita Estanacion rendered the Poet and Peasant Overture and a Filipino selection, "Ariagumadeg Munding". Filipino vocalists Miss Araceli Reyes, Miss Sofia Corrales and Miss Eugenia Marquez, in costumes of the Philippine Islands, offered a medley of native Folk Songs, among which was "A Serenade to a Lovely Lady", a tribute to Mrs. Hay. Following the program the guests received many happy hours as they renewed old friendships. To conclude the evening, each of Ryley Rebekah Lodge No. 56 was presented with a white ribbon bookmark designed and painted by the members as a souvenir of a great day in the life of Cavell Rebekah Lodge No. 56.

(Mrs. J. Roddick)

Easter Sunday services were enjoyed at the United Church by all in attendance. It was also the final Sunday of the winter season for Student minister, Tom Powell, who after writing exams will be going to a summer field near Prince Albert, Sask.

It was family day at Ministik school on Wednesday afternoon, when parents were surprised and pleased at the accomplishments of their sons and daughters.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Roddick and Edna and Mrs. S. George were Easter dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter George in Edmonton. Mrs. George stayed in the city for a few days to visit relatives and friends.

Matthew Ferguson of Tofield was an Easter dinner guest with the Andrew Fergusons.

Edna Roddick of Edmonton spent the long Easter weekend with her parents, returning to the city on Monday evening.

Larry Roddick entered hospital Monday evening for surgery on his feet.

Easter Sunday guests with Mrs. W. C. Barnes were her daughter Mrs. Steve Dunn and family of Calgary and the Archie Clarke family of Edmonton. Her granddaughter, Patricia Clarke flew home by plane from Vancouver to join the family gathering.

A dance has been planned for April 14th by the Community Club with the Western Travellers band in attendance.

Surprises will be in store for everyone Saturday evening April 1st when they attend the surprise bingo sponsored by the Community Club.

Mrs. W. C. Barnes will be the first one in the community to have all her spring cleaning and painting done. Her daughter Kathleen McLean and the Archie Clarkes came out last weekend and did this work for her.

Record year set by Tofield Co-op

MORRIS JEVNE

"The position of Co-op in an area, is the aim of other businesses in the district". This statement was made by Morris Jevne, of Wetaskiwin, president of Interprovincial Co-operatives Ltd., at the 44th annual meeting of Tofield Co-op Ltd yesterday afternoon in the Tofield Recreation Centre.

Mr. Jevne went on to outline the advantages of belonging to a co-operative, saying, "Co-op movement provides the ultimate in private enterprise, because each person can own a part of the enterprise, whereas they otherwise would be unable to do so".

He also pointed out that joining a local co-op automatically brought ownership in other phases of the Co-op movement, such as Federated and Interprovincial co-ops.

Local President Ed Ferguson, in his report outlined the progress made during the past ten years, and gave a large portion of the credit to the manager, John Baergen, who joined the local co-op at that time.

Mr. Baergen reported that one of the Centennial projects of the store was a complete re-decoration job, both interior and exterior.

He also gave the financial statement for the year 1966, which showed that sales and savings were up 4.5% over the previous year, with the biggest sales year on record since the opening of the store in 1932. With a total membership of 375, Mr Baergen predicted an even bigger increase for 1967.

Three persons were elected to vacancies on the board of directors. Elected unanimously were Ralph Cossey, Charles Niemetz and Roy Whillans.

About one hundred and forty people attended the meeting and, in keeping with the Centennial theme, most were wearing clothes fashionable one hundred years ago.

Special guests in attendance were Jerry Norris, Supervisor for Federated Co-ops Ltd., and Arthur Dalman, Co-op public relations officer for Alberta.

Harold Schultz, a member of the board of directors, introduced Mr. Jevne.

April 12th slated for Petra's crowning

(Grace Phillips)

Not often can ordinary men and women be present at the crowning of a Queen but on April 12, attendance at a coronation will be possible for all Tofielders. The Centennial Co-ordinating Committee is proud to announce on that date in the Community Centre, Queen Petra will be crowned. This will be "Family Night" 1967.

The Committee hopes that this event will be enjoyed and long remembered by everyone but especially by the young people of our community. With this in view, special emphasis is being placed on participation by all youth groups. From kindergarten to high school, young people will have a major share in the evening's events. In deference to the youngsters the program will start at 7:45 p.m. with Ed Hegchr as chairman.

A variety program featuring songs, choruses, action songs, folk dances and a minstrel show will be presented for the entertainment of the audience. Then Queen Petra attended by youthful members of her entourage will be crowned by the Mayor of Tofield, Dr. W. H. Freebury.

The Cubs will be Queen Petra's guard of honor and the Scouts will act as ushers. Students from the Junior High School will be serviteurs for the lunch which will follow the crowning. During the lunch hour, the audience is urged to enjoy a social hour. Mingling with the crowd, paying respects to the honored guest, Queen Petra, displaying and admiring centennial costumes are all part of the plans for the evening.

The Tofield Community League as its contribution to this event is waiving the usual charge for the Centre but a silver collection will be taken at the door.

The stage of the Centre will be set up so that camera fans may record the event for their children, and for posterity in general. Shutter-bugs should come prepared to take pictures of the Queen, with the family beside her!

The Centennial Committee earnestly hopes that a record crowd in Centennial costume will participate in the crowning of the Queen. The event has been named "Family Night", so let's make it just that — a night when the whole family visits the neighbors as they unite to honor Queen Petra whose long residence in Tofield has won unlimited respect and admiration for her.

Mrs. Mary Tiedemann designs coat-of-arms

Word has been received that Mrs. Mary Tiedemann of Deville was successful recently in the competition for a design for the official coat-of-arms for the County of Strathcona.

In addition to first prize in this competition, Mrs. Tiedemann won first place for her design submitted to the Alberta Historical Society. This design will be used for the official seal of the Alberta Historical Society.

Society wants an old stove

(Intended for last week)

The Historical Society is looking for a stove used in pioneer days, especially the smaller type such as the one with the ash pit extending in front of the fire box, and no warming oven. Remember? You put your dishes — or your feet — on top of the ash-pit to warm. However, they will be happy to hear from anyone who knows of an old stove or range that might be available for use in the kitchen corner they hope to set up on July 1st. Get in touch with Harold Schultz, Stanley Dunham, Mrs. Bill Tiedemann or Ethel Wood if you can be of help in locating this particular item.

Accidental shooting claims lad's life

(Mary Mitchell)

Guy Michael, 8 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. (Tony) Kawinsky passed away March 12, 24 hours after being accidentally shot in a friend's home.

Mrs. Y. Kawinsky (Wiley) was the eldest granddaughter and Guy first great grandchild of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jim Ingram.

He leaves to mourn his mother and father, brother Robert, and sister Gaylene, grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Wiley of Terrace formerly of Tofield, Mr. and Mrs. A. Kawinsky of Porcupine Plain, Sask.

Services were held in the Roman Catholic Church with Father Mohan and Father Kusma of Prince George officiating. Interment was in the Kutsukalum Cemetery, Terrace.

Days of yore

Noble choice

Canadians generally, and Albertans in particular, surely will be delighted with the appointment of Roland Michener as our new Governor General. Albertans particularly since Mr Michener is a native, (and almost a neighbor of Camrose) having been born and raised at Lacombe.

A brilliant career starting as a Rhodes Scholar, and moving rapidly into law, then the field of politics, and the House of Commons, led to service with distinction as speaker of that body. Indeed, Mr. Michener was frequently mentioned as an excellent choice for the first permanent speaker of the House of Commons. However, other calls led to service in external affairs, and he followed Camrose's Dr. Chester Ronning to India as Canadian High Commissioner.

Governor General Michener is eminently suited for the post, and promises to be acclaimed across the country. It is indeed gratifying for the West to have a native son in this rare capacity.

Let's have it out

Garth Turcott may or may not be on the right track, but no-one can suggest the man is a quitter. Either this man is possessed of remarkable strength of purpose and personal courage, or he is far more brainless than could seem to be possible. In either case he has shown remarkable agility in the art of political fist-fighting, though some of his tactics may seem open to question. At that, his present position is no worse than that of Premier Manning, who sought on Friday to silence the bothersome NDP member by a procedural manoeuvre, rather than by allowing the house to study the question, as he himself had earlier proposed.

The public in Alberta needs the protection that genuine interest of the press can provide, but there is no room for public witch hunting. We have for some time tended to deplore the position and the attitude of Mr. Turcott, but we are coming more and more to feel he must be supported in his contention that the government cannot just wipe off the charge and forget the whole thing.

We would tend to agree that Mr. Turcott's earlier 'evidence' was pretty flimsy, but it still should have been heard at least by a house committee, if not a judicial inquiry. We cannot begin to accept the tape recording being thrown out on the grounds that it image unable to stand the light of day. was against house rules, and the rules of legal evidence. It may indeed be in contrast with house rules, but the rules of legal evidence have nothing to do with it. The house is not a court of law in the first place.

The prime fact remains that the question has not been answered. There still remains in the public mind a large area of doubt, for worse still, cynical acceptance that graft or abuse of position is normal and expected in these positions. Mr. Manning himself raised doubts of the highest magnitude when he dismissed Mr. Hinman from the position of provincial treasurer, though he has steadfastly declined to enlarge on his reasons in any way. It would not be reasonable to suppose Mr. Manning acted from any sudden and capricious objection to the treasurer's policies, and the continuous insistence from many areas that all will not bear the light of day lends credence to the demand for a public inquiry.

We admit the revelation there had been some serious abuse of position would have a depressing effect on many of us, but we cannot bring ourselves to feel there is such widespread shortcomings within the party as to bring the government into serious danger.

Rather, it would seem to us, the continued suppression of any look of any kind at the situation would reflect an

Battle for your savings

A fierce new battle among the banks is under way, and it spells good news for depositors, investors and borrowers. The new bank act amendments do not become law until the first of next month, and already banks are scrambling to line up customers with lures of new, higher-yield savings accounts, lower rates to some borrowers, mortgage loans and more flexible hours for banking. Already one local bank manager has received a flood of inquiries over the possibility of borrowing money at the new lower prime interest rate, despite the fact that many of them will likely qualify only at new higher rates.

The Financial Post offers the comment that the new situation means far more choice for savers and also some interesting prospects for investors.

The need for additional major funds, to finance the banks' entry into the field of mortgages, will precipitate a new medium to long-term, high-grade, fixed-income investment known as the bank debenture

It also means stiff new competition for other lending and deposit taking institutions such as trust and loan firms, which have been riding high in recent years on the almost insatiable demand for mortgage money, coupled with the remarkably high level of cash available for savings. One striking indication of this latter fact is the recent oversubscription of Alberta's new issue of debentures.

MacDuff Ottawa Report

HIGH COST OF HOUSES

OTT: WA.—Labour Minister J. R. Nicholson is optimistic that Canada is beginning to move out of its boom-building crisis.

But don't be misled by that if you're thinking of moving into the big city. The new homes may soon be available. But unless you're considerably better off than the average Canadian, you won't be able to afford to buy it.

Mr Nicholson, the Minister who reports to Parliament for the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, is the first to admit the problem which he attributes mainly to high land costs.

"If you're going to live in a city, you're going to have to live in an apartment", he said succinctly.

COMPROMISES

The alternative is to move out to those far-out suburbs. Or, if you want to own your own apartment, you may be able to resort to condominium housing which is now being approved in several provinces.

To put it again in Mr. Nicholson's words, "People who want to own their own home are going to end up owning their own apartment".

The story is told in the first solid statistics just published in the annual report of CMHC.

The average income of purchasers of houses financed under the National Housing Act in 1966 was $7,207. Those incomes were 9.5 per cent higher than the corresponding averages for purchasers in 1965.

As in previous years, relatively few purchasers of NHA houses were drawn from the lower third of the range of family incomes. In 1966, only 4.8 per cent of borrowers had family incomes of less than $5,000 compared to nine per cent in 1965.

The average price of NHA-financed houses purchased in 1966, including many which were started in the previous year, was $17,945. On these houses purchasers provided down payments averaging $3,544 and undertook monthly payments of $122.70 for mortgage principal, interest and taxes.

ALL FIGURES RISES

Compared to 1965, these represented increases of 8.6 per cent in house prices, 12.3 per cent in down-payments and 6.4 per cent in monthly charges, all tough on lower income people. The proportion of monthly charges to income remains unchanged, however, at 21.4 per cent. This was achieved, however, only by getting out many with lower incomes who could no longer afford to buy.

Housing costs increased significantly in 1966. While the Index of prices of residential building materials increased by only 1.4 per cent from 1965 to 1966, the index of wage rates for building labour went up by 7.9 per cent over the same period.

Increasing most sharply in 1966 were the land costs. Estimated costs of lots for houses financed under NHA averaged $9,498, an increase of 22.4 per cent from the previous year.

TORONTO WORST

All these increases were particularly marked in the Toronto area where the average cost of bungalows financed under NHA went up from $16,677 in 1965 to $20,386 in 1966. This included an increase in land costs from an average of $5,777 to $7,897 per lot.

The lowest recorded increase in the cost of bungalows was in Chicoutimi, from $13,388 to $13,-

Some of the other bungalow-cost increases were: Halifax, $16,322 to $18,986; Montreal, $17,-034 to $19,862; Barrie, Ont., $17,-279 to $18,942; Hamilton, $17,381 to $19,987; Winnipeg, $17,164 to $18,297; Calgary, $15,989 to $17,-982; Vancouver, $19,236 to $20,-

Victoria, $19,359 to $20,739.

The average income of NHA borrowers in 1966 was in Toronto, $6,481 in Chicoutimi, $7,793 in Halifax, $7,- real, $7,436 in Hamilton, $6,949 in Winnipeg, $6,882 in Calgary, $7,132 in Vancouver, $7,531 in Victoria.

The result is that unless income grows as fast as housing costs increase or productivity increases in a big way through better methods of housing construction, both of which seem unlikely, the only way more income people in big cities will be able to buy a house will be for governments to step in through subsidies or by taking action to reduce rising servised land costs.

By TRACY S. LUDINGTON

With opening day for Expo 67 looming closer every minute I've been asked a question that's really frustrating.

It's level with the last drop of paint on the final nail, the last cable to be strung for this international extravaganza. Canadians and particularly those who live in and around Montreal know that Expo will keep on time.

Checking the mail that has come pouring into this column since its advent a few months ago it is easy for me to figure out that it is the children that are getting excited about Expo first.

From almost every province there are many letters from children asking detailed questions about Expo and many of the questions, have to do with animals.

Well, for the benefit of these let me say that a total of 200 animals from five continents will be seen at Expo, on a three-acre lot that will have every appearance of an African plain and jungle.

And at the very centre of Safari, as the acreage is called, there is a children's section of the zoo where all the animals are young, too. Would you believe . . . you can ride there, on a miniature train that winds through elephant grass under a tropical rain forest and then across the sun-burnt grass of a game preserve. There will be an opportunity as well to ride elephants, zebras, llamas, and camels, and even to ride a cart, pulled by an ostrich.

For true realism there will be monkeys swinging from trees as you ride through Safari, a hippopotamus wallowing in a jungle pool and even a snake pit.

Elsewhere in the child-oriented section of the zoo there will be a lot more for children to see and do. Here you may spot the head of a giraffe

And on the journey you'll encounter gorillas and, even more, while overhead there'll be an array of tropical birds.

So now — for those who have asked about the animals — there you are; not all the facts, but enough, I hope, to keep you coming to Expo.

And if there's more some of you would like to know about the animals — keep your letters coming, glad to get them

(Address correspondence to Tracy S. Ludington, EXPO '67, at 7600 Kildare Road, Montreal 29).

Patterson rink tops centennial bonspiel

When the smoke of battle had cleared on Saturday afternoon after an intense week of curling, the Con Patterson rink, with support from Merle Worden, Ron Fiddler 2nd and Wendy Arnett lead, had captured the Centennial trophies in the biggest bonspiel held in Tofield this year.

With 19 rinks entered, the spiel started with three draws a day and ended with four draws the last three days. Competition was tough and many good rinks were submitted early in the spiel.

Taking second place in the Grand Challenge event was the Geo McLachlan family rink, who gave Patterson a battle right down to the wire before finally giving in. Finishing third and fourth were Reuben Hoberg and Art Francis, respectively.

John Moore won the second event by defeating Ole Haugen, but not before he gave his opponents some anxious moments. In both the final and semi-final game, John seemed to build up unsurmountable leads in the early stages, only to see these leads dwindle, and then having to make his final shots to gain victory. Louis Shewchuk and the ageing parson, Rev. McDonald, had third and fourth, respectively, in this event.

The third event was won by V. Fiskerstrom, when he defeated A. Gushulak. These two rinks had reached the finals by defeating Ihnatski and R. Goeglein in the semi.

During the first two days of the spiel, Jim Francis and J. Stinson judged the various array of costumes on the ice, and came up with Georgia Christenson as winner of the best dressed lady and Andy Hoiberg as the best dressed gent. Awards were also given to the oldest curler, Dan Campbell of Bonnie Hill, who is 77 years; while Ollie and Verlyn Moss won the award for being the oldest married couple curling.

Curling is over for the season however, shareholders are reminded to attend the annual meeting date of which will be announced shortly. Officers will be elected and policies for the coming year formulated.

Tofield Lions Club held their last March meeting in the Community Centre on Tuesday, at 6:30 p.m., with a good attendance and Leo "Chick" Blackburk presiding.

Matters discussed were bingo progress, hockey pools coming up, renewing of paint on signs, hospital signs to be erected, a local dictator plan mentioned by Leo Labuhn.

The nomination committee report for the upcoming slate Lion Hotel Nebraska was given a hand as retiring Treasurer Robert is moving to Edmonton to continue with Northwestern Utilities Ltd. in the capacity of instrument repair.

in the third event, with Walker and Rose coming in third and fourth.

George Lee defeated Jim Ingram in the final event, with Jacobson and Anderson finishing third and fourth.

After the curling, all members and their families retired to the Legion Hall, where they enjoyed a tasty lunch prepared by the ladies.

Prizes were awarded to all the rinks. Henry Pierce of Woodlawn Dairy presented their trophy to the winner, Ron Geoglein, while President Earl Rose presented the other prizes. Kay Walker, Barbara Geoglein, Irene Ihnatski and Thanne Jones were each presented with silver Canadian spoons in appreciation for their work with the lunch counter during the year.

Premier Motors Grand Aggregate Trophy was presented to the Vernon Walker rink, who went through the season with only three defeats. Vernon and Ron Geoglein were tied after regular play, and had to play a special play-off game to decide a winner.

PM endorses Library Week

(Intended for last week)

In recognition of Canadian Library Week, the Hon. Lester B. Pearson, Prime Minister of Canada, has issued a letter, heartily endorsing the value of libraries to old and young alike; and encouraging the growth and improvement of libraries across the country. Following are excerpts of Mr. Pearson's remarks

"I am pleased once again to accept the invitation to lend my patronage to Canadian Library Week for 1967.

"In this age where the pace of life sometimes seems to move at a dizzier speed, the rich, leisurely pleasure still to be enjoyed in the world of books is not dying as we can all appreciate. By reminding all of us that this aspect of our busy and complicated era remains the same, Canadian Library Week serves a most important purpose

"It is in books that we can find the accumulated wisdom of the ages. They make it possible for us to draw on all of mankind's past experiences in enlighten the problems of our present and guide us as we face the challenges of the future . . .

"I hope Canadian Library Week will remind us all of the wealth that remains available to everyone, regardless of means or station in life, within the covers of the books on library shelves".

Various methods for raising money for necessary repairs to the Community Centre were discussed. A Barbecue Bingo will be held preceding the May 24 holiday dance in former years an auction Sale of donated articles had been successful, the possibility of holding another was discussed.

The question of a Lamont representative to the Student Exchange committee was discussed and it was agreed to ask J. E. Stewart to act for the League on this committee.

In regards to the Court of Revision to hear appeals against the Annual Assessment the Secretary-Treas. advised that he had notified the Assessor who had suggested any time after May 8th This, according to the Reeve, might conflict wih farming operations and it would be preferable to have the Court of Revision earlier. It was moved that the Court of Revision be held during the last week in April starting on Tuesday the 25th if possible. Cd.

The Sec-Treas., referred to Sec 625, prohibiting the construction or placing or laying either above or below the ground certain things within a certain distance from the centre line of specified roads. This matter had been brought up some time ago and it was decided at that time to leave the matter in abeyance until the Rural Road Study was completed. Some considerable discussion took place and it was finally moved that a by-law be considered limiting the construction to 150 feet from the centre line of any public road, highway or street.

Amendment — Moved that buildings be deleted from the prohibition Amendment carried and the motion as Amended was unanimous.

VOL. 16—No. 33, Thursday, April 13th., 1967 $2.50 per Year, PUBLISHED WEEKLY AT TOFIELD, ALBERTA.

PROVINCIAL LIBRARY EDMONTON, ALTA.

Long trail Mrs. W. Osada made quite a historic snapshot recently when the old Shonts elevator passed their home five miles South of Ryley loaded in pieces on three huge transports. The ancient elevator is being taken to Calgary, where it will be restored in the ancient fashion as a museum piece at Heritage Park. It was donated by the Alberta Wheat Pool.

Talent night plays to capacity audience

(Andy Helberg)

The Tofield 4-H Talent Night, which was co-sponsored by the Alberta Wheat Pool, performed before a capacity house on Wednesday evening. It was a very appreciative audience, which showed its enthusiasm by their warm applause for the various acts. Many who attended the program voiced their opinion that it was probably one of the best local programs put on in Tofield.

Pres. of the Tofield 4-H Beef Club, Colleen Wylie welcomed everyone to the program and introduced the M.C. for the evening, Bev. Munro of CFCW. Bev kept the program running smoothly as he introduced each act [illegible] made everyone feel at home on the stage.

In the 11 years and under age group, the Shewchuk girls sang themselves right into the hearts of people by their rendition of "Supercalifragilis expalidatious", and took first place; while the instrumental duet of the Jones boys was a close second, and the vocal duet of Jane and Connie Bailey received honourable mention.

In the 11-15 age group, Lorre Schwerchow's act of Baton Twirling won her first place; while Judy Moore's monologue on going to the ball park won second, and Lyle Jacobson received honourable mention for his accordion solo.

In the senior group (16 years and over), Lillian and Roland Balzer, with their piano duet, took first. "The Travellers" with their musical acts took second, while Keith Appleby's musical numbers was given honourable mention.

In all, 21 different acts competed for the trophies which were supplied by the Alberta Wheat Pool, and which were presented by delegate Ingvald Ness.

At the conclusion of the program, Colleen Wyllie thanked all for their attention and support of the 4-H Club. She also presented the three judges, Mrs. Les Young, Mr. Ingvald Ness and Mr. Jim Stephenson of Camrose, with small mementos for their well done work.

Bev Munro closed the program with the remarks that Tofield should keep having these talent programs, to help cultivate the talent in the young people, which otherwise might remain dormant.

Quiz on Canadian history to be Mercury's Centennial project

Joining with other community groups who are making Centennial a major factor in Tofield, The Mercury is delighted to open a Centennial History Contest which will run from next week almost to the 1st of July. Open to all ages, it is hoped there will be considerable interest in the competition from all age levels in the community.

Over the next weeks, The Mercury will print a series of 100 questions dealing with facets of Canadian history. Some of them will be local or provincial, but the majority will centre on the national scene. They will be designed to test the knowledge of contestants, although any of the answers will be available from good reference material.

Teachers in the Tofield school have been most interested and most co-operative in working on this interesting project, and will be responsible for both the questions and marking the answers, which will be of the multiple choice or alternatively right-wrong choice types.

Three levels of entry are expected in the contest, one for pupils ranging up to Grade 9, one for Grades 10, 11 and 12, and one for those out of school.

In the event of ties in any of the classes, it is hoped arrangements can be made for a public tie-breaking contest at the July 1st Sports Day, following which trophies will be presented to the winners.

First of the competitions will be carried in next week's issue of The Mercury.

A total entry of 28 local rinks took part in the Family Curling Bonspiel in Ryley recently. Skip Ted Strilchuk with the assistance of his wife Ona and son Hal, and Lee Goodmanson took top honors. Placing second was the rink skipped by Garnet Burnstad, with his son Brian, Joe Strilchuk and Donald Kurch assisting. Holden Drainage District has annual meet April 5

Mrs. G. Taylor

Holden Drainage District No. 1 held their annual meeting on Wednesday afternoon, April 5th in the Gladstone Curling Rink, with 20 ratepayers, trustees Oscar Afseth, Nick Laskoski, Hans Huseby and the secretary-treasurer Ray Hovland present. Joe Krejci was appointed chairman for the meeting.

The financial statement and auditor's reports were given and approved. Nick Laskoski gave the trustees' report.

Also attending the meeting was a representative from Interprovincial Pipeline Co. regarding placing another line or culvert on Drainage property.

A general discussion ensued regarding the air spraying of ditches done last year, and the setting of assessment on new additions to the drainage district. There was also a discussion regarding the ARDA deal of levelling banks and lands.

The matter of tax arrears was discussed and the secretary advised that a judge had been requested from the department to sit on a hearing of arrears of taxes. To date they had not been informed when this would be held.

As Mr. Laskoski's term was about to expire, nominations were received for trustee, with Mr. Laskoski being re-nominated.

Fane declines League invite

(Grace Phillips)

Major Frank Fane, M.P. for Vegreville, who had been asked to participate in Tofield's Dominion Day celebrations, will be unable to attend.

Since Queen Elizabeth II will be speaking to both the Senate and the House of Commons in Ottawa on July 1, Major Fane feels it his duty to be in attendance in the House of Commons to help welcome Her Majesty to Ottawa.

Major Fane, as well as being Tofield's representative in the Federal Parliament, is a native son of the Tofield area. According to his letter in answer to the Tofield Community League's invitation for Dominion Day, Major Fane was born on his father's farm on the west half of 28-52-17-W4 at the north-east corner of Beaverhill Lake, a farm which, with some additions, he still operates.

His father homesteaded there in the 1880's after serving eight years in the Northwest Mounted Police. Frank was baptized in the little log Anglican church, St. James-the-Apostle, on the west side of Beaverhill Lake. His birth record is now in the register of Holy Trinity Anglican Church, reports Rev. W. L. Hammett.

One of Major Fane's sisters is buried in the old cemetery which belonged to St. James-the-Apostle, on land which is now farmed by Joe Lerrhuis.

Band members needed for Dominion Day

Needed — members for a band for the Centennial Day celebration in Tofield.

Staff-Sergeant Coates, instructor in band music for the Tofield School, has kindly agreed to direct a band for July 1. Members of the school band will form a nucleus of the Dominion Day band, while several "old stalwarts" of the former Tofield band will lend their assistance.

Anyone wishing—or even willing—to become part of this group of musicians is asked to contact Arnold Swift at 662-3306. If anyone has band instruments and would be willing to loan them, Mr. Swift will be glad to hear of that, too.

If any new residents of Tofield are potential band members, they are assured of a warm welcome by the members of the previous band.

'Centennial' is in the air

Tofield's Main Street has taken on a Centennial air, as gaily colored Centennial flags whip in the spring breezes. Bill Christensen reports that still more flags have been ordered.

Larry Willson announces that the Tofield Gun Club has already purchased the three major prizes for its Centennial Shoot on June 18 at the Gun Club Range north of Tofield. These prizes are all muzzle-loading guns:

1. A Hopkins and Allan underhammer target rifle;
2. A 14-gauge flintlock fowling piece;
3. A 36-calibre replica of an 1851 Navy Colt.

A heavy entry and strong competition is expected in this Centennial event.

The Historical Society's book on the History of Tofield is progressing well. Pictures and information are being collected and edited by John Francis and Mrs. N. Phillips.

Back to the hustings?

One thing we haven't been able to comprehend is all the talk about the extremely prolonged session of the legislature this year. Eight and nine week sessions have not been uncommon in the past, and there seems to be no reason why this year's session should be so much shorter than some others.

Indeed, this session saw the accomplishment of quite a bit of good work, some of it initiated in earlier months, of course, but nonetheless completed this year. While appointment of an ombudsman seems to rank high in public estimation, our own feeling is that it does not rank with the provision for means of appeal from the rulings of a number of government boards or committees.

Before now, most commissions, tribunals, boards and so on have been the final word in any dispute, and private citizens have had no recourse from their ruling, no matter how unjust it may have seemed. Now, however, provision has been made whereby many boards are subject to appeal in what most of us would consider to be the democratic fashion.

It seems odd that this is one of the points resisted most strongly in the suggested new Municipal Act, as many cities object to the possibility of appeal from their rulings. There is, of course, always a danger of the privilege being abused, but surely there is no more danger of citizens abusing their opportunities than of the establishment achieving its ends by swinging its weight around.

Another item of major significance, of course, is the appointment of a judicial inquiry to look into charges concerning activities of members of the house, following the charges levelled by NDP member Garth Turcott. The inquiry will doubtless have a good deal of material to look into, yet it is to be hoped it does not degenerate into a trial by publicity in the infamous manner seen more than thirty years ago during the Brownlee hearings.

With the session closed down, it would seem all that remains is to announce the date of the election. The real surprise will be if no call is made in the near future.

Sorry spectacle

Surely there will be tremendous adverse reaction to Monday night's sorry performance in the Social Credit nominating meeting in Edmonton North, when three men were read out of the party by provincial president Orvis Kennedy. No trial, no hearing, no defence, no crime. No charge, even, except that of accepting a citizen's democratic right and responsibility to contest a nomination.

What a farce to report that the Hon. Mrs. Ethel Wilson was the "unanimous choice" of the group. Even apart from the three men read out of the party, there must have been a few more members who nominated them, and Mrs. Wilson could hardly be said to be their choice. We have long held Mrs. Wilson in high esteem, but it's hard to comprehend how she can take any pride in this type of nomination. It's hard to understand how she could even stoop to accept it.

No Yankee dollars here

A number of citizens are incensed at reports coming in that some business establishments catering to Expo are setting up prices payable in United States funds only, and well we should be incensed.

There is only one type of money which is legal in Canada, and the government should take immediate steps to enforce this. It matters not whether the firms are American or not (and we suspect not all of them are) prices at Expo must be Canadian prices. If prices have to be raised to cover the amount of American exchange, then let them be raised, but let's insist they be in Canadian prices.

When we import something from Britain, or Portugal, or the United States, we expect to find the price in pounds, francs, or U.S. dollars. However, when the commodity is sold in this country, the Canadian price should prevail.

There is every reason why Canadians as a whole should insist on the Canadian dollar standard, and these reasons aren't diminished one whit by the fact that the Canadian taxpayer has poured millions of dollars into getting this thing going. It's a wonderful fair, and it's going to be an overwhelming success, but the dollars it earns will in large part be earned for the people in and around Montreal. The rest of us will have to participate at long range, and over a long period except to pick up the tax bill.

MR. & MRS. ERNEST NAHAYOWSKI

Nahayowski-Kope vows pledged on January 28

At 12:00 o'clock noon on January 28, Grace Lutheran Church in Edmonton was the scene of the wedding of Edna Mary, second eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abe Kope of Ryley, and Ernest only son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Nahayowski of Edmonton.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father. Her floor-length gown of satin and lace with lily-point sleeves was accompanied by a long train veil, held in place by a crystal coronet. She carried a bouquet of red sweetheart roses.

The bride was attended by her sister, Lynda, who wore a floor-length gown of pink chiffon over satin, and carried a bouquet of white 'mums.

The groom's attendant was his cousin Orest Andrusiak. Ring-bearer Brent Kope, youngest brother of the bride, carried the rings on a white satin cushion. Richard and Carl Kope, brothers of the bride, were ushers for the double-ring ceremony.

Mother of the bride wore a three-piece red suit with black accessories. The groom's mother chose a blue dress with blue accessories. Both wore corsages of white carnations.

A reception for 65 guests was held at the home of the bride's parents. Centering the bride's table was a beautiful three tiered wedding cake. Pete Wiens, uncle of the bride, was master of ceremonies and John Baergen, also an uncle of the bride proposed the toast, to which the groom ably responded.

Later that evening, a reception was held in the Riverdale Hall in Edmonton.

The bride chose a pink suit with silver accessories for going away. The happy couple are residing in Edmonton upon returning from their honeymoon.

100-year old gown displayed here

(Intended for last week)

Mrs. John Sweeney of Guelph, Ontario, probably never expected that a dress of hers would be on display in Tofield 100 years after she wore it, but in the window of Robinson's Store, Tofield, is an "Alice blue" gown loaned for display by Mrs. Gladys McKernan. This taffeta gown, featuring a shawl collar, white fringe for trimming, and an overskirt which forms a train, was the property of the great-grandmother of Doug McKernan.

Mrs. McKernan has worn the gown on several occasions and has recently had it dry-cleaned ... the 100-year-old material remains in excellent condition. Mrs. McKernan also has on display a picture from Harper's Bazaar of 1867, which features dresses very similar to the one worn by Mrs. Sweeney in the year of Confederation.

Queen Petra is crowned! Her coronation will surely be one of the outstanding events of the Centennial year in Tofield.

The Community Centre was packed to the doors—even the lobby was full of spectators who had come to participate in or to watch the program arranged by Mrs. Marie Worton and to see Queen Petra crowned by His Worship Mayor Freebury.

Beginning the program, chaired by Ed Hegele, Miss Elaine Baergen played O Canada and then delighted the crowd with a piano solo. Mrs. Clarke's kindergarten kiddies, who acted out nursery rhymes, and Mrs. Young's grade one children, who presented several active songs, earned hearty applause from the audience, as did Mrs. Everett's little dancers who enjoyed doing the Virginia Reel with great enjoyment as much as the audience enjoyed watching it.

The Explorer Group, dressed in Centennial costume, sang the "Canadian Centennial Song" and "This Land is Your Land", accompanied by Margaret Hallet. The audience enthusiastically joined in the chorus.

Keith Appleby sang two solos, a Negro Spiritual and "I Want A Beautiful Morning", accompanied by Mrs. Elmann. As always, Keith's singing was much enjoyed.

A chorus from Bates, accompanied by Mrs. Bernice Heiberg, consisted of Gladys Severson, Pauline Hale, Iris Francis (Dow) Foshaug, Evelyne Stauffer, Evelyn Foshaug, Norma Anderson, Ivan Foshaug, Harry Mosby, Leonard Stauffer, Lester Severson and Leif Foshaug. These singers from Queen Petra's home district were singing especially in her honor.

The Centennial High School Chorus, under direction of Mr. Dick Pilsmore and accompanied by Roland Rahner, sang "They All Call It Canada" and "Alberta's Centennial Year". This chorus, with its 35 members, made an impressive showing.

To close the program, Mrs. Joan Dunham then presented a minstrel show whose cast consisted of Katherine Peterson, Joan Frank, Arthur and Ralph Dunham. Following the traditional pattern of minstrel shows, this act contained songs, dances and patter.

Highlight of the evening was

Sharon Mizera wins first in 4-H public speaking

(Mrs. R. Mizera)

RYLEY — "Out of the Past—the Future" was the topic that won Sharon Mizera the first prize trophy in the Regional 4-H public speaking competition in the Vermilion Agricultural and Vocational College on April 14th. Sharon is a member of the Ryley Clothing Club. Second place went to Colleen Wyllie of the Tofield Bee Club, speaking on the topic "Let Them Live".

Chairman for the evening was J. S. Duncan, Regional Agriculturist, and other speakers were Ernest Barber of Innisfree Beef Club, Barbara Sweet of Dewberry Clothing Club, Judy Chynowith of Greenshields Beef Club, Lorraine Woroschuk of Vegreville Grain and Garden Club, Peggy Snedgrove of Vermilian - Mannville Poultry, and Billy Southcott of Czar Beef Club.

After refreshments, each contestant took part in impromptu speaking. Tom Knight, Mrs. J. Wright and S. C. Heckbert were the judges, and Alberta Wheat Pool representative, Mr. Knight, gave the judges' remarks, after which the trophies were presented to Sharon and Colleen by J. S. Duncan. The Northern Alberta Public Speaking Finals will be held in Edmonton during Exhibition Week.

Making the trip to Vermilion to attend the public speaking were Frank Kehoe, Miss Beverly McRae, Bob Westmascat, Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Misera of Ryley, and Mr. and Mrs. Wyllie of Tofield.

CENTENNIAL RUG ON DISPLAY AT ROBINSON'S

A hand-made hooked rug, made by the students of Ryley Junior High, is now on display at Robinson's store in Tofield, and the students will be selling raffle tickets on the street on Saturday. Date of the draw for the rug was not announced, but further information will be made by the students later.

CGIT will hold tea & fashion show in Tofield, April 29

(Grace Phillips)

On Saturday, April 29, the Tofield C.G.I.T. group will hold a Centennial Tea in the social rooms of the United Church.

As well as serving afternoon tea to their patrons, the C.G.I.T. girls are planning to entertain them. Exchanging their traditional white middies and navy skirts for Centennial garb, the girls will present a fashion show which will exemplify style changes in Canada during the past century. The fashion show will start at 3:30, though the tea itself begins at 3:00.

In order to allow a carefree time, the girls will offer a baby-sitting service at the church.

The girls and their leaders, Mrs. Melba Wall, Mrs. Vivian Murray, Miss Roberta Cumming and Mrs. Betsy Ann Gallinger, cordially invite all residents of the Tofield area to attend this event. Centennial costume will be welcome.

Holden youth wins final in ACT Search for Talent

(Mrs. G. H. Taylor)

Arnold Giebelhaus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Giebelhaus of Holden, and formerly a clarinet player in the Holden High School Band, won the ACT finalist trophy at the final Search for Talent show at Fort Saskatchewan on April 18th.

Arnold previously won the Northwestern Utilities trophy in a modern and popular music class, in both 1966 and 1967 at the Holden Search for Talent shows.

On Saturday, April 22nd, he will play over CFRN Channel 3 television at 12:30 noon along with the very best that the ACT amateur hour has developed in their search for talent in the past year. He will also be on CFRN radio at 8:05 p.m. Friday, April 21st.

LCW plans centennial tea & antique display

(Mrs. G. H. Taylor)

HOLDEN — The Holden Lutheran Church Women are holding a centennial tea and antique display on April 29, beginning at 2:00 p.m., and many interesting items have been acquired, one being a pair of spurs once used by Dr. Farrel, while he was with the North West Mounted Police to which he belonged before he enrolled in medicine.

Dr. Farrel was the second doctor for Holden, after Dr. Kennedy left, coming from Ontario the latter part of 1908. There are also many other interesting items.

This function will be held in the Community Hall with ample room to properly display the items. Many of the ladies will be wearing Centennial dresses, and are inviting others from this town and district and surrounding towns to do so also. It is hoped the affair will get Holden in a real Centennial mood, with other celebrations and events following each week and planning has gone into this endeavor, but the ladies regret real enjoyment while planning the event.

Here's a switch

A report from St. Joseph, Missouri, a short time ago carried the unusual news that employees in a city packing plant had voted to take a pay cut of about 40 cents an hour. The move was to save an estimated 600 jobs of the approximately 1,400 jobs in the plant.

The news report goes on to state that the reduction, from $4.00 to $3.60 per hour, will give assurance that the plant will employ a full work force on a year's trial to see whether costs can be brought into line. It also points out the new wage rate, even on a 36-hour work week will bring in $6,739 a year, which isn't bad.

The interesting feature is that here's one case where labor realized, apparently, there was a limit to the load the plant could carry in wages, and decided a little less was better than no income at all. It will be interesting to see what the year's trial will prove, but we think it's fairly safe to predict there'll be a pretty high level of productivity from a staff of workers like that.

So many differences

There are so many different approaches to this new provincial election as to make it difficult for any objective, non-aligned voter to get a clear grasp of the entire picture.

Premier Manning has grandly declared "We will not resort to cheap politicking nor to smear tactics. We will deal with the issues," and blandly explains the urgency in calling the election by a desire to avoid interfering with the visit of Princess Alexandra in late May and early June, and the Centennial celebrations in June and July.

But there's nothing new here . . . Princess Alexandra's visit had been planned for some time. And surely no one could suggest the Centennial "snuck up" on us! It would be just as reasonable to wait until Fall, to avoid all these problems, or even (perish the thought) to take the full five year term and wait until next year.

Mr. Manning notwithstanding, a lot of Alberta voters are going to feel that at least one of the two issues actually centers on the impropriety imputed to two government members . . . senior and influential members. And following reports that elimination of any contest for the nomination in Sedgewick-Coronation was managed only slightly more skillfully than the example in Edmonton North, some of the voters will feel another issue is the autocratic spirit prevailing in today's government.

It's possibly too early for most of the election planks to be shown to the voters, although the Social Credit party's platform is already clearly built around the recent White Paper on human resources development.

Prairie Prosperity

The new Prairie economy is pulsating strongly from the five great pillars of petroleum, potash, power, pulp and grain according to an eastern financial analyst who points out that these provide the foundation for rising prosperity in other industries such as fabricated steel, fertilizers, construction materials and garments. The end result is an economy far more diversified and balanced than ever before.

The interesting thing is that in the primary group, Alberta is lacking only in potash, possessing great resources in petroleum, power and grain, and only now reaching into the brand new area of pulp. And each of the secondary industries is already well established and gaining ground.

People are flocking to the prairies, not just Alberta, to enjoy this prosperity. There are problems, naturally, but they are only the sweet problems that come with success. Just as one example, the main problem of the oil industry is not lack of oil but lack of markets. The industry's life index is now assessed at 23 years and is expected to rise strongly as large new quantities of oil continue to be discovered.

Similar augurings come from the utility companies, all of whom are busy building up strong reserves in power generation against the increased demand they know is right around the corner. Nearest home is the big new addition at Forestburg, where Canadian Utilities are doubling their generating capacity. A little further off is the new Brazeau project of Calgary Power, with further expansion forecast for their Wabamun plant. Edmonton is pushing to increase capacity at Genesee and in the northlands, plans are developing to harness some of the huge power potential still untapped.

One pillar not mentioned by the above noted writer is people, for after all, the whole development will revolve around the people available to make it work [illegible]. It is people with their brain, and their brawn and, for that matter, their luck and perseverance, which will make these natural resources provide the promised prosperity.

Forestburg loses leading citizen in Eddie Fossen

With the passing of Jennings Edwin Fossen on April 9 the Forestburg district lost one of its most prominent citizens. During his lifetime here, he made a contribution to almost every worthwhile endeavor, and in many cases was one of the leaders. For the past 28 years he farmed four miles south of Forestburg and his farm was one of the most modern in the area. Before farming, he was a grain buyer for some years.

Mr Fossen was a Past Master of the Forestburg Masonic Lodge, and a Past First Principal of the Bethel Chapter R.A.M., and currently Superintendent of this District of Royal Arch Masons. He was member of a committee of the Grand Lodge of Alberta.

He served two terms as councillor of the M.D. Flagstaff, and several terms as trustee of the Forestburg Consolidated School District. He was active as a member and officer of the Forestburg Curling Club and the Forestburg Golf Club. During his youth he was a notable athlete, excelling in track and field, and in baseball. He was influential in bringing rural electrification to this area. Always active in church work, he served the Bethel United Church in many capacities, and played a leading part in the building of the new church a few years ago. His passing takes from the community a man who was interested in the common good; had a good word for everyone, and did more than his share in anything in which he took part.

Born in the Pleasington district, near Forestburg, February 20, 1909, he attended the local rural school. He is survived by his wife Hazel; a son, Keith, on the family farm; a daughter, Doreen (Mrs. D. R. Bowerstock), of Stettler; a sister, Judith (Mrs. T. Erickson), of Killam; three brothers, Hardy of Hamilton, Ontario, Ivor of Abbotsford, B.C., and Marius of Forestburg; three grandchildren and many nephews and nieces. He was predeceased by his parents and several brothers and sisters.

Burial took place in Forestburg Cemetery, with Masonic Rites, April 12.

Public interest mounts in centennial events

(Grace Phillips)

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jacobs were hosts to the Centennial Committee which met April 16th under the chairmanship of Dr. Freebury. It was reported by Bill Christensen and Marie Worton that the Family Night had been a huge success. Mrs. Worton thanked all the members of the committee who had worked so hard for this event. Bill Christensen also reported that 32 more Centennial flags were now on order. Mrs. Boyles reported the arrival of centennial pins which will be on sale at Robinson's Store.

The members at the meeting were of the opinion that many people would like to get pictures of Centennial events; others might have negatives of pictures in demand. So that the people may have a chance to see the best pictures of Centennial events and to secure reprints, it was suggested that anyone having good picture of Centennial events might hand them in to J. E. Stinson in The Mercury office. Here they would be placed on display so that anyone wishing a copy of any special picture could then get in touch with the owner of the negative.

During May, dress-up days will be both Friday and Saturday of each week. Drier roads and streets should facilitate the wearing of long skirts for weekend events and for shopping.

Larry Willson, representing the Gun Club, reports that a Royal Salute will be fired at midnight, June 30th, 1967, to mark the beginning of Canada's second century. Another salute will be fired sometime on July 1st.

Mrs. Annie Hunley brought an offer of a donation from the Ladies' Bowling League. These ladies have kindly offered as their Centennial project, to furnish a couple of benches along Main St. where people may sit to rest or chat. Since installation of these benches is a matter for the town council to decide on the committee could only wholeheartedly approve of Mrs. Hunley's suggestion and thank the Ladies' Bowling League for their thoughtfulness.

NEW GRANULAR 45-0-0 (Urea)

Elephant Brand Granular Urea — 45% N., is the modern fertilizer for profit-conscious farmers. Dense, firm granules make this Elephant Brand high-nitrogen fertilizer better than any other on the market. Elephant Brand granules are harder —they don't cake or break-up to dust — but they do dissolve readily in your soil. Elephant Brand granules are denser so you get more plant food in every applicator load — make fewer applicator refills. You save time and labour—and that means money. Cominco Ltd./Calgary, Alberta of course the crowning of the Queen.

Escorted by Dr. Prosbery and preceded by an honor guard of proud Cubs, Queen Petra drew a standing ovation from the crowd as she proceeded to the stage. Here, Dr. Prosbery spoke of Queen Petra's many and valued contributions to the community. Taking the tiara from the cushion on which it had been carried by her grandson, Warren Stauffer, he placed it on Queen Petra's head and the Queen was crowned.

Sheila Worton had carried the scroll presented by the Centennial Committee to the Queen, and which was now read to the audience

"Presented on behalf of the citizens of Tofield to Mrs. Petra Stauffer in recognition of her enthusiasm, good sportsmanship and stimulating example in her role as Tofield's Centennial Queen (1967)—Centennial Co-ordinating Committee, Dr. W. H. Prosbery, chairman"

A beautiful bouquet of fragrant pink roses was presented to Queen Petra by Miss Tannis Shaw, and Mr. Leif Foshaug presented a basket of beautiful flowers from the people of Bardo. Queen Petra's home district

The wee kindergarten kiddies then danced across the stage dropping a posy into Queen Petra's lap

Queen Petra, her eyes and her heart overflowing, thanked the audience who had paid her so much homage. She gave thanks to Dr. Prosbery for his speech; to Tannis, Sheila and her grandson, Warren, for being in her procession to the Cubs and Scouts who were honor guard and ushers, respectively, and to all who had arranged or participated in her coronation.

Queen Petra paid tribute to the pioneers who laid the foundation for the community we now enjoy, to the doctors and clergymen who had had served the pioneers.

In closing, Queen Petra said: "I have seen quite a few years go by; many of them were good, but 1967 is the best of them all. I feel at home in Tofield: we are a mixed people of many nationalities and denominations, yet I feel we are just one big family. This makes me feel that I am Mother and Grandmother to you all, but with this honor I feel like sweet sixteen. May God bless you all my loyal subjects, and may 1967 be a prosperous year for all your undertakings"

Queen Petra's first official act was to declare a holiday for Tofield—July 1st!

Before the happy crowd dispersed, they were served coffee and doughnuts by the willing workers from Tofield Junior High School.

Plaque marks 60 years for B of M in Tofield

A plaque will be unveiled here on Monday to commemorate a trio of milestones, Horace Seller, manager of the Tofield branch of the Bank of Montreal, has announced.

The bronze tablet, to be unveiled by Mayor William H. Fraser, has been installed to observe the establishment of Tofield's first bank, the Centennial of Confederation and the 150th anniversary of the Bank of Montreal, Mr. Seller said.

The plaque is located on the front exterior wall of the Patterson Farm Equipment building, originally the first permanent banking office in Tofield.

Following is the text of the plaque to be unveiled:

"On this site in April, 1907, the first bank in Tofield was opened by the Merchants Bank of Canada which later merged with the Bank of Montreal. This plaque commemorates that event and was installed by the Bank to observe its 100th anniversary, in the Centennial year of Canadian Confederation. Unveiled by His Worship William H. Fraser, Mayor of Tofield, May 1, 1967".

The branch was established in April, 1907, by the Merchants Bank of Canada, which later merged with the Bank of Montreal. A frame building, on what now are the northern outskirts of Tofield, housed the branch until the town was moved to its present site.

First permanent premises then were located in the two-storey building now occupied by Patterson Farm Equipment. In 1908, a building on the present site was purchased and, in 1909, this building was sold to the Royal Canadian Legion and moved to a new location. The present quarters then were were built on the same location.

First manager of the branch was R. L. Sisbon. He was succeeded in 1906 by N. C. Legge, who remained in Tofield until 1913. Subsequent managers were C. H. Rowe, 1913-20; W. C. King, 1920-21; H. A. Doak, 1921-25; J. A. Constantine, 1925-28; C. H. Rowe, 1928-31; L. W. Smith, 1931-36; A. E. Allen, 1936-46; D. R. McKay, 1946-47, and E. O. Pedersen, 1947-56.

Mr. Seller, the present manager, has been here since 1954.

Tofield girl a winner in cross-Canada contest

Fifteen year old Gwen Jacobsen of Tofield was named today as one of the winners in an essay contest sponsored by Dominion Stores Limited of Canada.

E. D. Harvison, director of Public Relations for Dominion Stores, Toronto, said that thousands of entries were received from students in grades eight to twelve, from all across the country, and four hundred winners were named. From this number, one hundred were from the West.

Miss Jacobsen, a grade ten student at Tofield High School is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs Morley Jacobsen, RR4, Tofield.

In announcing the results, Dominion Stores said the four hundred winners won week-long holidays at Expo, with all expenses being paid by Dominion Stores. The winners will travel in groups of 80 during July, August and September.

Miss Jacobsen, contacted by The Mercury, said "at first I was informed previously that she had been picked as a winner. Naturally a bit excited, she was quite breathless, and could only repeat, "I didn't know. I just heard about it now for the first time."

About 10 students from Tofield entered the contest, which was divided into two parts, a quiz, and an essay entitled, "Why I would like to visit Expo '67." The essay had to be certified as genuine by the student's teacher; in this case, this was done by Miss Jacobsen's English teacher, Mrs. Gertrude Cann.

Community League plans teen dance

(Grace Phillips)

The Tofield Community League, as one of services to the community, has arranged a Teen Dance for Friday, April 28, in the Community Centre, from 10.00 p.m. to 2:00 a.m.

The League has been urged to sponsor a Teen Dance, and now that one has been arranged it is hoped that it will be well patronized.

'Queen' Petra visits Bethany

(Grace Phillips)

Queen Petra and several members of her "court" visited Bethany Home in Camrose on Monday. Dressed in Centennial costume to accompany Tofield's Queen were Mrs. Georgia Christensen, Mrs. Mabel Boyles, Mrs. Alma Pochaug, Mrs. Nita Kindley, Prom Bardo came Mrs. Evelyne Stauffer, Mrs. Evelyn Fosbaug, Mrs. Beatrice Mosby and Mrs. Olive Fosbaug.

Shortly before her visit, word spread through Bethany of the impending visit, and residents gathered in excited groups waiting the arrival of the Queen and her company. It was worth waiting for Queen Petra did not disappoint them in any way.

These ladies toured the Bethany Home, renewing old acquaintances, among whom was Lem Abbott, an old-timer of Tofield. Mr Abbott, who recently celebrated his 89th birthday, was feeling very well and was happy to see old friends.

No one was overlooked. Every room was entered, and all had a chance to see the Queen and her ladies dressed in the highest style of one hundred years ago. Nor did they just look. Being the charming and gracious lady that she is, Queen Petra talked to everyone, and happy laughter rang through the halls and rooms of Bethany.

What could thrilled many was to fact that Queen Petra is seventy years of age, and such a young seventy. As she herself put it, "I may be seventy, but I act like I was sixteen. It's more fun."

Queen Petra plans a visit to the Vissta Senior Citizens Home in Viking later in the spring.

Queen Petra anticipates a busy schedule in the months ahead, attending various centennial functions, but, she's looking forward to it. She said she would go anywhere any time She enready, nor does she plan to be lays being active, and is not ready to sit back and take it easy for a few years yet.

From the mail bag

Tofield, Alberta.

Dear Sir:

A number of voters gathered at an N D P Meeting in the Tofield Legion Hall on April 13 to hear our candidate in the coming provincial election, Albin Lukawiecki, and Mr. Ed Nelson speak on the issues of today.

Mr Lukawiecki is a young farmer from the Holden district He attended school in a country school and then spent one year in the U of A. The balance of his life was on the farm. Speaking of democratic representation, he said that the present government was elected with 37% of the votes but got 90% of the representation in the legislature . . . we should change that.

Referring to the oil resources of the Alberta Tar Sands, we were told that an estimate of ½ trillion barrels were involved, but only about 1% were reserved to Canadian Companies. These resources should be developed by a Crown corporation instead of the province receiving but a 12½% royalty from them. In answer to the question where would we get the money from 14 to 20 some millions of dollars have been loaned interest free to the Calgary Power to develop one of Alberta's major sites.

Referring to the farm problem, our major problem is that the farmer gets an unfair share of the National income. And the Family farms are being absorbed into larger units because of that imbalance. And that when the farmers prosper the whole community prospers. That while the farms are being absorbed; large industries are enjoying the greatest prosperity in history. Many established family farms have but an average income of $1,360 per year.

The Medicare plan of Alberta is directed by the Medicals and the Insurance Companies.

The second speaker, Ed Nelson from Ponoka, was former president of the F.U.A. for five years and now 1st Vice President of the N D.P.

He was glad to endorse Garth Turcott, N.D.P. Member of the Alberta Legislature, a young lawyer with a great respect for freedom. And he referred to the denial of Canadian rights, of two men, to represent their party as candidates in the legislature.

The present government of Alberta was elected on a platform of progress, but many are thinking that it has departed from that stand Even the late Alberta S.C. leader is reported as saying that it "does not now stand" Politically we in Alberta are like one (a youth) who had fallen into an inheritance and gone on a spending spree.

The Federated Co-operative have oil rights on one well and they pay the government of Alberta a royalty of 90% while the private companies pay from 6% to 14% By the end of this year the oil industry will have gotten back their investment for exploration and development and "from now on all oil revenue will be free" For the future we should use our own resources for ourselves.

Speaking of farmer labour relations and interests, we were told that we are in an age of striving for power and that while some of the unions are with the farmers in supporting a party financed from and by themselves, the N.D.P., some feel that they can get more of their demands in dealing with the industry power groups.

Labour does not make a representive portion of the costs of farm machinery as the profits of the respective machinery companies annual statements show. Much of our farm machinery manufacture is controlled by Brazillian Traction.

"We must learn to take an interest in people not profits" "We must become our brothers keepers".

In 1910 she married George Holden, also from the U.S., and made their home in the Holden district, where he farmed until his death in 1928. Mrs. Holden and her family remained on the farm until 1949, when she and her daughter Bertha moved to Edmonton, making their home there.

She is survived by two sons, Ted (J. T.) and C. Louie, who are both residents of the Bruce district, and still farming; four daughters, Miss Bertha Holden and Mrs George (Clara) Armstrong, both of Edmonton, Mrs. Irvin (Anna) Pedersen of Camrose and Mrs. Benjamin (June Georgina) Kruger of Montana, U.S.A., two brothers, Olaf Larson of Camrose and Anton Larson of Ground Birch, B.C.; one sister, Mrs. Emerson (Mary) Livingston of Montana, U.S.; five grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren

Funeral service was held April 14 from the Holden Lutheran Church, with Rev S. C. Rude officiating, and interment was in the family plot in the Holden cemetery.

ATA sub-local meets April 25

(Grace Phillips)

With president Dick Thiessen in the chair, the Tofield sub-local of the Alberta Teachers' Association met in the school library April 25 to plan future activities and to hear reports from various committees.

Howard Meger, the sub-local representative to the Beaver Local, reported the arrangements for the spring ball meets.

Following routine business, a welcome was extended to Miss Joanne Kryzanowski and Joel Fornal of Holden who, with Dale Lauber, represented the Beaver Local at the Annual Representative Assembly of the A.T.A. during Easter week.

Miss Kryzanowski gave an informative and witty report of the A.R.A., one feature of which was the presentation of a life membership in the A.T.A. to Lars Olson who, before starting his many years of teaching in Holden, taught in the MacKenzie School north of Tofield.

Tofield Golf Club plans tournament here June 4

A meeting of members and friends of the Tofield Golf and Country Club was held on April 19 for the purpose of re-organization for the 1967 season. A new executive was elected, as follows: N. Kashaba, president; P. Kallal, vice-president; F. M. Ingram, secretary; H. Seller, treasurer. Executive: E. Regehr and E. Davison, one-year term; B. Everitt and W. Christensen, two-year term.

Plans were made to hold a tournament on June 4, commencing at 12:30 p.m. There will be flights for juniors, ladies and men. All those who are interested in this type of sport are invited to begin the season with a "fore". Newcomers to Tofield may contact any member of the Executive and he (or she) will be delighted to help you sign the contract for a season of fun and healthy exercise.

A work party will be organized as soon as some signs of spring seem evident. How better can we become acquainted than to work together toward a common goal? Golfer friends from Ryley, Holden, Round Hill, Kingman, Ross Creek, and surrounding districts are cordially invited to patronize or join the club.

Of particular interest to Juniors, those under 16 years of age, is the decision of the executive to allow them free golfing this summer. Let us get together this Centennial year and make our Tofield Golf and Country Club a paying organization.

FUA seeks group plan coverage by Blue Cross

The F U A directors met last week to finalize the result of the past months canvassing to form one a Blue Cross group plan to include hospitalization drugs chiropractor, osteopath therapy etc. They are within about 10 of having the 60% of members join that is a requirement of the group plan, which is more than 12 00 lower per month than the individual plan

It is now squarely up to members if they want this to contact either Shirley Niemetz or Reg Crispin. This should be looked upon as a co-operative effort— no one is making any money out of it No date is available as to when it will be effective, as at present no contract can be entered into until the medical profession and government get together and iron out the kinks that have developed in the past few weeks

The P T A dance on April 14 brought out a good crowd of around 200, and reports were that everything went off well and everyone was well satisfied — Thanks to the ladies of the P W U A. who provided a splendid lunch

On Farmer's Day, June 8, a pot luck dinner and picnic will be held at Hoover's Beach. The dinner will be at 12 00 noon so that those who want can leave to do their chores in time to attend the dance in the Community Hall that evening.

Regarding the Centennial project clean-up and paint-up, the F U A. has been able to make a deal for fried grade paint in five gallon lots at a saving of around $6 00 per gallon The order must be for a minimum of 50 gallons of one colour to be able to obtain this price Contact either C. Niemetz or R. Crispin if interested in any of these projects.

It is hoped to arrange a meeting of all the political parties. Watch paper for dates.

BANG'S VACCINATION

Notices will appear in all local newspapers regarding the spring vaccinating campaign. Farmers who have heifer calves to vaccinate are requested to send in these applications on time so that we can mail out notices to commence vaccinating around May 10th. Dr. Bildfell will do the vaccinating and rates will be the same as in the past. One dollar will be charged where there is one calf to do.

TREE PLANTING

Farmers who wish to pick up tall spruce at the government nursery must have an application sent in for these trees in order that they may be notified when to pick them up. Frank Kehoe, DA, or myself will be glad to supply application forms. In order to plan routes for the County tree planter I must know in advance who will be using the planter. We intend to assist farmers by delivering the planter and helping with the actual planting. Please co-operate by having land staked out in order to save time. There is no charge for the use of our planter and it is expected that all field plantings will be at least 150 feet from the centre line of County roads and highways.

PESTS

Complaints of pocket gophers are starting to come in. These pests will likely get an early start this year and farmers that intend to use our poisoning machine are reminded to get in touch with me regarding information on the areas where the machine will be working.

The bounty of 5 cents per pair of magpie feet will be paid at the end of each month this year. Magpie traps are available for use this summer. No poison baits will be released till next fall.

Ratepayers are reminded to be on the lookout for tree and ornamental damage by insects, these include aphids, spider mites, leaf rollers and numerous other insect pests. Our 1010 K spraying unit will be available for spraying tall trees and shelterbelts.

BACKSLOPED ROADS

Farmers who are working and levelling backslopes are reminded to contact me well in advance of the time they require grass seed for these slopes and ditches. Grass and forage seed is free to farmers who do extra work on roads and will mow right of ways for hay.

Shouldn't lose out

Tofield, Alberta,
April 25, 1967

To The Letter Box:

It has been brought to our attention that the Bakery in Tofield is about to move to another town that has offered good contracts from the Hospital of that town; for lack of support from the Tofield population, merchants and the Hospital.

The Hospital is a public institution and if anyone should patronize local industries, that is where the money comes from to pay salaries, etc.

It seems ironical that Ryley, a smaller community, can support a bakery, whilst Tofield cannot.

Do the people not realize that by supporting the giant chain organizations they are eventually to raise the cost of living still more.

Maybe this letter will get the other side of the story, there usually is one you know. Realize, before too late, what it means to a small town to have these industries.

Imagine! A whole week at Expo.

Gwen Jacobsen is showing her English teacher, Mrs. Gertrude Conn the letter she received from Dominion Stores of Canada Limited informing her that she had won a trip to Expo, all expenses paid for one week, with an essay entitled "Why I would like to visit Expo '67".

Tofield girl all ready for Expo trip in August

Gwen Jacobsen, 15-year-old Tofield girl, has been confirmed as a definite winner in the Dominion Stores Limited of Canada essay contest.

Last week, The Mercury reported that Miss Jacobsen had been announced as a winner, and on the following Friday she received a letter to this effect from E. D. Harvison, director of public relations for Dominion Stores. His letter offered a week's trip to Expo, all expense paid, at a time of her choosing during the summer months.

Miss Jacobsen said yesterday she would probably be making the trip in August, along with other winners from Western Canada. The oldest of three, she was naturally quite excited about the whole thing.

Quite active both at school and in the community, her favorite hobbies are singing and playing softball.

Antique display sparks interest in centennial

Mrs. G. H. Taylor

Centennial interest is becoming more active in Holden and district this past week, with the Centennial Tea and showing of Antiques held in the Community Hall, Saturday, April 29th, by the Lutheran Church Women. The hall was attractively decorated with centennial decorations and flags. A delicious smorgasbord afternoon lunch was served with all the goodies on the menu being home-made such as prevailed in the home in pioneer days.

Most of the LCW members were in centennial dress, several being family garments of the olden days. Many ladies of Holden and district had caught centennial fever, and wore centennial and old-time costumes, making it a very colorful sight.

A number of ladies from Tofield and Ryley attended the event, several of them being in centennial dress.

The display of antiques was most effective, and it was interesting to note that many of the "younger generation" were amazed and puzzled at some of the articles. There were far too many items on display to list, but some of the oldest and most unique included: a wedding gown underskirt from 1867; many assorted dishes from 1836; pioneer coffee grinders and sad irons (and they were rightly called so); paddle butter churns, wooden butter bowl, print and spoon; corn husker; a cream skimmer used before separators were invented; a length of linen, the flax for which was home-grown, spun and woven at home in 1853; an Edison gramaphone with cylindrical records; a lovely tea-set belonging to the late Mrs. Emil Zwierschke, which was 140 years old, and many, many collections of old clothing, including the "glamorous" bathing suits; also furniture, dishes and kitchenware of all kinds and vintages.

Also seen was the most necessary items in the old-time bedroom—a wash-commode, with wash-bowl, water-jug, and "you know what" in the cupboard, as there was no indoor plumbing those days. One of the oldest items was an English key-wind watch—dated 1745, belonging to Bud Sizer, an old family heirloom with an English farthing of 1872 on the watch chain.

Field work delayed

Seeding will be late this year due to the late, cool spring, with snow still lying on fields.

In the Tofield and surrounding districts, it looks as if it will be another week or two before the majority of farmers will be able to start field work. Probably less wheat will be sown as a result of the late season. Surface moisture in these districts is reckoned by Alberta Wheat Pool agents, at from 85% at Holden to 100% at Bardo, Shonts and Ryley, with 95% at Tofield.

Mayor unveils plaque in Tofield ceremony

A plaque, commemorating the establishment of the Bank of Montreal in Tofield sixty years ago was unveiled Monday morning by Mayor William H. Freebury.

The ceremony, held at the site of the first bank in Tofield was presided over by Horace Seller, present manager of the branch in Tofield, who welcomed those attending the ceremony, and introduced the mayor who unveiled the bronze plaque.

Present for the unveiling were Councillors Bert Everitt, Conn Patterson and Arnold Swift, along with Harold Weatherill, representing Beaver County; Edward Watson, president of the Tofield Chamber of Commerce, and Mark Ferguson, the first depositor in the bank.

The first permanent site, now occupied by Patterson Farm Equipment Ltd., was the site for the commemoration ceremonies. The present bank is located two blocks north on the same street.

Takes all kinds

One of the great saving graces of living in a democracy, with all its inefficiency, is the ability to hear the views of people of other persuasions, and wonder how in the world these make sense to them or anyone else. One of the people who most regularly fills this role for us is Neil Reimer, provincial leader of the NDP. One way or another, we find we can count on Mr. Reimer for a chuckle just about every week, as we wonder about his "latest".

Last week at a rally in Grande Prairie he blasted the Social Crediters for devoting less than three quarters of one percent of this year's budget . . . only six million out of 834 millions of dollars . . . for northern development. The north is the land of forgotten people, he charged.

It sounds wonderful, and it rolls off so easily. After all, less than one percent is a pretty small share.

But what about the share of the 834 million earmarked for northern schools? How many of those dollars will be poured into northern highways? Public health and welfare are big spenders, and it seems incredible the north should be forgotten in this program. Has Mr. Reimer not noticed the countless other services being provided for northern citizens as for citizens in other areas, or has he conveniently chosen to overlook these facts in highlighting the "cavalier" disregard for the poor residents up north?

For that matter, why should the rest of us not make a fuss about that three quarters of one percent? Is any money being spent on development down south? Could it be that we're the ones being badly treated?

Moving all the way to Thursby, Mr. Reimer told a group of farmers that of "a budget this year of more than 834 million dollars Social Credit allotted the menial amount of 17½ million dollars to Agriculture . . . just a little better than one per cent".

One can prove any kind of case with arithmetic like this. Actually it's more than two percent, twice as much as Mr. Reimer disparagingly reports.

New product to market

Canada's Centennial celebrations could be one of our most important products for sale to international markets, points out a recent letter from the Bank of Montreal public relations department. It suggests the Canadian travel account will likely show strong improvement during this year, since not only will more visitors likely be attracted to Canada, but more Canadians will be persuaded to spend their holiday dollars here.

We were surprised to learn that on a per capita basis, Canadians spend far more money on international tourist activities than do the residents of almost any other country, and about three times as much as our neighbors to the south. In view of the higher incomes in the States, with its resultant greater share for luxury items, we should have thought Americans would outrank us on international tourism. Instead, it is only because we are so greatly outnumbered by them that our international tourism account actually shows a surplus.

If we can establish a larger Canadian market in tourism during this centennial year, maybe we can maintain the market in years to come.

Errors on tax forms

Now that large numbers of income tax forms have hit the tax offices, some trends are surprising tax officials. One senior officer in a prairie taxation office reports that nearly one in three farmers filing early has an error in the Canada Pension Plan portion.

Two main categories showed up: those not filling in the CPP portion at all, and those forgetting to deduct payments to CPP before arriving at the taxable income figure. Still another, oddly, involves saying too much. In the hope of building up a larger pension

Plaintively the official asks for accuracy in filling out the reports: "It is really not all that hard, you know try to avoid these . . . errors. For your own sake as well as ours!"

We can just imagine the public-spirited surge of taxpayers enthusiastically trying to see that next year's returns are filled out without errors, to save all that fuss for the tax office officials. Even though the form may be beyond comprehension for thousands of taxpayers, they'll still struggle to reduce the burden for the long-suffering tax department.

Of course, this year's tax form could hardly be expected to be perfectly intelligible to everyone . . . after all, it only cost $46,000 to design this year's form. Maybe we could spend more next year, and come up with a form that would confuse everybody

MINIMUM PROGRAM

OTTAWA—The longest session of Parliament in Canadian history officially ends today (May 4) to make international way for the Centennial session.

The new session, Prime Minister Pearson has already predicted, is going to keep MPs just about as busy as if there was no Expo 67 to enjoy, no foreign dignaries to receive, and no celebrations to attend up and down the country.

Yet this was supposed to be the birthday year that even $18,000 - a - year elected representatives of the Canadian people were going to be able to enjoy with a minimum work load.

Instead, all the MPs are presently guaranteed is one week off during the Queen's visit at the beginning of July. Then they'll be faced for at least another week, according to the Prime Minister's reckoning, to complete Parliament's essential housekeeping tasks before fall.

The real work — consideration of the government's new legislative program — comes even begin until then. And that program, Mr. Pearson has already revealed in a pre - Speech - from - the - Throne forecast, consists of about 20 new items.

"We can stay all summer, or we can come back in September or October", he warned the Commons recently.

What has gone wrong?

Government spokesmen naturally blame the backlog on what they call the opposition's time-wasting tactics. The debate on amendments of the Armed Forces is their obvious example, having continued 25 days during the short - term supply debate last Fall, 28 days in Defence Committee hearings and 15 days on clause-by-clause consideration.

The unification debate finally ended April 25, but only because the Government had imposed a modified form of closure.

Opposition spokesmen such as Gordon Churchill (PC - Winnipeg South Centre), are naturally opposed to any form of compulsory closure. It amounts to curtailment of freedom of speech and can prevent the opposition from introducing bad legislation.

But Mr. Pearson's answer is also one of debating time by all-party agreement. This must become the rule, not the exception, he says if the growing legislative needs of Canada are going to be met.

Mr. Churchill reports that all parties have already agreed to certain time restrictions on the Throne speech, budget and supply debates and on the daily question period. He and Mr. Diefenbaker suggest Parliament may have already gone too far in this direction, turning the opposition into a rubber stamp.

TRYING TOO MUCH

If this view continues to be that of the Official Opposition, the Government will be unable to get through its program without the use of closure which no one wants. The fact that the Conservatives agreed to wind up the session last week once the unification bill was passed indicates, however, that their bark may be louder than their bite.

The opposition attitude in the final analysis will be determined by the public view of Parliament's performance. Is Canada in need of a lot of new legislation this year? Obviously, the need for reform is felt on a broad front. What of the program Mr. Pearson is about to set out?

He promises major reforms in pensions, law, penal reform, and the treatment of juvenile delinquents. Are you, the voter, satisfied with present law and practice in these fields?

He says he'll be broadcasting, Immigration, Unemployment Insurance, and National Housing Acts should be overhauled this year. There have been white paper policy statements on broadcasting and immigration and committees studying both. Farmers and others have said much about unemployment insurance. Everyone is concerned about housing.

IS IT TOO BIG A PROGRAM?

The Prime Minister feels Parliament should have a final say on whether it should carry out its parliament Do you?

He wants to set up the long-promised Canada Development Corporation. Perhaps it won't.

What about a new Corporations Act which would "provide better information by corporations and offer protection for investors"?

Remember that special committee report on election expenses? The Prime Minister would like to get some of it into law. He'd also like to get the parties to agree to a ceiling on how much they spend on general election campaigns.

There's lots more Mr. Pearson wants to propose. For the moment he has no more words for the session, but he has promised a law to control certain controversial areas and amendments to the Food and Drugs Act, the criminal code, the Canada Elections Act etc.

Perhaps you think it's too much — or not enough. He thinks it's a maximum program for any government in

Centennial Report

1867 1967

By JOHN W. FISHER
CENTENNIAL COMMISSIONER

Joe Crawford of the Blackfoot Indian Reserve, Gleichen, Alberta, is a direct de-scendant of the Blackfoot Confederacy.

Jerry Potts of the Peigan Indian Reserve, Brocket, Alberta, is a direct descendant of the famous R.C.M.P. scout of the same name who was associated with Assistant Commissioner J. F. Macleod when he journeyed to Alberta in 1874 to build the outpost Fort Macleod and gain the confidence and goodwill of the Blackfoot Indian Confederacy.

This year the two descendants, Crawford and Potts, will have parts to play in the R.C.M.P.'s Centennial project, the June to November tour of the Musical Ride and 50 - member Concert Band.

When the Mounties's Centennial performers arrive at Fort Macleod on June 14 this year there will be a re-enactment of the historic arrival of Macleod in 1874. Both Crawford and Potts will play the parts of their colorful and famous ancestors.

For those interested in the history of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police perhaps June 14 will be the high point in the Centennial tour of the Musical Ride and Band.

The history of the Musical Ride goes back almost to the beginning of the RCMP whose development has been a significant factor in Canada's Confederation, especially during western expansion in the years 1873 to 1905.

Centennial . . .

Aside from the Riel uprisings, Prairie settlement was relatively peaceful in Canada because the rule of law was established by the Mounties first — before the mass influx of homesteaders.

The Mounties performed their first Musical ride in 1876, only three years after the force was founded. The first unofficial band of the police force was set up the same year but the "official band" was not created until 1936.

Having performed before hundreds of thousands, at events such as the Canadian National Exhibition and at ceremonial occasions such as the coronations of King George V, King George VI and Queen Elizabeth, the Ride has become an important tradition for Canadians. A performance of intricate figures and formations by a full troop of 32 men and horses, it also is thrilling entertainment.

Like the Musical Ride, the Concert Band is a permanent branch of the Force. There have been at least eight separate bands, dating as far back as 1876. In the early days of the west a band was a morale builder at times when loneliness and isolation were almost as much a threat as warring Indian and rum runners.

Today the band is a full time unit stationed in Ottawa and in the past 30 years it has had more than two thousand engagements including national tours and historic occasions such as royal visits, coronation ceremonies, conferences of wartime leaders, British Empire Games, exhibitions and carnivals.

Hundreds of thousands will see the Musical Ride and Band on its Centennial tour which includes engagements at the Canadian National Exhibition and Expo '67

Verner's Bakery not going

Verner's Bakery is definitely not leaving Tofield.

The Mercury was assured this during the week, and is happy to correct an impression contained in last week's issue. A Letter to the Editor was published in good faith, and was responsible for the report being circulated in the first place. However, in the light of the two letters printed below, it seems hard to understand the impression gained by the writer of the letter.

Especially in small centres such reports can be embarrassing, and The Mercury is indeed sorry for unwittingly having distressed the Jensens. However, the end result may possibly be better for all in clarifying the situation beyond doubt.

RE: VERNER'S BAKERY

Dear Sirs:

This is to advise that I am acting as the solicitor for Verner's Bakery in Tofield. I refer to the letter printed in your Thursday, April 27th, 1967, edition of the Mercury. My clients' bakery business is the only one in existence in Tofield, and there is no doubt that the letter refers to them. The letter indicates that the bakery is about to move to another town and, in fact, is not a going concern. The indication is that it is in financial difficulty.

My clients state that this certainly is not the case and that they have no intention of moving out of the town. They further state that the Hospital in Tofield has always been their customer.

In view of the statements made in the letter, my clients insist that you print the enclosed letter on the front page of your next edition of the Mercury with an appropriate headline. You appreciate, of course, that serious legal complications can result in a situation such as this. My clients also wish to have the name of the party who inserted the letter under the signature of "Here's Hoping".

My clients understand, of course, that there will be no charge for the insertion of their letter.

If you have any questions with regard to this matter please do not hesitate to contact me in Edmonton.

Yours sincerely,
COLLINS & BRAUL.

VERNER'S BAKERY NOT MOVING

Tofield, Alberta

Sir:

In reply to the letter addressed to "The Letter Box" in The Tofield Mercury of Thursday, April 27th, 1967, and signed by "Here's Hoping", this is to advise that the contents thereof are completely untrue. We have established many friends and regular customers in the Town and District of Tofield and have no intention of moving to another town. We consider ourselves fortunate in having obtained the support of the Tofield population, merchants and the hospital.

With regard to the Hospital in Tofield, the statement made by "Here's Hoping" is most regrettable. The Hospital has dealt with our firm since the time that we commenced our operation in the district. We have received orders from them since January 1st of 1960.

In conclusion, we would like to extend to the people of Tofield and District our sincere thanks for their patronage and we expect to continue in operation serving the Town and District for many years to come.

Aimo and Jackie Jensen.

SIX CHOIRS PARTICIPATE IN HYMN SING

(Grace Phillips)

A most successful Centennial Hymn-Sing was held in the Tofield Community Centre on Sunday, April 30, with six choirs participating.

Choirs taking part in the festival were: The Tofield Mennonite Choir, United Church Choir, Ryley High School Chorus, Salem Mennonite Choir, Kingman Parish Choir and Mennonite Brethren Choir.

The Rev. W. McDonald, chairman for the evening, introduced the choirs, gave brief excerpts from the research Mrs. George McFadzean had done on the hymns sung by the congregation, and pronounced the benediction.

Dr. W. H. Freebury, Mayor of Tofield and president of the Centennial Committee which sponsored the Hymn-Sing, thanked the choirs for their presentations, as well as all those who had worked to make this event a memorable occasion.

That this event had aroused public interest and participation was demonstrated by the large crowd which filled the Community Centre to the doors. Mr. and Mrs. George McFadzean were responsible for the arrangements for the Hymn-Sing.

Busy weeks are ahead for Community League

(Grace Phillips)

The regular May meeting of the Tofield Community League was held on Tuesday, May 2, in the Community Centre, with the president, Lionel Borton, in the chair and sixteen members present.

A. Swift reported that Mr. Coates will have his band ready for the July 1 celebration. This band will include members of the school band as well as adult members of former bands.

A Campers' Bingo has been arranged by John Baergen for May 17 in the Community Centre. There will be $200 worth of prizes, all designed to please the families who enjoy the outdoors, whether they be fishermen or campers. Prizes include air mattress, sleeping bag, holiday luggage set, electric barbecue, lawn chair set (2), a 34"x60" picnic table, 1 gallon thermos jug and a Stay-cold cooler, a car top carrier, camp-cook set, hunter's lantern, web lounge, life jacket, camping stove, fishing rod, lawn umbrella with stand. A door prize, for which holders of advance tickets are eligible, will be awarded.

Mr Lampitt reported that the Teen Dance, held April 28, was a success. It was well attended and the League made a small profit.

EXPENSES RISE

Since the hall expenses, especially repairs, have increased sharply, upward revision of rental rates came under discussion.

E. Stinson reported on arrangements so far completed for the Youth Exchange Program.

The Lions' Club has proposed a co-ordinating committee consisting of representatives from the Legion, the Lions' Club, the Community League and the Farmers' Union be set up to sponsor sports for the youth of the community. The League endorsed the idea and appointed J Baergen and J. C. Lampitt as its representatives.

It was decided to hold a Teen Queen-and-Princess contest, much the same as was held last year. J. Baergen and G. Phillips are appointed a committee to complete arrangements for this contest.

Bill Davison introduced the president of the Light Horse Club, Dave Watt. They reported that the Gymkhana Club might like to use the facilities of the Tofield Exhibition grounds. This idea had the hearty endorsation of the League.

Committees for July 1 were discussed. Bill Davison is considering ordering buffalo meat for this year's barbecue, of which he is again in charge. Other committees were discussed and personnel assigned to them. Most help is needed on Dominion Day . . . yours would be appreciated.

Vegreville - Bruce has a full slate of candidates

Four candidates have filed nomination papers to contest the Vegreville-Bruce seat in the forthcoming provincial election.

Miss W. Gordey, who won the seat for the Social Credit in the last election with 1,721 votes, will again carry the Social Credit banner.

Wilfred Horton will again contest the seat on behalf of the Liberal Party, while Alvin Lukawiecki of the New Democratic Party will be making his second attempt in a provincial election.

The lone new face in the race belongs to Michael Kawulych of the Progressive Conservative Party.

Reports indicate that the race will be a close one, with the Social Credit and Liberal candidates being touted as the best "bets".

Ronning heads for Geneva as peace talks delegate

Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Ronning leave for Geneva today, where he is a delegate to a world peace conference of official and unofficial delegates from East and West — communist, non-communist and unaligned nations.

U. Thant, Secretary General of the United Nations, will be a major speaker. United States Senator J. William Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, will attend as a participant.

Known as Pacem in Terris - II, the convocation has been called for May 23 - 31 in the Swiss capital by the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions, a private American organization, operated by the Fund for the Republic, Inc. Chairman of the Board is United States Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas. President is Robert M. Hutchins, former president of the University of Chicago. Abdul Rahman Pazwak, President of the United Nations General Assembly, will preside at the discussion on "Threats to Coexistence".

Dr Ronning will preside at the discussion on "Intervention: The Case of Vietnam", and J. Kenneth Galbraith, the American economist, will preside at the discussion on "Interdependence".

The first Pacem in Terris convocation took its name from the "Peace on Earth" encyclical of the late Pope John XXIII, who appealed for peaceful coexistence between East and West, was held in February, 1963, in New York City and was attended by 300 delegates and 2,300 persons from nearly all parts of the world.

Dr. and Mrs. Ronning will visit Ottawa, New York and Washington, D.C., before going overseas. They will be joined in London by Dr. and Mrs. Harold Ronning of Pasadena, formerly on the staff of Camrose Lutheran College, and who are guests of the convocation. The Ronnings will then visit Norway and Denmark before going to Geneva.

Centennial Folk Festival to feature ethnic dances

(Mrs. G. Phillips)

On May 27, the residents of Tofield and district will have the privilege of attending a Folk Festival presented by and representing the various nationalities which compose our community. "They Brought Their Gifts" is the theme of the festival.

Co-sponsored by the staff of the Tofield Hospital, the staff of the Tofield branch of the Bank of Montreal and the staff of Calgary Power, the event has been arranged by Miss Ruth Krause and her committee, Margaret Dickson, Horace Seiler, Harold Schultz, Vi Quaglia, Mr. Penny and Ray Hendrickson.

The evening will be divided into two parts. At 7:45, a program of folk dancing will be presented, with Harold Schultz as master of ceremonies. Later in the evening, after lunch, old time dancing will be enjoyed.

MAYPOLE DANCE

Beginning the program, Mrs. Evelit's Grade III class will present the Maypole Dance. May is the month of flowers; and as fair sweet as ladie, the first of May has been a gala day ever since the dawn of history.

In England, May Day has been a festival and flowers from time immemorial. Every village would had a Maypole; on May Morning, the youth of the village went to the woods and gathered flowers to garland the Maypole. A May Queen was chosen and the May dance was performed by the young girls around the Maypole.

allowing the English dance, the Grade IV children, under the direction of Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Sears, will demonstrate European rhythmic games. These games were played in the open squares of the towns of Europe and were brought to Canada by the early settlers as part of the culture of their homeland.

Most of these were done with singing or instrumental accompaniment — they are still done this way in the physical education classes of today. The Grade IV's will present two of these games—a German "Kinderpolka" and a Danish Dance of Greeting.

The Jensen Orchestra will give a musical interlude following the rhythmic games.

SCOTCH CULTURE

From Ryley come two reminders of Scotch culture. Linda Cross, accompanied by Gordon Kyle on the bagpipes, will perform the Highland fling. This dance was traditionally performed on the eve of battle. The dancers' nimbleness in avoiding the crossed swords, after which the dance is done, was said to foretell his success in battle.

Mrs. Ruddy is accompanying several girls in the Highland Reel, a dance beloved by Highlanders everywhere.

EXOTIC ORISHY

A touch of the exotic Orient will be presented by two teachers from Holden, who have come to Beaver County from the Philippines, in native folk dances.

A dance from the Emerald Isle will be presented by the three Ingram girls, Beth, Annis and Susan, and Judy Moore. This is a light-hearted dance, typical of the Irish. Mrs. Dunham will direct some Old English country dances, which will demonstrate the type of dancing enjoyed by the people of England in an earlier era.

A solo Ukrainian dance by Phyllis Bunchak will recall for people of Ukrainian origin their vigorous national dances.

OLD-TIME DANCING

Following lunch, served by the hospital staff, the evening will be given over to old-time dancing. Squares from many districts are attending, and Enid orchestras will share in supplying the music. The Lawson Family, the Blue Jays (Arnold Jones, his two sons, and Lyle Jacobson), Keith Appleby's orchestra and the Tiedemann orchestra will provide the music after "Birdie in the Cage," "From a Jay with a Right Hand Cross", "Lady Round a Lady", "Down the Centre and Cast Off Six" and the "Wells Quadrille". The square dances will be called by George Lee and Lloyd Herbert.

As well as the square dancing, the dancers will enjoy schol-

Carries banner for Liberals

WILF HORTON

Wilf Horton, 35-year-old publisher of The Vegreville Observer, was nominated to contest the Vegreville-Bruce Constituency at a Liberal nominating convention in Vegreville last week.

Mr. Horton has a record of public service and is presently a councillor of the Town of Vegreville. He has taken an active part in community affairs—past president of the Vegreville Chamber of Commerce, a director of the Vegreville Exhibition Association and an active member of many community service organizations. His background makes him cognizant of the problems facing farm operations and community growth.

He was a candidate in the last provincial elections.

Off on the wrong track

There are a number of good ideas in the platform of the Conservative party now campaigning, but we don't feel that the policy of selling Alberta Government Telephones is one of them.

The party last week suggested the sale of AGT to Albertans, much on the same basis as Alberta Gas Trunk Liner shares were sold a few years ago to residents of the province. The proceeds, which are estimated at something in excess of 120 million dollars, would then be used to build up a proposed Alberta Development Fund to help overcome the slow growth of the Alberta economy apart from the petroleum portion of it, and help avoid the need for a sales tax here.

Several reasons are given by the party to support the proposal, among which are that it would give individual Albertans an opportunity to invest their savings in Alberta's growth, and that it would take the government out of a business which is run efficiently in other provinces, and yet maintain the control within Alberta.

Yet the policy overlooks the fact that AGT is owned by Albertans right now. None of us has shares to show for our ownership, true, but we're still owners. And we all have the opportunity right now to put our savings to work developing the province. There's no need to channel the money off indirectly . . . it could go directly into the Alberta Development Fund proposed.

The only thing is that given the opportunity a few months ago by the provincial premier, most of us didn't show very much interest for some reason or other.

If AGT's operation were manifestly inferior, if their rates were exorbitant, if there were very general dissatisfaction, then we agree a good case might be made for getting the province out of the business. But even though we feel their rates have increased more than warranted, they are still lower than most rates we've seen from privately operated systems. And if other areas of the province are enjoying the level of telephone service we get in Camrose, we think some privately owned and operated enterprises could take lessons.

Private enterprise is an ideal we support equally with the Conservatives, but at the same time we can't see the merit in liquidating an efficient operation.

Conflict ahead

Two trends reported in eastern financial circles recently portend trouble before they're straightened out. The first forecasts more unsettling changes in the climate for wage rates as 98,000 federal servants in the blue collar class will tie into round of wage negotiations at the same time as the government is increasingly setting the pace for higher wages in the hard-to-find technocrat type of worker who works with computers. It is expected that once again the federal government will be used as an indication of percentage increases sought in other fields of employment.

At the same time, a special survey of 58 investor-owned companies which have already released results of their first three months of operations shows that slightly less than half, 28, have recorded gains over first quarter earnings of 1966. Two remained at a plateau, while the remainder registered declines.

The combination of effects is expected to produce pressure not healthy for the business outlook in general.

National forest week

"Let's keep our forest green and growing" is the main message of national forest week, running from Sunday to Saturday this week. Forests are much more than trees, points out the Prairie Provinces Forestry Association, yet as trees in communities they form a balance wheel, keeping the entire world of nature in time and tune. The complementary balance that results gives us pure air, clear water, wild creatures, game fish, and the ability to gain spiritual and physical strength in the quiet beauty of forest, lake and river.

In addition, the harvest of this great treasure house provides us with over 5,000 essential items coming from wood, as well as furnishing countless thousands of jobs for Canadians.

Every citizen should take a personal responsibility in protecting the forest playground which provides us all with so many blessings.

GUILLOTINES AND CORNER CUTTING

OTTAWA. — Prime Minister L. B. Pearson stunned Members of Parliament when he recently outlined the work load waiting for them in the new Centennial session.

The Prime Minister in effect read the throne speech in advance by outlining all the legislation that remained to go before the new session. The M.P.'s were so shocked that they began sitting longer hours.

Finally in a last desperate drive to get some vital measures completed before they knocked off for a 10-day holiday, to mark the opening of Expo 67, the members sat until 3:20 a.m. on Thursday, April 27. They then rose to leave the Senate in session for several more days while it completed consideration of the work the M.P.'s had just finished.

The Centennial session is the second session of the 27th Parliament.

NEWS RECORDS FALL

The first session by sitting 250 days established a record as the longest in the history of Canada. The previous record for lengthy sessions was established in 1964 in the "flag" session. It sat for 248 days.

The Centennial session work load appears equally as heavy as the burden the members groaned under as they struggled through the 1966-67 session of Parliament.

It was only by using the so-called "guillotine" rule that the minority Liberal Government was able to bring to a halt the prolonged debate on the Defence Unification Bill.

CHANGES HAVE TO COME

The Prime Minister would like to see the work of parliament expedited. Last year's program was so large as to be unmanageable without calendar reform. With equally as heavy an agenda for the Centennial session the M.P.'s are expecting that the "guillotine" rule will be utilized more frequently by the Government.

That rule was one of the several revisions in Commons procedure adopted in 1965 and continued on as a temporary measure for the Centennial session, as well as for the session that was ended on the morning of May 8. The "guillotine" rule was first put to use and carried through all its stages, in the debate on defence unification.

There was little public reaction. The Liberals contend that the guillotine move was accepted as the only alternative open to the government unless it resorted to "closure".

As a result the feeling on Parliament Hill is that the government will fall back frequently on the guillotine rule to cut short [illegible].

LESSER EVIL

The government feels it is an acceptable alternative to the unpopular "closure".

The "closure" rule cutting debate short arbitrarily was invoked during the infamous pipeline debate in 1956. The Press Gallery almost unanimously condemned the then Liberal Government for its handling of the debate and its use of the "closure" rule.

In 1957 the Liberal Government went down to defeat, as public feeling over the "arrogant" attitude of the Liberals in the pipeline question reacted among the voting public. Reluctantly the Liberals again invoked closure in 1964 to terminate the lengthy debate on the new flag. They took that action only after weeks of soul-searching among the Cabinet. But it proved a popular decision.

Now the "guillotine" rule is not regarded as an action so arbitrary as the use of "closure". So it could be used more freely.

HORSE AND BUGGY METHODS

The Prime Minister told the Commons last month (April) that all the complex changes in our society require changes in the law and in the legislative processes to keep pace with them. If the laws are not adjusted in accordance with the requirements they could impede the development of Canada and reduce the country's capacity to provide the standards and levels which Canada would be otherwise capable of maintaining.

That meant, Mr. Pearson said, that more legislation is required on more subjects in this country than ever before in its history. He warned that if the parliamentary institutions were not capable of coping effectively with these requirements the Canadian people would lose faith in parliament and its process and they would lose faith in democracy also.

With such a heavy load of legislation being pushed through Parliament it is not surprising to find that the government has taken some shortcuts.

In the 1966-67 session there was the case of Revenue Minister Edgar Benson resorting to contingency funds to break a supply debate. This stirred up a storm of protest among opposition members. Then there was the move by Secretary of State Judy LaMarsh to establish a new crown corporation by means of a supplementary estimate. This is the first time such a procedure has been followed and it, too, has aroused protests from the opposition.

PROTESTS STIRRED

The government was caught making another "corner cutting" manoeuvre near the end of the 1966-67 session. On March 3 the government secured first reading of a bill respecting the occupational training of adults. It is based on the policy enunciated last October at a federal-provincial conference by the Prime Minister. Manpower Minister Jean Marchand had reason to expect solid support for the bill. He had made agreements with the provinces and was impatient to get on with the program. His target date was March 31. Normally he would have secured passage of the bill and thereby have the authority to enact the necessary regulations.

But with the slow pace of Parliament, the bill was not [illegible] in time to meet the March 31 target date. Mr. Ma[illegible] the regulations an[illegible] them on an item in the estimates and the pre-Easter vote on the one month's supply. The government legislated a new program on regulations which subsequently had to be brought under the authority of the legislation.

This is playing with parliamentary rules, a procedure which could back-fire on the government if it keeps up.

(Mrs. S. Kolodychuk)

RYLEY. — The local members of the Knights of Columbus went to Vegreville recently to attend the Initiation of 77 [illegible] and the banquet which followed. The day started with Mass and Communion, followed by breakfast at Holy Trinity Church basement auditorium.

Initiation ceremonies followed. All the Knights and their wives sat down to a lovely banquet, catered by the Greek Catholic Ladies' League of St. Anne Parish. Master of ceremonies was Dr. Ian Stefanick, and guest speaker was State Deputy Dale Miller. An entertaining program was held at the St. Martin's School auditorium.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Seniuk, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Rokas and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Strichuk motored to Vegreville for the occasion, where Ted was one of those initiated.

New officers installed at joint CWL supper meet

(Mrs. S. Kolodychuk)

RYLEY.—Old fashioned gowns and hats lent a Centennial air to the Ryley, Tofield and Ministik Annual C.W.L. Communion Supper held at Ryley in honor of their Patroness "Our Lady of Good Counsel", whose feast day fell on April 26.

The evening Mass was celebrated by Father Scriven, followed by the colorful installation of the C.W.L. officers for 1967, as follows:

Tofield — Mrs. M. Dickson, president; Mrs. L. Eastlick, 1st vice-president; Mrs. H. Glover, 2nd vice-president; Mrs. Fleck, 3rd vice-president; Mrs. D. Shewchuk, secretary; Mrs. J. Yakabuski, treasurer.

Ryley — Mrs. D. Manderson, president; Mrs. C. Kosack, 1st vice-president; Mrs. T. Erickson, secretary; Mrs. R. Hisey, treasurer.

The members then retired to the Legion Hall, where Ryley C.W.L. hosted Tofield and Ministik to a delicious banquet, catered by the United Church Women of Ryley. The beautiful three-tiered centenial cake, decorated in blue, white and gold (colors of the Madonna) was made by Mrs. D. Manderson. The bottom layer was decorated as Canada's Centennial, 2nd tier, 300 years for their Patroness, Our Lady of Good Counsel, and the top layer 40 years for Tofield as chartered members of the Catholic Women's League of Canada. The top ornament was made by Miles Poliak of Edmonton.

Father Scriven welcomed the ladies and proposed the toast to Mrs. C. Kallal Sr. and Mrs. Yakabuski, the only two members still living in Tofield who had signed the C.W.L. Charter in 1927.

SPEAKS ON "ECUMENISM"

He then introduced the guest speaker, Rev. Father Cordeau of St. Pius X Church in Edmonton, who spoke very eloquently on "Ecumenism". He said the concern for restoring unity pertains to the whole Church, faithful and clergy. The faithful must study the wants of Council II and then practise the new liturgical changes already made in our Churches. For it is from newness of attitudes, from self-denial and unstinted love, that yearnings for unity take their rise and grow toward maturity. All Christians can work together to relieve poverty, natural disasters and illiteracy.

The ladies enjoyed a native song of the Philippines rendered by Miss E. Marquez, Miss C. Reyes and Miss S. Corellas, who are presently teaching at Ryley.

Father Scrivens presented Centennial Commemorative spoons to the retiring presidents, Mrs. C. Hoberge, Mrs. S. Kolodychuk and Mrs. L. Eastlick. Mementos were also presented to the philippine girls and to Mrs. C. Kallal Sr. and Mrs. J. Yakabuski. Four members, Mrs. R. Hisey, Mrs. A. Podruzny, Mrs. S. Kolodychuk and Mrs. T. Erickson of Ryley were honored for having perfect attendance records in 1966.

Mrs. D. Manderson presented Father Scriven with an oil mountain scene painted by herself and, much to Father's surprise, everyone joined in to sing "Happy Birthday". The top layer and ornament of the cake was presented to Mrs. M. Dickson as a memento of this occasion, and she very graciously thanked Fr. Cordeau for his inspiring words and the Ryley members for making the evening such a memorable one.

The United Church Women were called in and given a hearty applause for serving such a wonderful meal, and the evening closed with a hymn, "Holy God We Praise Thy Name".

KEEP ALBERTA MOVING AHEAD WITH SOCIAL CREDIT!

for the best years of your life

Alberta is on the move! Here is a zest and enthusiasm that's found nowhere else in Canada. Alberta's past record is impressive, but the years ahead will prove to be even greater. There's optimism and excitement in the air — with good reason! Every year sees dynamic steps forward — the implementation of new and progressive plans of action to benefit every Albertan.

Consider progress in Alberta! The Alberta Health Plan, with its comprehensive benefits; the continuing orderly development of the province's vast natural resources, and legislation that gives a 75 percent rebate on estate taxes, but still keeps the province sales tax free. Whether you're looking at the Government's education program that involves expenditure of over $275 million, or the fact that Alberta has Canada's first Ombudsman to safeguard human rights — the picture is clear — Alberta is the province for the best years of your life!

FWUA marks 42nd anniversary during centennial year

(Intended for last week)

Canada's Centennial year is a time for looking back to early beginnings for the dominion as a country, and also in organizations in various communities. Tofield being predominately a farming community, the formation of the (then) United Farm Women of Alberta some 42 years ago was an important event to local women.

FORMED IN 1925

The first U.F.W.A. local in Tofield was formed October 24, 1925. At a well attended meeting, Mrs. W. D. McNaughton of Ranfurly, District Director, set out the aims and ideals of the organization, and the advantages of belonging to a local branch. It was unanimously voted to form such a group. Officers elected were: Mrs. Johnstone Ferguson, president; Mrs. J. Warner, vice-president; Mrs. Hingston, secretary-treasurer. Directors: Mrs. Wm. Parker, Mrs. A. N. Booth, Mrs. J. L. Gray, Mrs. C. Baptist and Mrs. F. O. Ball.

On March 18, 1949, it was voted to change the name from United Farm Women of Alberta, to Farm Women's Union of Alberta, in line with the change in the Provincial Organization.

Junior Locals in Alberta are the responsibility of the women's groups, and in this area three such locals were formed. In 1931, Bardo and Tofield Juniors were organized, and in 1935 the Ketchamoot Junior U.F.A. was formed. These three locals were active for a relatively short time, and disbanded when interest waned.

In its 42 years of life, the Tofield F.W.U.A. has made a very great contribution to the community and to many humanitarian projects. Generous donations have been made yearly since 1925 to the Red Cross, C.N.I.B., the Unitarians, T.B. Seals, the Salvation Army and the Cancer Society. Donations through the years have gone to refugee funds, Korean relief, prisoners of war fund, the Winnipeg flood relief, and many, many other worthy causes. Locally they have donated to curtains for the Community Hall, movie projector for the School, Tofield Ambulance, Tofield Library, the Lions' Skating Rink, coffee, pots and bowls for the Community Kitchen. They loaned $100.00 to the Community League, and last year donated it outright.

During the war years the Red Cross was devotedly supported by the Farm Women, who knit sweaters, socks, mitts and scarves in an endless stream, and pieced and tied quilts by the dozens, which were turned over to the Red Cross. Woollen blankets were donated to the Red Cross, and also blankets, slippers and layettes to the hospital when it was opened.

With a record of service and fellowship for 42 years, the F.W.U.A. looks to the future with continued high hope.

Mrs. Finseth is new president of Bardo WCTU

(Intended for last week)

The April meeting of the Bardo W.C.T.U. was held at the home of Mrs. Laura Francis of Tofield.

The following new officers took charge: Mrs. Mary Finseth, president; Mrs. Laura Francis, vice-president; Mrs. Pauline Rude, secretary; Mrs. Marie Francis, treasurer; Mrs. Esther Brekkan, press; Mrs. Nita Kindley, evangelistic; Mrs. Borghild Rude, national temperance study course; Mrs. Norma Anderson, speech contest; Mrs. Lillian Berreclo[illegible]h, laws and legislation; Mrs. Nora Anderson, little white ribboners; Mrs. Anna Taekema, scientific temperance instructions; Mrs. Mabel Johnson, flower mission and relief.

'Queen Bess' crowned at Holden on Friday

(Mrs. G. H. Taylor)

HOLDEN—A large crowd attended the Centennial Ball in the Community Hall, Friday night, May 12, which was sponsored by the Holden and district Chamber of Commerce and the Centennial Committee.

The hall was beautifully decorated in red, white and blue streamers, centennial flags and motifs, by Miss Joanne Kryzanowsky and Joe Fornal, assisted by students of Holden High School. Decorated tables were set around the hall and a beautiful basket of pink roses centered the head table.

Mayor Lars Olson was chairman for the event and had the pleasure of crowning the Centennial Queen, Mrs. Elizabeth Campbell, with a very appropriate address, and placing tiaras on the [illegible] princesses, Miss Ver[illegible] Kaluzny and Miss Colleen Appleby. Mr. Olson also placed a Centennial Sash on the Queen. Bruce Budd, representing the Chamber of Commerce, then pinned a beautiful red rose corsage on Queen Bess and white corsages on the two princesses.

Queen Bess, on behalf of her sponsors, was then presented with a lovely white shawl and two Centennial rose bushes, Miss Veronica Kaluzny with a fitted overnight case, and Miss Colleen Appleby with a lovely Centennial Plaque, from their respective sponsors. H. Bateman gave the Invocation and the Blessing was given by Father Adams.

Mayor Olson then asked Good Queen Bess, as our Centennial Queen is to be known, if she would make her wishes known, they would be granted.

With a few apt remarks and thanking all very graciously, Queen Bess asked that the lovely decorations in the hall be left for future events to be held in the hall, for all to enjoy, and then declared the festivities open.

Queen Bess, escorted by the Mayor, the two Princesses and escorts, paraded around the hall to hearty applause, with Mrs. Lars Olson playing the march.

Many ladies attending were lovely in Centennial and olden time dresses, and it was a pleasure to see that many of the men also had the Centennial urge, wearing appropriate costumes.

Centennial Queen, Mrs. Campbell, although in her 70's, is still a very active and leading member of the community, taking part in various Church affairs, Sunday School, and other community affairs, giving a helping hand to any who need it.

In tribute to her as a friend of many years, the following lines seem most appropriate to Mrs. Campbell's attitude to life:

Age is a quality of mind—
If you have left your dreams behind,
If hope is cold,
Then you are old;
But if you make of Life the Best,
And in your Life you still have zest,
If love you hold,
You are not Old.

The Viking Dance Band furnished music for the dance, and the Holden High School students served lunch.

Interest is running high in Vegreville - Bruce race

Returning Officer Orest E. Youzwishen has announced that four candidates have filed nomination papers to contest the Vegreville - Bruce constituency in Tuesday's election. There were five nominations in the 1963 contest.

A. W. Gordey will be seeking re-election for the Social Credit party, while Wilfred L. Horton of the Liberals and Albin Lakawiecki of the New Democrats will be making their second attempt at winning a seat.

Mike Kawulych, a Vegreville barrister carrying the Progressive Conservative banner, is making his first venture into the political field.

Interest is running high for this contest and some political observers are predicting a close contest between the Social Credit and Liberal candidates.

In the 1963 election, A. W. Gordey headed the polls with 2,925 votes, Graham Allan recorded 1,194 for the Conservatives, Mr. Lakawiecki polled 851 for the NDP, the Liberals polled 675 under Mr. Horton, while low man was Mr. Kaies with 188.

Jehovah's Witnesses attend conference

Twenty-four Jehovah's Witnesses from the Tofield area attended the three-day Circuit Conference in Edmonton last weekend.

Theme of the Conference was "Supply to Your Faith Endurance", with the main speaker being John F. MacPherson, District Supervisor.

Mr. Torsten Tollefson, presiding minister of the Tofield congregation, reports that eleven new ministers were ordained on Saturday afternoon.

Farmers are busy seeding the crop

Last week saw the start of wheat seeding in Tofield district. Moisture conditions were good, but warm weather was badly needed.

At Shonts, it was expected that if rain held off for another week, all wheat would be seeded as well as some oats, barley and rapeseed. The fields were in good working condition.

Around Ryley and Bardo, seeding was expected to start this week. This is at least 10 days later than last year.

'Passing Parade' sparks audience appreciation

(Mrs. G. Phillips)

The Passing Parade has come and gone but it will long be remembered by the enthusiastic audience which filled the Community Centre on May 10.

Arranged by Mrs. Joan Dunham, it recalled nostalgic memories of stately Strauss waltzes, English comedy, the Roaring Twenties' dances, and hauntingly beautiful melodies of the past.

Costumes of the eras depicted were meticulously correct. The street scenes were particularly effective, with groups of adults and children moving about as one might have seen them promenading on a Sunday afternoon.

Modern dances and costumes were also displayed, right down to the Go-Go dancers and the futuristic, plastic clad dancers of the future. Father Scriven and Mrs. Dunham shared the commentators' duties.

Mrs. Dunham was presented with a beautiful bouquet from the cast, by Toby Nomeland, and with a Centennial motif by Queen Petra on behalf of the Centennial Committee.

Following this most successful production, lunch was served to members of the cast by the Centennial Committee.

Edmonton firm gets Highway 14 contract

The Honorable Gordon E. Taylor, Alberta Minister of Highways, announced yesterday that a contract covering highway construction activities has been awarded.

This contract is for crushing and stockpiling aggregate for seal coat, for Highway 14 from Holden to north of Chauvin, a distance of approximately 96 miles.

The contract, worth a total of $67,000, was awarded to Twin Bridges Sand and Gravel (1960) Limited of Edmonton.

Centennial fever mounts as Dominion Day nears

(Mrs. G. Phillips)

The Centennial Committee met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Phillips on Monday night, with the president, Dr. Freebury, in the chair. Most favorable reports were given on the Centennial Hymn-Sing and The Passing Parade, two events sponsored by the Centennial Committee.

SNAPSHOTS WANTED

It was reported that examples of good Centennial snapshots are on display in Mr. Stinson's office. The Centennial Committee would like to see many more of these up for display. Let's have a pictorial record of our events on display for interested residents and visitors.

FOLK FESTIVAL

The Folk Festival scheduled for May 27 was reported on by Harold Schultz. A most interesting program has been arranged by Miss Krause's committee. Rhythmic dances and ethnic dances will form the first part of the evening's entertainment and, since last week's report in The Mercury, a Scandinavian dance has been added. Lunch will be served before the four local orchestras and the two square dance callers go into action for the many groups of squares waiting to do the old square dances, the schottisches, tags "circles" and "butterflies". Everyone is invited to wear Centennial costume to be in the spirit of the evening.

Reporting for the Historical Society, J. R. Francis stated that material is presently being collected and edited. Arrangements have been made for printing the book. Due to the amount of material and the time required by the publishers, it is not expected that the book will be ready by July 1, as at first hoped for.

The Committee was pleased to see so many people participating in dress-up days, and hope that the Tofield streets will be given a "Centennial Look" by even more costume-clad residents.

CITIZEN OF THE YEAR

Father Scriven reported that the selection of the Citizen of the Year award will soon be made. The Ministerial Association is holding a meeting this week to work further on this difficult task.

Presentation of prizes for the History Quiz, sponsored by The Mercury, was discussed as a feature of Dominion Day celebration.

Larry Willson reported all in readiness for the Gun Club's salute to Canada's 100th birthday. Midnight, June 30, will resound to the first salute, sometime on July 1, another one will be given. The Gun Club is proud of its cannon, everyone will have a chance to judge its efficiency. Larry would also like anyone who has a military uniform of somewhat ancient vintage to get in touch with him, as the Gun Club would like to be in costume on July 1.

An enormous and extremely valuable display for July 1 is planned by the Gun Club, according to Larry Willson. Thousands of dollars worth of fire-arms will be on view. This is a rare opportunity for those who share the Gun Club's interest in guns of all eras.

CENTENNIAL PARK

Queen Petra was most jubilant because a start has been made on Centennial Park. Alan Warner has disced it and Thomas Jacobs has brought in the first of the many loads of black dirt which will be required. Trees have been ordered and will soon be here for planting in "Petra's Park" as it has been dubbed because of the Queen's special in[illegible] in this project.

Gabe Pettel, reporting for the Legion, stated that plans and estimates are being drawn up for a really effective entrance to the Exhibition Grounds.

Mabel Boyles reminded everyone that a Handicraft Display will be held again on July 1. This year, Mrs. Boyles states, the display will have a Centennial air, and anyone who has had a Centennial handicraft project is invited to bring it for display. The sooner Mrs. Boyles knows about such projects, the better she can arrange the display space for July 1.

MAMMOTH PARADE

Other special events for July 1 were discussed, and will be reported when plans have been finalized.

The last item under discussion, though certainly not of least importance, was this year's parade. This is the year! All the local districts are asked to enter floats depicting some aspect of their local history, traditions or achievements. It is understood that Bardo and Ketchamoot are already considering this important part of July 1 celebrations.

Folk festival will be held here on May 27

(Mrs. G. Phillips)

May 27 will see Tofield's Folk Festival presented in the Community Centre. Miss Ruth Krause and her committee have arranged the program and Harold Schultz will be M.C.

Many folk dances and rhythmic games will be presented. Lunch will be served following the program and preceding the old-time dance which follows. Music for the dance will be supplied by four local orchestras, and "called" by experienced callers.

Admission: $1.00 per family. Time: 7:45 p.m.

Dear Sir

In the torrent of emotionalism concerning Vietnam, a few important facts are consistently overlooked.

(a) The conflict does not concern only the Vietnamese, but more than ONE BILLION human beings in Japan, the Philippines, Thailand, Malaysia, Indonesia and even India and Australia.

(b) While left wing hatred appears directed exclusively against the U.S.A., there are actually THIRTY EIGHT nations actively engaged in the support of South Vietnam.

(c) In conducting the war, the U.S. and its allies are bending over backwards to telegraph their punches by way of massive campaigns of leaflets. What is destroyed in property is replaced or paid for.

(d) General William Westmoreland has outlined in detail the U.S. and allied campaign of building Vietnam even as the war goes on.

In their world-wide campaign to get the U.N. and its allies out of South Asia, we must recognize the fact that for communism to take over "the mainland" must not be exposed too long to capitalistic influence and know-how lest they become "reactionary" towards another Bamboo curtain.

Yours truly,
(Mrs.) Barbara Wathlin.

Dear Sir

Professor Keith Simpson, Britain's foremost pathologist, has called the hysteria raised by the Le Bourdais book on the Sharon Tyneem case "a disgrace".

I could not agree more. When a Government is intimidated and pressured into reopening a case and the Supreme Court upholds the original decision by a majority vote only to find another national campaign launched to pressure them even further, we are fast approaching anarchy.

Should the latest protest manoeuvre, Truscott bail now and so cause a breakdown in Canada's judicial system, we could well find ourselves back under the law of the jungle or a dictatorship of the proletariat.

Yours sincerely,
Jane Hunt.

County Council of Beaver meets

Following are the minutes, in 16-30-18-W4, the secretary-treasurer reported that the application had not yet been approved. The Director of Tax Recovery requested advice as to whether or not the lessee had been given a chance to bid on the land. The secretary - treasurer stated that Mr Boettger had been advised that the land would be put up for sale, but apparently he had not read the advertisement as he had been away at that time. Just how the Director of Tax Recovery would deal with the matter was not known at this time.

Moved and carried that the report be accepted.

Concerning the Convention of the Alberta Fire Protection Association, March 30 and 31, Cr. Knudsen reported verbally on the convention. He stated that there had been nothing at the convention in regards to rural fire protection and that actually the convention did not seem to have very much to offer in regards to information or opportunity for discussion. It had been expressed at the convention that requests for certain items to be taken up at the convention should be made by the Authorities that intended to attend the convention.

Moved and carried that the report be accepted.

Cr Johnson reported on a meeting at the Town of Wainwright between Urban and Rural representatives. Areas covered at the meeting were Court of Revision, Health Units, Education, Taxes, Exempt Property and Education costs.

Moved and carried that the report be accepted.

Cr Roddick reported on the annual meeting of the A.M.P.C. which had been held on April 3 & 4. It appeared that money was somewhat easier. A resolution had been put before the meeting providing extra funds for "boom towns"; however, this resolution had been turned down. A regulation that the A.M.P.C. could provide money in the amount of $50 per capita to municipalities that have brought up and a motion had been passed to the effect that if the money could be carried forward so as to stabilize the mill rate for the following year. This resolution had been carried. The attendance had been very good. Charles Hays had been re-elected as a representative for Class B shares and had also been re-elected as Chairman of the Corporation.

Moved and carried that the report be accepted.

Tenders for the purchase of the Dr. Crawley Tractor with Cable Dozer and control unit and the L.S. Letourneau Scraper, were now considered. Tenders were received from Robert Lee of Dunalda in the amount of $1,800 and from Russell Hisey of Tofield in the amount of $1,850.

The tenders were not considered high enough, and it was moved and carried that none of the tenders be accepted.

In regards to the Flood Control Scheme, the Council was advised that no reply had been received from the Water Resources Branch or from the A.R.D.A.

Moved and carried that the report be accepted.

In regards to the Court of Revision, the Council was advised that it would be very difficult for the Assessor to attend during the month of April as they were attending Courts of Revision on general assessment in five different municipalities. They had requested that the Court be held in May.

Moved and carried that the Court of Revision be held during May 1.

It was mentioned that the Ryley 4-H Beef Club intended to conduct a sale in June and had inquired if, in case of rain, they be allowed to use the bus garage in Ryley. They would clean the garage after they had used it.

Moved and carried that the request be granted.

Meeting adjourned till April 18.

(Marilyn Rowland)

The Ryley Junior High School held a draw in the school gymnasium on April 28, for the lovely Centennial rug which the students had made. The rug, which won the Junior High's Centennial project, went to the lucky Mrs. Harriet McKinney of Fort Saskatchewan. Many thanks go to the people of the different communities who supported this worthy project. Special thanks go to Robinson's Store in Tofield, where the rug was displayed.

The money earned will be used to help develop a fine arts program for the Junior High students.

The gymnasium of Ryley School will be the scene of an eagerly-awaited spring dance on May 19. Those present will swing to the rhythm of the Adventures of Sound. The dance, sponsored by the Junior High, is to have a Spring theme. Invitations have been extended to the parents of all the students, and it is encouraged by hoped that they will come to where the rug was displayed.

An Open Letter to the People of Alberta

For the past several years, I have stressed the need for developing a new understanding and unity among constructive, freedom-loving people and parties in Canadian politics. This need exists right here in Alberta, where the task of fully developing our total human and physical resources is so immense and so challenging that we cannot afford to dissipate the energies and contributions of constructive freedom-loving people by needlessly opposing one another.

In Alberta, the efforts of a constructive, free-enterprise Government have invariably met with vicious opposition from negative thinkers, collectivists, and socialists. As long as there is a negative side to be taken, such opposition will always exist. It is, consequently, both unnecessary and unwise for constructive people, capable of positive agreement to disagree merely for the purpose of providing "opposition" one to another.

This letter is a frank and open invitation to all positive-minded citizens in Alberta, who share these views, to become personally acquainted with the operations and policies of your present Government, and to join your fellow citizens in supporting Government (Social Credit) candidates in the forthcoming general election. Your Government desires and welcomes the ideas not only of those who have faithfully supported Social Credit in the past, but also of progressive conservatives and liberals who find themselves in substantial agreement with the basic principles and advanced policies outlined in the Government's recently published White Paper.

On May 23rd it is my earnest hope that there will be a new expression of political unity and purpose in Alberta on the part of all constructive, freedom-loving people. You can make such an expression possible by giving your full and active support to Government (Social Credit) candidates.

Very sincerely yours,

E. C. Manning,
Premier of Alberta.

Holden Drainage District No 1 together with the Statement of Receipts and Payments and Balance Sheet, was referred to the Council. The meeting had been held April 5 and Dr Gibson had been in former years, attended this meeting and reported verbally on the meeting. It appeared that the Drainage District was in fair financial condition and that, as a whole, it had operated quite satisfactorily during the past year.

Moved and carried that the report be accepted and the action of meeting be received and filed.

It was moved and carried that a report from P.F.A.A., concerning the Board of Review meeting on March 2nd in regards to a number of townships in the county, be received and filed.

It was moved and carried that Bridge Authorizations for NSW 13-51-19-W4, WSW 25-51-19-W4 and NW 25-50-20-W4 be accepted.

The secretary-treasurer was requested to refer Bridges at SE/4 18-48-13-W4 and SSE 28-48-13-W4 to the Bridge Branch for inspection and possible replacement.

Requisition from the Department of Education under the School Foundation Program Fund in the amount of $305,321 was referred to Council. The requisition was $36,371 higher than in 1966.

Moved and carried that the requisition be accepted and payments made as required.

Reference was made to a request from J. D. Holowsky, Manager of A.A.M.D., that the old clock presently sitting in the lunch room at the County office be donated to the Association to be kept in the auto-office building. It was felt that the clock should not be given outright and that the County should retain ownership but allow it to be displayed in the A.A.M.D office.

Moved and carried that the clock in question be lent to the A.A.M.D to be displayed in their office with the proviso that the County is entitled to have it returned if and when so desired.

A report in regards to the Urban Rural meeting in Wainwright on April 4, which had been attended by Crs. Johnston and Lloyd, was referred to Council. The report outlined in somewhat more detail the various items to health units, education, tax exempt property, etc., and how of school buildings than had been dealt with by the two delegates at the meeting on April 13. One item, that had not been dealt with previously, was cost sharing of recreation between rural and urban areas. The general consensus of opinion was that contributions made by urban and rural municipalities to recreation facilities in the urban areas should be slashed and solutions arrived at by mutual agreement.

One item that was not dealt with in the report but that had been taken up at the meeting was the matter of rural fire fighting. The Town of Vermilion, apparently, had some four fire fighting units and they allowed the equipment to go out in rural areas with a charge made for the service. The Town of Lloydminster had four units that covered portions of the County of Vermilion River and part of Sask-atchewan. The County of Vermilion River levies a mill rate in areas, that are set up, to an amount of $1.000 per year in each area. This gives the residents in these areas fire protection. If the units go outside the area the charge is $100 for the first hour and $35 per hour thereafter. The Town of Irma has two trucks stationed there and the rural area is serviced with a total of 2 mills the first and second year.

Moved and carried that the report be accepted.

Requisition from Vegreville Health Unit No. 15 from April 1, 1967, to March 31, 1968, in the amount of $9,234.36, was referred to Council Summary of the Budget was also included.

Moved and carried that the requisition be accepted and paid.

It was moved and carried that

1876 1900 1940 1967
As everyone knows, Mr. Bell first amazed the world on March 10, 1876 when he transmitted speech over a primitive telephone. Many more developments came later; the world's first long distance call in September 1877, the first telephone exchange in July 1878 and the first dial telephone in 1908 - all in Canada.
Now, over one half million long distance calls are made every day in Canada, television programs are transmitted around the world through satellite communications, and the written word is sent from nation to nation, in seconds. Telephone communications certainly had a lot to do with Canada's hundred years of progress, don't you think?

wells at Wainwright, May 4.

Moved and carried that the School Committee approves the closing of classrooms in grades 1 to 3 at Tofield and Ryley on May 2, at Holden, Bruce and Viking on April 25 and at Kinsella on May 5 for the purpose of enabling teachers from grades 1, 2 and 3 to attend the Mathematics Institute sponsored by Gage and Company.

It was noted that the Principal at Ryley school, Robert Land, had arranged for a trip to Expo during the month of July for some 12 students from Ryley and Holden, and that he and Mrs. Land would act as supervisors.

It was suggested that the School Committee approve of this as a school-sponsored function in order that the County's liability insurance could be in effect for this function.

Moved and carried that the School Committee sanction, as a school sponsored function, a trip to Expo during the month of July 1967 with Mr and Mrs. Land of Ryley acting as supervisors for 12 high school students.

It was moved and carried that the School Committee pay the tuition fees for a limited number of teachers enrolling in non-credit courses during July and August at the University of Alberta (Edmonton) and at the University at Calgary, and that the Superintendent of Schools screen applicants and determine eligibility.

Permission was requested for the Viking School Band to attend a welcome at Daveroy on Tuesday, May 30, for Voyageur Canoe teams—a centennial event—and that transportation be provided.

Moved and carried that the requested permission be granted and that use of a school bus for transportation be authorized.

It was moved and carried that, in view of the fact that grade 12 examinations start June 21st, grades 10 and 11 be excused from attending school as from 3:30 p.m., June 21st.

It was moved and carried that Keith Robson be appointed Supervisor of Instruction for the County of Beaver No. 9, with duties to commence September 1.

The Committee was advised that the Youth Travel Program Committee would hold a meeting April 12 at 4:00 p.m.

The Chairman advised that the Centennial Committee at Viking would like to have the use of the gymnasium with stage on September 18 for a Travelling Centennial Play. The Centennial Committee had to guarantee $350. It was suggested that, if approval was given for this request the same approval would have to be given at other points for similar centennial events. This was considered quite acceptable and it was also considered that no charge should be made for extra janitor work, etc

Moved and carried that the request from the Viking Centennial Committee for the use of the gymnasium on September 18 be granted.

Bill Backschat named citizen - of - the - year

(Grace Phillips)

Father Scriven, speaking for the Tofield Ministerial Association, has announced Bill Backschat as the winner of the Citizens-of-the-Year award, given by the Centennial Committee. Fr. Scriven said that, due to the high calibre of the nominees, this was a difficult decision but all Tofielders will heartily agree with their choice of Mr. Backschat of the Tofield Hospital staff as Citizen of the Year.

Anyone who has been a patient in the hospital or has had a relative or friend there, knows full well that Mr. Backschat is more than just the caretaker—his official position. The staff at the hospital regards him as dependable as the Rock of Gibraltar in everyday tests as well as in emergencies.

BORN IN GERMANY

Born in Mannheim, Germany, on December 16, 1904, Mr. Backschat was one of a family of four—two boys and two girls. He received three years of English in school, and this helped him when he emigrated to Canada in the spring of 1929. Landing in Halifax, Bill soon left for Calgary, where he remained until fall, when he left there for the Tofield area. Here, he worked for the Henry McGinnis and Cookson families for a year before leaving to work in an outpost hospital at Barrhead for a year.

He returned to Tofield and worked until 1937 in the same area as before. From 1937 till 1950, he worked for the C. H. Ross Lumber Co. at Grande Prairie, Edson and Prince George. Though he was away all those years, he always returned to Tofield for his holidays. His "holiday" consisted of helping with the harvest at the McGinnis and Henderson farms.

In 1950, Bill joined the staff of the Tofield Hospital, where he has remained and intends to remain until he is of pensionable age.

In 1957 he married Miss Kate Rempel, who was born in Russia and lived in Manitoba before coming to Tofield, where she also has relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Backschat had three sons, Billy, five in a comfortable bungalow near the hospital. They are interested in church affairs, in sports in which their Billy may participate, and in the general welfare of the town.

Bill Backschat is known to all Tofield residents by his kindness to all hospital patients. Nothing is too much trouble for him, if a service will ease a patient's mind or body, he is genuinely glad to perform such service. All his spare hours are devoted to other people's errands.

Bill is no clock watcher. Whenever the ambulance goes out, night or day, he goes with it. He is so invaluable when oxygen revival is needed or when a patient must be watched carefully or transferred. He is an expert equipment repairman, and the hospital staff depends on him to keep electrical equipment functioning and to repair it in an emergency. Many of the hospital staff cannot remember a time when Bill was not the caretaker of the hospital, they dread the day when he will leave.

Over and above all Bill's other good qualities, shines his generous kindness. He is embarrassed at winning the award, he can't see what he has done to achieve it—he just "helps people". This unassuming, willing and able help is a practical expression of Bill's love for mankind and, it has been said, that of faith, hope and love, the greatest of these is love.

History of Canadian West Banff conference theme

The County of Beaver recently sponsored several members of the County School personnel at the Centennial Conference on the History of the Canadian West held at Banff School of Fine Arts, May 17 to 20 inclusive. Those attending from the County were Mrs. Florence Ingram and Mr. Paul Koziol of Tofield; Mrs. Harriett Ruddy, Mrs Gladys Annebo, Mrs Henrietta Brown and Mr. Thomas Kerkoc of Ryley, Mrs. Pearl Allan and Miss Sylvia Meiszko of Holden; and Mrs Margaret Phillips and Mrs Anne Slavik from Viking.

The conference has been in the planning stages for about five years and brought together 425 historians and teachers from all parts of Canada and the United States for a most enjoyable and profitable series of lectures given by experts in this very and related fields. It was sponsored by The Historical Society of Alberta, The Social Studies Council of the Alberta Teachers' Association, University of Alberta, Department of History and Department of Extension.

The conference included lectures and films on the development of the fur trade in the west, and the explorers and Indians of the West, and gave invaluable background to teachers of Social Studies, extending information and filling in gaps in material usually available to them.

The entertainment side of the conference included a Saturday morning breakfast atop Sulphur Mountain, a trip to Lemon Mountain, and an Alberta Government-sponsored banquet at which the main speaker was The Honourable Grant MacEwan, Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta, and one of whom we were chuffed.

Gordey retains seat for Social Credit

The voters in Vegreville-Bruce followed the pattern set in the rest of Alberta Tuesday by returning the Social Credit candidate to office with a reduced majority with the Progressive Conservative candidate second.

Alex Gordey won the seat for the second time but saw his majority reduced by over half from 1963, with newcomer Mike Kawulych putting up a strong fight before conceding the seat.

As was the pattern all over Alberta the biggest gains were recorded by the Progressive Conservative and New Democratic parties, while both the Social Credits and Liberals had considerable drops.

Only about 60% of eligible voters turned out, a decrease of about seven percent from the previous election in 1963.

The results by poll were not available at presstime although total figures were available. Tofield cast the results with 1363 party results in brackets. Vegreville 567 - 2301 (2925). Mike Kawulych (NP) - 1750 - (1941). Wm Lukaszuk (NDP) - 1117 (91). and Wilfred Horton (LIB) 250 (623).

Albertas' history starts to-night in Tofield Theatre

Entitled "West to the Mountains", this color feature, running approximately 20 minutes, stars Burl Ives, well known singer-actor, as narrator.

This film is a centennial project of the Alberta government and has received rave notices in all presentations to date.

The regular feature, "Red Line 7000", will be shown immediately following presentation of "West to the Mountains".

Sod-breaking for Bardo church to be held Sunday

The long-awaited day for the Bardo Lutheran congregation will be marked Sunday, May 28, 11:30 to 11:45 a.m., when the first sod will be turned for their new church, to be located one block east of the Anglican Church in the north-east section of town.

The original Bardo congregation was formed on May 23, 1898, with sixteen charter members with their families forming the nucleus of a thriving congregation. For 72 years the living Word of God has been preached faithfully from the pulpit by the many ministers who have served the country congregation.

Many changes have occurred in the church since its beginning, from a Norwegian synod to a Norwegian Lutheran Church in America, to the Evangelical Lutheran Church, and now the Church belongs to the Evangelical Lutheran Church of Canada, which became autonomous at the beginning of the year.

Since lightning struck on Aug 27, 1965, and burned the former church to the ground, the question should be built has been carefully studied with the final decision to build it in town, due mainly to centralization of facilities and that many of the congregation members are moving into town.

The congregation will assemble at the Anderson School, where services have been held since the old church was destroyed, at 10:45 a.m. for a short service, and then proceed to Tofield for a ground-breaking ceremony with Town dignitaries and church officials taking part. The public is cordially invited

County School Committee meets

nolla at Wainwright. May 8.

Moved and carried that the School Committee approves the closing of classrooms in grades 1 to 3 at Tofield and Ryley on May 3, at Holden, Bruce and Viking on April 28 and at Kinsella on May 9 for the purpose of enabling teachers from grades 1, 2 and 3 to attend the Mathematics Institute sponsored by Gage and Company

It was noted that the Principal at Ryley school, Robert Lund, had arranged for a trip to Expo during the month of July for some 18 students from Ryley and Holden, and that he and Mrs. Lund would act as supervisors.

It was suggested that the School Committee approve of this as a school-sponsored function in order that the County's liability insurance could be in effect for this function.

Moved and carried that the School Committee sanction, as a school-sponsored function, a trip to Expo during the month of July 1967 with Mr and Mrs. Lund of Ryley acting as supervisors for 18 high school students.

It was moved and carried that the School Committee pay the tuition fees for a limited number of teachers enrolling in non-credit courses during July and August at the University of Alberta (Edmonton) and at the University at Calgary, and that the Superintendent of Schools screen applicants and determine eligibility.

Permission was requested for the Viking School Band to attend a welcome at Daveroy on Tuesday, May 30, for Voyageur Canoe Brigade—a centennial event—and that transportation be provided.

Moved and carried that the requested permission be granted and that use of a school bus for transportation be authorized.

It was moved and carried that, in view of the fact that grade 12 examinations start June 22nd, grades 10 and 11 be excused from attending school as from 3:30 p.m., June 21st.

It was moved and carried that Keith Robson be appointed Supervisor of Instruction for the County of Beaver No. 9, with duties to commence September 1.

The Committee was advised that the Youth Travel Program Committee would hold a meeting April 12 at 8:00 p.m.

The Chairman advised that the Centennial Committee at Viking would like to have the use of the gymnasium with stage on September 19 for a Travelling Centennial Play. The Centennial Committee had to guarantee $350. It was suggested that, if approval was given for this request the same approval would have to be given at other points for similar centennial events. This was considered quite acceptable and it was also considered that no charge should be made for extra janitor work, etc.

Moved and carried that the request from the Viking Centennial Committee for the use of the gymnasium on September 19 be granted.

GRASS FIRE

A grass fire on the east side of the Village on Friday which had been set could have become quite serious when it ran into the bush behind three or four residences across from the school. HISTORIC PACT. The Kennedy Round agreement finalized at Geneva has opened new tariff doors for Canada in what Trade Minister Robert Winters (inset) feels is the "most important trade pact of this century." The agreement will become effective by the end of June. Countries constituting four-fifths of the world trading market are involved. The reduction in tariffs on Canadian goods sold to the United States will amount to $1.5 billion. Farmers can now stockpile tons of grain in confidence of future sales as the pact calls for Canada selling 500,000 tons of grain. All phases of Canadian industry, agriculture and fisheries, as well as consumers, will benefit. — TNS Photo

Centennial Folk Festival is 'unqualified success'

(Mrs. G. Phillips)

The Folk Festival on Saturday, May 27, sponsored by the Centennial Committee and under the direction of Miss Ruth Krause and her committee, was an unqualified success. A warmly enthusiastic audience packed the Community Centre to see the folk dancing and to participate in the square dancing later.

Harold Schultz, master of ceremonies, introduced and conducted the program in a masterly fashion.

After the singing of "O Canada", accompanied by Mrs. Stinson, twelve little girls in pastel-colored spring dresses danced the traditional Maypole Dance. The gay little dancers, trained by Mrs. Everitt, were symbolic of all the gaiety of springtime.

Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Sears presented their Grade II students in two European rhythmic games. The girls, in their old-fashioned dresses with black-laced bodices, and the boys in short trousers obviously enjoyed presenting these dances as much as the audience enjoyed watching them.

SCOTTISH REEL

The Scottish reel danced by four girls, trained and accompanied by Mrs. Ruddy, performed the intricate steps beautifully, bringing thoughts of their Scottish heritage to many in the audience.

Phyllis Hunchak of Ryley, after describing the meaning of her Ukrainian dance, gave a most graceful exhibition performance in full national costume.

NORWEGIAN DANCES

Dancers from the Sons of Norway Lodge, Edmonton, trained by Mr. and Mrs. Lineham, were next on the program, but before their excellent performance of Norwegian folk dances, chairman Harold Schultz introduced Tofield's Centennial Queen, Mrs. Petra Stauffer. Petra, herself a Norwegian, gave a welcome in her native tongue to Mrs. Lineham, who answered in the same language. Mr. Lineham also spoke to the audience, assuring them of his pleasure in bringing the Norwegian dancers to Tofield.

IRELAND PERFORMERS

The Irish were represented in a song and dance directed by Mrs. Florence Ingram. Beth, Annis and Susan Ingram, Terry and Judy Moore in striking Irish costumes danced the Irish Lilt with traditional Irish enthusiasm while, as Harold Schultz had predicted in his introduction to this number, some "dark horses" joined the girls in an Irish song. The adults participating were Jim Ingram, Bill Lancaster, Evelyn Moore, Mary Roberge and Florence Ingram.

An exhibition of modern [illegible] dancing was given by four couples: Melita and John Wall, Frances and Gordon Garford, Vivian and Doug Murray, Joan and Alan Warner. If the Buchta dancers ever need replacements, this group could supply suitable replacements.

PHILIPPINE DANCERS AND SINGERS

The Philippine folk dancers and singers were an especial treat for a western audience. Four County of Beaver teachers who came to us from the Philippines, the Misses Araceli Reyes, Sophia Corrales, Eugenia Marquez and Teresita Encarnacion enchanted the audience with Philippine songs and a folk dance. The [illegible], the graceful dances, and the accomplished performance of the accompanist will long be remembered.

UKRAINIAN DANCES

Randy Semchyshen gave a polished performance of two vigorous Ukrainian dances. His skill in these difficult folk dances drew great applause from the audience.

BAGPIPES

Linda Cross from Ryley, appropriately accompanied by Gordon Kyle on the bagpipes, danced the traditional Highland Fling.

The Jensen Family orchestra drew an ovation for their performance of "Life in the Finland Woods".

SQUARE DANCING

Square dancing occupied the remainder of the evening. The dances were "called" by George Lee and Lloyd Herbert in true old-time style. Mrs. Lil Schultz sang "The Waltz Quadrille".

The orchestras participating in supplying the toe-tapping music were all of local origin. The Jensen Family, the Lawson Family, [illegible] Bert Tiedemann group, Arnold Jones' "Bluejays" and Keith Appleby's Gang all gave of their best. Oldtime dances revived old memories for some and provided entertainment for all.

Hearty congratulations are due Miss Krause and her committee, Margaret Dickson, Vi Goeglin, Horace Seller, Ray Hendrickson, Harold Schultz, Gordon Penny, and those who participated, for having made Tofield's first Folk Festival a resounding success.

GIRL WATCHERS

Take a good, long look at the mini-skirted gals. It may be your last chance, with skirts going back to a more decorous one to two inches above the knees in the fall. Trend is away from the kooky look to a more classic look.

4-H Achievement Day scheduled for Monday

The annual Tofield 4-H Club Achievement Day will be held on Monday afternoon, with the show and judging getting underway at 1:00 o'clock.

A sale of fifty-one calves has been scheduled for 3:00 o'clock, with Camrose Auction Company as auctioneers.

The day will climax with a banquet at 7:30 p.m.

The Tofield 4-H Club has two divisions a senior club with Colleen Wyllie as president, and a pee wee club with Ron Kallal as president.

Club officials announced that arrangements have been made with C. Swanson and B. Everitt to process any animal purchased at the sale.

The Tofield club was started in the early 30's and re-organized under "Happy" Holmes in 1942.

Last year's grand champion calf was exhibited by Colleen Wyllie and sold to Laurie Byers of Camrose for 31c per lb., while Canada Packers purchased the Pee Wee champion, shown by [illegible] Holberg, for 28½c per lb.

Riding club formed for Tofield riders

The newly formed riding club in Tofield has decided to adopt the name "Beaverhill Light Horse Club", with headquarters to be located at the new sports grounds.

Club officials plan a short trail ride on June 11 and everyone with a saddle-horse will be invited to participate. The ride will meet at the last corral of the Blackfoot Grazing Reserve at 6:00 p.m.

An all-out campaign for new members will get underway at [illegible] and anyone wishing [illegible] or to obtain information, [illegible] contact Alan Wood, secretary of the new club.

Bardo congregation turnssod for new church home

The first sod was turned Sunday for the new Lutheran Church in Tofield of the Bardo congregation which for [illegible] years has been a rural congregation. It decided to re-locate in Tofield after fire destroyed their old church.

The congregation assembled at the Anderson School in the forenoon, where a short service with Holy Communion was held. The congregation then formed a cavalcade of cars and proceeded to Tofield were Rev. A. Dahlen, Pastor of the [illegible] and president [illegible] officiated in the first step towards erecting a new house of worship.

Mayor, D. Freebury turned the first sod and in his remarks stated he was sure that the Bardo congregation had many sad [illegible] their church had burnt, but he gave a hearty welcome to the Lutheran congregation to Tofield and invited them to become a part of the community.

On behalf of the Lutheran Church, Pastor Dahlen turned the second sod followed by Lester Severson, president of the [illegible] and Andy Holberg, chairman of the building committee.

Fitting scripture readings were given before the turning of each sod, by Olaf Anderson, who has been along on building two former Bardo churches, and now this third one, and Phillip Anderson, Don Litwin and Lenard Stauffer.

A trio by Pastor and Mrs. Dahlen and Arlene was enjoyed by the large crowd at the open air service.

FRAME AND STUCCO BUILDING

Plans call for erecting a 70 by 34 foot frame and stucco building, with construction to begin the first part of June. Ed Hoffman of Camrose is the general contractor, with Sam Mostowich the head carpenter, assisted by Olaf Stokkan. The congregation hopes to do most of the work by volunteer help.

The building committee consists of chairman Andy Holberg, secretary Mary Fimeth, treasurer Sam Clemenson and other members, Lester Severson, Phillip Anderson, Olaf Stokkan, Leroy Fimeth, Evelyn Fosheng, Glen Rob and Aant Kindley.

Focus on Ottawa

Now that the provincial election is over, a certain amount of added attention is being focussed on Ottawa. Especially with the announcement that Alvin Hamilton was throwing his hat in the ring for the leadership of the Tories, if and when Diefenbaker steps down, there will be heightened interest in this sort of development.

It's hard to read why Hamilton was so late in entering the race, or what he expects to gain from it, but perhaps he feels there's a better chance for a prairie Westerner now that Dr. Hugh Horner has cast his lot with Alberta's Conservatives at provincial level.

However, our guess is that if a Westerner is to be considered, the odds-on favorite has to be Davie Fulton. For that matter, we'll go further, and give him the nod even at the national level. Fulton is no johnny-come-lately on the scene. He's been around long enough to get in any kind of trouble he could possibly find, or to avoid it, and quite largely he has done the latter. He has been around long enough to demonstrate much above average ability at organizing and executing policy in the various commands he has held.

And he has been around long enough to demonstrate that he is completely a man of integrity, of honour, and of judgment. All of these things, it seems to us, are among the qualities the Canadian want for a party leader. The election of only last week here in Alberta would seem to give that picture substance.

Charles Lynch frequently sounds too supercilious for our taste but he is at the same time a pretty seasoned and capable observer, so his suggestion that Fulton might be the Adlai Stevenson of Canada is most interesting. Pointing out that Fulton's battle cry seems to be "Let's talk sense to the Canadian people", Mr. Lynch suggests that Stevenson was defeated in the States largely because he was running against a great national hero of the day, General Dwight D. Eisenhower, who could well have defeated pretty nearly any ordinary candidate. There aren't any Eisenhowers running against Fulton, in Lynch's opinion.

Capitalizing on the fact that, like most of the leadership contenders, he, too, is past the 50-year mark, Fulton used a neat turn of phrase recently to remind his student listeners that youth is a passing thing. He urged the young people to use their power . . . "the power to take past experience, conviction and principles and adapt them, use them and apply them to the world they live in, and transfer them in turn as the guidelines for future generations."

Even Adlai couldn't top that one.

'Cowboy' driver pays

If it's any comfort when you see one of those "cowboy" drivers at the wheel, you may rejoice in a report from the Safety Council that his antics usually cost him money. For example, every time he forces his car tires to scream in careening swerves, jackrabbit starts, or sudden stops, he scrapes rubber that they estimate worth from 50 cents to $1.50 off the tires, depending on the degree of violence. If his tires aren't properly inflated, and the odds are they're not, his loss is even greater, the Council says.

The facts all come to light in a series of recommendations they make for proper inflation to get the most out of your tires, and at the same time, for driving safely among other cars. Excessive heat is a tire's worst enemy, of course, and is produced by flexing which increases rapidly with speed, underinflation and overloading.

The only thing that bothers us is, if the wear figures above are correct, how do the cowboys manage to get home at the end of a day's run. Some of them must surely have worn off the entire worth of their tires, even at fifty cents a time.

Easy on minimum wages

Despite heavy pressure from labor organizations, it is to be hoped the provincial government will resist the push to legislate a higher minimum wage, at least for the time being.

After all, the present minimum was established only a short time ago, and many businesses are even now still trying to bring wage levels into adjustment with the impact caused by increases which tended to put new employees on the same levels as those who had been on staff a year or more.

New and higher minimums would simply exaggerate the effect and provide more difficulties for businesses which in many instances are reeling from the effects of sharply increased wage costs of recent months

With inflationary pressures at an almost super-heated level, this is not the time to throw more coal on the fire by developing a higher minimum, which naturally will have the effect of raising wages all along the line. Much better to allow a period for cooling off and adjusting

1867 1967

By JOHN W. PEDEN, CENTENNIAL COMMISSIONER

It's all true. Our publicists and advertising copy writers for a long time have been saying that Expo 67 is the greatest show on earth.

It is.

You would think that some of us who, in the past few years, have been close to Expo planning and preparation would have become a bit blase on opening day 11 turned out that, despite all our advance knowledge and familiarity with Canada's greatest Centennial event of all, we were as spellbound as a prairie farm boy visiting Expo on his final trip away from home.

Of all my kaleidoscopic impressions of Expo there is one which comes blazing across them all. It is the impression that here, among the glittering host and the competitive, adventurous spirit of 62 countries, is the great cooperative spirit of mankind.

The Expo planners who adopted the Man and His World theme and the sub-themes which also underline the hopeful spirit of our world, can take much credit. However, the participating nations have not responded to the theme that the mood and the spirit of Expo unmistakably communicate the message that man's hope is there all nations. One almost feels this message while walking over the towers of the St. Lawrence on Cosmos Bridge, the link between the gigantic, inspiring displays of the United States and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

Water and Sewer at Bruce

A. J. Hedgkinson and P. Nelson, Engineers with W. J. Pruden and Associates, attended the meeting at this time and discussed the matter of water and sewer systems at Bruce. They had completed a preliminary investigation and, in their opinion, wells for water supply would not be satisfactory due to the high salt content in the water. They felt that 90% of the residents in the Hamlet could be serviced. A suitable water supply could be obtained from the creek a mile west of the Hamlet at an estimated cost of $60,000. The sewage disposal lagoon type, would cost an estimated $63,000. Possibly 40 out of 69 possible hookups would actually required service, estimated cost of operation would be $3,000 per year in the Engineers' opinion a frontage tax would be necessary with a $1.00 per foot per year for water and 50c for sewer. It was mentioned that in Ardrossan, Hamlet in the County of Strathcona, no frontage tax was charged, only the sewer and water charges. The Engineers stated that they would look further into this matter as well as other matters concerning the proposed systems and would have more information by May 30th.

It was moved and carried at 5.10 p.m. that this meeting now adjourn to reconvene Friday, May 12.

RECONVENED MEETING

Following are the minutes in part, of reconvened meeting on Friday, May 12:

The District Engineer and Assistant District Engineer attended the meeting of this date and road construction and gravelling to be done under the 1967 Articles of Agreement were lined up. The Engineers then retired.

The Park Warden Foreman was in attendance; the road work was discussed, and he stated that he expected to start the road work in the week of May 14.

Wheat seeding is almost completed

Wind and sunshine last week dried the fields around Bruce, Bawlf and Ryley, and farmers made good time with seeding the wheat crop. They had almost completed it by the end of the week and were covering to start seeding coarse grains this week.

At Bawlf, 70% Chinook would be seeded and 30% Thatcher. At Bawlf, half would be Thatcher, 40% Park and the remainder other varieties. Ryley farmers would use 75% Thatcher and the remainder other varieties.

Holden reported only 15% of the wheat crop in last week. It is estimated that 80% of the wheat there would be Thatcher.

MacDuff Ottawa Report

Door slammed on milk farmers

OTTAWA —Ten thousand farmers from Quebec and Ontario with a few other provinces, marched on Parliament Hill late in May to present their case for higher milk prices. But the rally which was at first orderly and well [illegible] turned into a near riot forcing the security guards in the Parliament Building Centre Block and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police to slam the main doors and hold them against the surging mob.

The doors were damaged before the ugly situation unlike anything seen before at the Centre Block, was brought under control and cooler heads prevailed. Most of the mob that charged the doors pressed around the front entrance for four hours. They only dispersed after Forestry Minister Sauve advised that their farm demands would be submitted to the Cabinet before June 10. He also promised a new meeting would be held with farm leaders to discuss agricultural policy.

WRONG TIME

The protest meeting started quietly with a group of about 150 being admitted to the Centre Block to meet early in the day with Prime Minister L. B. Pearson and about a dozen members of his cabinet. The Prime Minister, concerned over the seriousness of the international situation and the worsening crisis in the [illegible] was not just to meet [illegible]. He was in no mood to listen quietly to the very harsh words of criticism levelled at his administration by the farmers. In the [illegible] Mr. Pearson was called out of the meeting with the farmers representatives to take an urgent long distance call from Washington.

It was the United States Secretary Dean Rusk on the line. He informed of the Prime Minister could see President Lyndon Johnson of the United States in Ottawa the following day. It was a surprise call announcing an unexpected visit by the President who earlier had notified Ottawa that he would be unable to attend the United States National Day at Expo 67 in Montreal. But suddenly because of the seriousness of the Middle East situation Mr. Johnson changed his mind.

The situation was deteriorating and the Prime Minister was worried that the world was drifting into a third World War. But he returned to the meeting with the farmers and listened patiently to their grievances spelled out in tough sharp language. He assured them that the government was aware that they had problems. The government would again consider them, but he urged them to realize that they were only one segment in the overall national economy and the government had to govern its actions by what was best for the the desires of a few.

FELT BRUSHED OFF

Dissatisfied with their reception the farmers representatives filed out of the Parliament Building. Their leaders addressed them from the front steps as the throng milled around on the lawns on Parliament Hill. A loud speaker system installed for the welcoming ceremonies for the sixty or more Heads of State coming to Ottawa for Centennial Year throughout the summer, carried the words magnified many times, far beyond Parliament Hill on a warm sunny Spring afternoon.

The Ontario group was relatively quiet. Their leaders urged them to disperse and meet again at a park five blocks away where the buses were lined up waiting to carry them back to their homes. But the Quebec farmers were militant. One of their leaders gave voice to their dissatisfaction and demanded to know if they were going to leave quietly without getting any firm assurance of assistance from the Government. Chants demanding higher milk subsidies broke out.

Agriculture Minister J. J. Greene addressed the crowd. But he made no promises. Forestry Minister Sauve addressed the Quebec farmers in French. Some of the farm leaders later claimed that Mr. Sauve's speech was provocative and riled up the Quebec farmers. He told them they should have started their campaign for a better deal 10 years ago. He said he and Mr. Greene favoured $5.00 a hundredweight for manufacturing milk, but had to consider the government's ability to pay. Then he hurried away for the opening of the afternoon sitting of the Commons. That was the signal.

MOB REACTION

About 1,000 farmers swept up and over the platform heading in a wave for the front doors of Parliament, under the Peace Tower. A small but determined band of RCMP in their scarlet dress uniforms locked arms to form a line to try to hold them back. But it soon broke under the onrushing crowd.

The security guards inside the building sensing the angry mood of the throng, slammed the doors and backed themselves against them as farmers using their placards as clubs hammered the doors and shoved to force them open. Panes of glass were broken. The heavy oaken outer doors were slammed shut.

Officials of Parliament could not recall any other time when the doors to the Centre Block where the Common Chamber and Senate Chamber are located had been closed against Canadians. Inside the Commons, Opposition Leader John Diefenbaker protested. He said the farmers were being treated as "lawless people". The government denied any knowledge of the doors being shut.

DIFFERENT PHILOSOPHY

But it was apparent that the protective staff—under orders for much stricture security since the incident of the "Mad Bomber"—had decided to bar entrance to the throng until the farmers had at least cooled down. Later the doors were opened and small groups of farmers were allowed into the Parliament Buildings to "sight-see" and wander through the corridors. Some sat in the galleries to watch the Commons in session.

The demonstration was in sharp contrast to the two previous farmers' marches on Ottawa which were organized by the prairie farmers to demand higher prices for wheat. They made their presentations in an orderly manner and there were no outward incidents.

But the eastern farmers were angry that they had received no firm assurances of action from the Prime Minister. They were annoyed at Agriculture Minister Greene for launching a defence of the government's Agriculture Policy. Finally as the day waned the farmers drifted away from Parliament Hill, leaving behind piles of debris and damaged tulip bulb beds. Some threatened to return and stage a "sit-in" after seeding operations.

Power - Line league schelule

The annual meeting of the Power Line Baseball League was held May 22 in the Ryley Town Office with Garnet Barnstad president of the league in the chair.

Holden did not send a representative as they find it impossible to field a senior baseball team this year.

Election of officers saw Garnett Barnstad re-elected as president, Leonard Stauffer returned as vice-president and Jack Lampitt returned as secretary-treasurer.

The schedule for the year was drawn up to include teams from Bardo, Round Hill, Ryley and Tofield as follows:

Thursday, June 1—
Bardo at Tofield
Ryley at Round Hill.

Tuesday, June 6—
Ryley at Bardo
Round Hill at Tofield.

Thursday, June 8—
Ryley at Tofield

Tuesday, June 13—
Tofield at Bardo
Round Hill at Ryley.

Thursday, June 15—
Bardo at Ryley
Tofield at Round Hill.

Tuesday, June 20—
Tofield at Ryley
Bardo at Round Hill.

Thursday, June 22—
Round Hill at Tofield
Ryley at Bardo

Tuesday, June 27—
Ryley at Round Hill
Bardo at Tofield

Thursday, June 29—
Round Hill at Bardo.

(Please retain for future reference)

The meeting felt that a double home-and-home series would be too long, while a single home-and-home series would be too short. The above schedule is a modification of each, and all teams will take part in the play-offs.

As an added attraction this year, the league winners will play an all-star team from the remainder of the league. This exhibition will be arranged after the play-offs.

Moisture conditions good around Tofield

Last week saw all the wheat seeded in the Tofield district, and the seeding of coarse grains proceeding well. Some rain fell, the moisture conditions were good, and all that was required was warmth to promote growth.

Much the same conditions existed at Bardo, Ryley, Holden and Shonts. In the last mentioned area, the first seeded wheat was reported three inches above the ground.

All these districts had rainfalls during the week of from .6 inches at Tofield to 1.25 inches at Ryley. Most of them needed two weeks of good weather to get the coarse grains in the ground.

The first white man to visit what is now the Province of Alberta was a Hudson's Bay Company servant Anthony Henday who ventured within sight of the Rocky Mountains in 1754.

For a glimpse of a buffalo on the hoof your best bet is to visit Elk Island National Park in Alberta, where 75 square miles of range accommodate hundreds of the mighty beasts.

MacDuff Ottawa Report

Door slammed on milk farmers

OTTAWA—Ten thousand farmers from Quebec and Ontario with a few other provinces, marched on Parliament Hill late in May to present their case for higher milk prices. But the rally which was at first orderly and well organized turned into a near riot forcing the security guards in the Parliament Building Centre Block and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, to slam the main doors and hold them against the surging mob.

The doors were damaged before the ugly situation, unlike anything seen before at the Centre Block, was brought under control and cooler heads prevailed. Most of the mob that charged the doors pressed around the front entrance for four hours. They only dispersed after Forestry Minister Sauve advised that their farm demands would be submitted to the Cabinet before June 10. He also promised a new meeting would be held with farm leaders to discuss agricultural policy.

WRONG TIME

The protest meeting started quietly with a group of about 150 being admitted to the Centre Block to meet early in the day with Prime Minister L. B. Pearson and about a dozen members of his cabinet. The Prime Minister, concerned over the seriousness of the international situation and the worsening crisis in the overall economy, not just to meet Middle East, was in no mood to listen quietly to the very harsh words of criticism levelled at his administration by the farmers in their brief. Mr. Pearson was called out of the meeting with the farmers representatives to take an urgent long distance call from Washington.

It was the United States Secretary Dean Rusk on the line. He enquired if the Prime Minister could see President Lyndon Johnson of the United States in Ottawa the following day. It was a surprise call announcing an unexpected visit by the President who earlier had notified Ottawa that he would be unable to attend the United States National Day at Expo 67 in Montreal. But suddenly because of the seriousness of the Middle East situation Mr. Johnson changed his mind.

The situation was deteriorating and the Prime Minister was worried that the world was drifting into a third World War. But he returned to the meeting with the farmers and listened patiently to their grievances spelled out in [illegible]. He assured them that the government was aware that they had problems. The government would [illegible] them but he urged them to realize that they were only one segment in the overall national economy and the government had to govern its [illegible] by what was best for the [illegible] of a few.

FELT BRUSHED OFF

throughout the summer, carried the words magnified many times, far beyond Parliament Hill on a warm sunny Spring afternoon.

The Ontario group was relatively quiet. Their leaders urged them to disperse and meet again at a park five blocks away where the buses were lined up waiting to carry them back to their homes. But the Quebec farmers were militant. One of their leaders gave voice to their dissatisfaction and demanded to know if they were going to leave quietly without getting any firm assurance of assistance from the Government. Chants demanding higher milk subsidies broke out.

Agriculture Minister J. J. Greene addressed the crowd. But he made no promises. Forestry Minister Sauve addressed the Quebec farmers in French. Some of the farm leaders later claimed that Mr. Sauve's speech was provocative and riled up the Quebec farmers. He told them they should have started their campaign for a better deal 10 years ago. He said he and Mr. Greene favoured $5.00 a hundredweight for manufacturing milk but had to consider the government's ability to pay. Then he hurried away for the opening of the afternoon sitting of the Commons. That was the signal.

MOB RE-ACTION

About 1,000 farmers swept up and over the platform heading in a wave for the front doors of Parliament, under the Peace Tower. A small but determined band of RCMP in their scarlet dress uniforms locked arms to form a line to try to hold them back. But it soon broke under the onrushing crowd.

The security guards inside the building sensing the angry mood of the throng slammed the doors and backed themselves against them as farmers using their placards as clubs hammered the doors and shoved to force them open. Panes of glass were broken. The heavy oaken outer doors were slammed shut.

Officials of Parliament could not recall any other time when the doors to the Centre Block where the Commons Chamber and Senate Chamber are located had been closed against Canadians. Inside the Commons, Opposition Leader John Diefenbaker protested. He said the farmers were being treated as "lawless people". The government denied any knowledge of the doors being shut.

DIFFERENT PHILOSOPHY

But it was apparent that the protective staff—under orders for much stricter security since the incident of the "Mad Bomber"—had decided to bar entrance to the throng until the farmers had at least cooled down. Later the doors were opened and small groups of farmers were allowed into the Parliament Buildings to "sight-see" and wander through the corridors. Some sat in the galleries to watch the Commons in session.

The demonstration was in sharp contrast to the two previous farmers' marches on Ottawa which were organized by the prairie farmers to demand higher prices for wheat. They made their presentations in an orderly manner and there were no outward incidents.

But the eastern farmers were angry that they had received no firm assurances of action from the Prime Minister. They were annoyed at Agriculture Minister Greene for launching a defence of the government's Agriculture Policy. Finally as the day waned the farmers drifted away from Parliament Hill, leaving behind piles of debris and damaged tulip bulb beds. Some threatened to return and stage a "sit-in" after seeding operations.

Power-Line league schelule

The annual meeting of the Power Line Baseball League was held May 22 in the Ryley Town Office, with Garnett Burnstad president of the league, in the chair.

Holden did not send a representative, as they find it impossible to field a senior baseball team this year.

Election of officers saw Garnett Burnstad returned as president, Leonard Stauffer returned as vice-president and Jack Lampitt returned as secretary-treasurer.

The schedule for the year was drawn up to include teams from Bardo, Round Hill, Ryley and Tofield, as follows:

Thursday, June 1—
Bardo at Tofield
Ryley at Round Hill.
Tuesday, June 6—
Ryley at Bardo
Round Hill at Tofield
Thursday, June 8—

Round Hill at Tofield
Ryley at Bardo
Tuesday, June [illegible]
Ryley at Round Hill
Bardo at Tofield
Thursday, June 29

(Please retain for future reference.)

The meeting felt that a double home-and-home series would be too long while a single home-and-home series would be too short. The above schedule is a [illegible] teams will take part in the play-offs.

As an added attraction this year, the league [illegible] play an all-star team from the remainder of the league. This exhibition will be arranged after the play-offs.

Moisture conditions good around Tofield

Last week saw all the wheat seeded in the Tofield district, and the seeding of coarse grains proceeding well. Some rain fell, the moisture conditions were good, and all that was required was warmth to promote growth.

Much the same conditions existed at Bardo, Ryley, Holden and Shonts. In the last mentioned area, the first seeded wheat was reported three inches above the ground.

All these districts had rainfalls during the week of from .6 inches at Tofield to 1.25 inches at Ryley. Most of them needed two weeks of good weather to get the coarse grains in the ground.

The first white man to visit what is now the Province of Alberta was a Hudson's Bay Company servant, Anthony Henday, who ventured within sight of the Rocky Mountains in 1754.

For a glimpse of a buffalo on the hoof, your best bet is to visit Elk Island National Park in Alberta, where 75 square miles of range accommodate hundreds of the mighty beasts.

Only four weeks to go until Centennial Day

(Mrs. G. Phillips)

Only four weeks left till Tofield's Centennial Dominion Day celebration! It should be the biggest and best in Tofield's long record of festive July Firsts.

The Tofield Community League and the Centennial Committee both hope that July 1 will be a real "Homecoming" event and that all former Tofielders will feel an urge to renew old acquaintances here in Tofield.

OLDTIMERS WELCOME

Oldtimers are always welcomed by the Tofield Historical Society as they sign the Society's Guest Book and enjoy the Historical Society's display. Free coffee is served to Oldtimers. In accordance with the policy adopted some years ago by the Historical Society, an Oldtimer is one who lived in the Tofield area fifty years ago. Residence here in 1917 is now the qualification for an Oldtimer.

In keeping with the Centennial theme, old-fashioned contests are being revived on this July 1. A horseshoe tournament and a tug-of-war contest are being planned. How about getting a team together for the latter or finding a partner for the former?

The handicraft display should revive memories for some and teach others about the skills required of a housewife in an earlier era.

BASEBALL TOURNEY

Traditionally, baseball has been Tofield's favorite July 1 entertainment, and this year again it will hold the spotlight.

Of recent years, the jumping and cutting horses have entertained large crowds at Tofield on July 1. The same fine animals and skillful riders will again be holding the attention of hundreds of spectators.

PARADE

This year's theme is, of course, the Centennial of our country. This leaves a wide range of possibilities for floats for the July 1 parade.

The history and/or achievements of the many organizations, of which Tofielders have reason to be proud, should provide for interesting floats.

We have no lack of creative people in Tofield, as the recent Folk Festival, Passing Parade and Family Night have proven. Let's have this creativity on display in the July 1 Centennial Parade!

BARBECUE

Tofield's Dominion Day Barbecue has won itself quite a reputation, which will be maintained this year. The hot-dog booth and the women's booth with appetizing meals will cater to appetites aroused by a happy day. Both Community League and Centennial Committees are having meetings soon, at which plans will be finalized for Dominion Day.

HELPERS NEEDED

Many helpers are needed if July 1st is to be the success it should be in this special year. An extra effort to attend the Community League meeting on June 6 would be much appreciated by the executive.

Handicrafts wanted for Dominion Day

The annual handicraft display on Dominion Day has attracted a large number of visitors in recent years. This year will be no exception.

Mrs. Boyles and Mrs. Patterson are planning for a bigger and better exhibit. With the Centennial theme for inspiration, it is expected that the exhibits will be more numerous than ever.

Mrs. Patterson suggests that this is the year to exhibit treasured antiques—quilts that expert needlewomen of yesteryear took pride in "piecing", hand-hooked rugs, cushions whether painted or embroidered. Dolls in old-fashioned costume are being asked for. Pictures of whatever type, whether painted on velvet or glass, will be found in many attics, waiting to be brought down and displayed.

Childrens and infants' clothes of earlier eras are another item desired by Mrs. Patterson and Mrs. Boyles for their display, as well as any other collections of all kinds.

Kallal brothers dominate Tofield 4-H competition

Behold the champ

The sons of Paul Kallal shone brightly at the 24th annual Tofield 4-H Club Achievement Day, Monday.

In the senior calf competition, two Kallal brothers won top honors, with Eddy having the Grand Champion and Pat finishing with the Reserve Grand Champion.

CHAMPION CALF TO EDMONTON

Eddie Kallal will be taking his calf to Edmonton in July to take part in the special Centennial Hereford 4-H competition against champions from all across Canada.

Elaine Jones was the only person not a member of the Kallal family to break into the winners' circle, when she finished with the Reserve Grand Champion in the Pee Wee division.

Ronnie Kallal kept the family action going in the Pee Wee category when he walked away with the Grand Champion calf.

Following the judging of calves, 11 animals were put on the block and auctioned off by Camrose Auction Co.

Top price of the afternoon was paid for the senior Grand Champion owned by Eddy Kallal at 36½ cents per pound, by Byers Flour Mills of Camrose. However, they ill not be claiming the calf until after the competition in Edmonton.

Average price of calves in the senior group was 29 cents per pound, while calves in the Pee Wee division averaged about 23½ cents a pound.

There were 85 entries in the senior division and 19 in the Pee Wee group.

In the evening the annual banquet was held in the Community Hall, with Colleen Wyllie as master of ceremonies.

Guest speaker on this occasion was Reg Minchau of Bruce, who had represented Alberta 4-H members in Chicago at a 4-H week. Other speakers included Mr. J. Silmser, representing the Town of Tofield; Bill Yule, who acted as judge during the afternoon; Jim Proctor, Edmonton, who had been "showmanship" judge; Frank Rebbe, district agriculturist, and Petra Stauffer, Tofield Centennial Queen.

Following the speakers, the various trophies were presented as follows: Community League Trophy for best calf of the day to Eddie Kallal; Watson Bros. Trophy for Reserve Champion calf to Patrick Kallal; Don Ball Memorial Trophy to Terry Moore for winning the judging competition; John Moore Trophy to Eddie Kallal for having the calf with the top gain; Mel Wood Memorial Trophy to Ronnie Kallal for having the Pee Wee Grand Champion calf; U.G.G. Trophy to Marjorie Moore for valuable contribution to the Club; Swanson Trophy to Colleen Wyllie for winning efficiency competition.

Prizes were presented to the following: Colleen Wyllie for winning the Showmanship competition; Elaine Jones for having Reserve Champion Pee Wee calf; Douglas Jones for winning Showmanship competition in Pee Wee class; Bobby Brown for winning Pee Wee Judging competition; Sharon Rudzicki for having calf with largest gain in Pee Wee group; Craig Calder for having the best images in competition; Susan Appleby for having the best Shorthorn calf; Ronnie Kallal for being second in Showmanship competition in the Pee Wee class.

Special presentations were made to all graduates of the Pee Wee group, while 28 members of the senior group received centennial plaques.

Club leader John Moore was then presented with a special plaque for his 20 years of service with the club. And fans a gift was presented to Don Wood in appreciation of his time spent working with the club.

Centennial Concert rates audience appreciation

(Mrs. G. H. Taylor)

A very successful and enjoyable Centennial Concert was held Friday afternoon, June 2, at Holden School, with the auditorium filled to capacity. The program was varied, with all students from grades 1 to 12 participating.

Earl Hardy was master of ceremonies, introducing the various items on the program. After the singing of "O Canada", Larry Gross, Mayor of Holden, was introduced and greeted the visitors, commending the School staff for their effort in presenting this Centennial program. He called upon William Ogrodnick, principal of Holden school, for a few words, who welcomed all attending and then introduced Queen Bess, Mrs. Elizabeth Campbell, Holden's centennial queen, and her two princesses, Veronica Kaluzny and Colleen Appleby, who were dressed in their centennial costumes and regalia.

Queen Bess, addressing bemused guests, visitors and students, thanked all for their welcome and, in appropriate words, spoke of the many benefits and comforts in Canada, many of which were fought for by the early pioneers over the years; how all are privileged to partake of the wonderful advantage of education. In many countries even today, she said, young people envy this privilege of education, free to all, and said the young people of Canada should always be aware of their opportunities.

Pupils of grade 1, assisted by pupils from grades 2-6, then

Banners and flags are now big sellers

Everyone will need Centennial banners and flags for Centennial Showcase '67 to decorate floats, cars, business places and private homes especially those on the parade route.

The large 3' x 2' banners in several colors are available from Bill Christenson (Phone 662-3202). The flags suitable for car decorations or for carrying in the parade are available at Robinson's Store. These colorful banners and flags will really add much to the one and only Centennial celebration we'll ever have.

Pop' bill is paid after 2 year delay

A Tofield cafe owner, Mrs. Carl Meyer has discovered never that people are basically honest.

She has received a letter and $1.00 from a person from another Alberta community for "pop" purchased nearly two years ago.

This person, along with a group of others, visited her cafe, purchased "pop" and then decided to have supper. Later, they realized that although the supper had been paid for, the "pop" hadn't been billed.

The letter states that this non-payment bothered the writer and then the decision, after waiting two years to pay the bill.

Vote means nothing?

Is it possible that the recent vote on Daylight Saving Time taken in Alberta may mean nothing in the end? A disturbing report comes from a provincial government source that Calgary and Edmonton may be allowed to adopt Daylight Saving Time on a 'local option' basis, despite its rejection by Alberta voters.

Granted the vote against fast time was heavier in rural areas than in the cities, surely the vote was still against it, and should prevail. Otherwise, why should the ballot have been taken in the first place?

We don't have very strong feelings for or against the proposal, really, but we have very strong feelings about the expressed will of the people being ignored. And let's face it, if both Calgary and Edmonton opt for fast time, the rest of the province will have little alternative but to fall in line. There are too many instances of popular opinion being flouted when it is not the will of the government. Prime Minister Pearson's continued insistence to ignore the vote for retention of the death penalty is the first which comes to mind, but there are others, and we wouldn't want to see the practise extended here at home.

There is no obligation in a democracy for the voters to be right in their opinion, but there is an obligation to see their representatives carry out the wish of the electors. When this fails we have lost democracy.

We hope Premier Manning will immediately deny that there is any truth to the report that the voters' wish will be so [illegible] in this instance.

Punch telegraphed

Boxers are all familiar with punches being telegraphed and apparently this is what the world should have read out of the demand that the Canadian peace keeping force get out of the zone between the Arabs and the Israelis.

The Arabs apparently didn't want to take a chance on getting involved with shooting at the Canadians as representatives of the UN, for this would have brought the whole world in on the other side. Once the Canucks were safely out of the way, however, they felt it would be perfectly safe and proper for them to launch their own little war.

It may be that it's too bad U Thant didn't play for a little more time before urging that Canada remove its forces, and on the other hand, it may be that it required a crisis to bring certain other forces into play. The answer will be written by history, but meantime, we will all be watching with the [illegible] and [illegible].

Sights too high ?

A recent announcement that an American newsprint firm had cancelled their exploratory permit in the Rocky Mountain House area causes considerable interest and concern. The firm, which has a subsidiary office in Vancouver, agreed that the trees in the area would produce pulp of an extremely high quality, but felt that construction of a mill complex in the area did not fit in with their immediate plans.

Something sounds wrong with this last statement. There must have been something other than plain curiosity which would induce them to spend the money necessary to get a permit and take a look at the area, and when exceptional quality was found, most firms would be expected to take the plunge as rapidly as possible.

Could it be that the government is setting its sights too high in demanding a capacity of at least 500 tons daily? We don't have the figures handy, but if memory serves correctly, that's a figure considerably higher than a mill in Manitoba had achieved after several years of operation. Surely it would be better to lower the requirement and see an industry establish in the area, then branch out when market and finance permits, than to see nothing happen at all because we've set our sights too high.

Veterans Week

Thousands of ex-servicemen and women in this country will hunt through masses of oddments next week to find their discharge buttons as they observe Veterans Week from Sunday to Saturday. A new feature in the Calendar of Weeks, Centennial Year has been chosen to initiate this week for saluting Canada's veterans of four wars, starting with the South African War from 1899 to 1902, and running through World War 1 from 1914 to 1918, World War 2 from 1939 to 1945 and the Korean War from 1950 to 1953.

It is somewhat amazing that in this period of only 68 years, very nearly one quarter of, sixteen years, should have found Canada at war with some foreign forces.

There are more than a million Canadian veterans living today, fourteen out of fifteen of them still living in Canada. And of this number, it is felt that nearly a thousand would be veterans of the South African War.

One thing we find surprising is that one in seven of these veterans are in receipt of a disability pension to a greater or lesser degree. And sadly, the record shows 112,331 paid the supreme sacrifice, far more than half of these being in World War 1 alone. In the Nile Expedition (when some Canadian voyageurs were involved in transport) and the South African War, there were 267 Canadian dead; in World War 1, 66,655, in World War 2, 44,893; and in the Korean conflict, 516

THE PEACEMAKER

OTTAWA. — Prime Minister L. B. Pearson has voiced grave concern that the United Nations faces the same disastrous fate as befell the League of Nations, if it does not come up with specific action to restore stability in the Middle East.

"If the UN can't work out some peace-keeping role for itself, I don't think it is going to be able to exist as a political organization . . . and this causes me great anguish and anxiety", he said.

The [illegible] Minister along with his secretary of state for external affairs, Hon. Paul Martin, have been closely questioned in the House of Commons and by the press, as to the implications for Canada of the current Middle East crisis. The abolition of the United Nations Emergency Force, of which Canada was a part, has caused the experts in the Government do some deep thinking as to Canada's future role and a reconsideration of foreign policy.

Mr. Martin contends that President Abdel Nasser of Egypt in demanding the recall of the Canadian members of the UNEF had pointed up the great need in future of ensuring that peace-keeping forces created by the UN be properly established by action of the Security Council. This was not done in the case of the UNEF in the Middle East. Consequently when President Nasser insisted that the UNEF be removed from Egyptian territory, U Thant the Secretary-General of the UN, was forced to [illegible] a quick decision. [illegible] suiting legal authorities in the UN, he had decided that Nasser had the legal right to send the UNEF packing.

NOT DOOMED

However, this section does not mean that peace-keeping forces are doomed. Canada still subscribes to the important role to be played by peace-keeping forces established by the UN through [illegible] action of the Security Council. The UNEF force in the Middle East succeeded in [illegible] the [illegible] for a decade—although it was an un-[illegible] [illegible]. It had proved its worth.

If the decision is made by the United Nations that events dictate the need for a force moving back in between the would-be c[illegible]nts—the Israelis and the Arabs, Canada is ready and willing to provide troops to march under the Blue Flag of the UN.

Defence Minister Paul Hellyer told the Commons recently — as Canada's contingent to the UNEF was being flown home—that this country has on standby an infantry battalion in case it is required for UN purposes. He pointed out that the troops Canada contributed to the UNEF, now disbanded were men trained in providing services such as transport, communications and other assignments.

Mr Hellyer said, "I can assure the House that one of the basics of our policy is to have in force the elements of which can be used from time to time as required for UN purposes or for any other purposes. We have been able on each occasion to respond to the needs of the UN, and I expect we would be able to continue to do so at any time in the future if this was in the national interest of our country".

NEED MEETING OF MINDS

But a peace-keeping force is not a final solution to the Middle East tension. The Prime Minister has stressed there must be a political settlement of the differences between Israel and her United Arab neighbours. So far, the UN has failed to bring about a political settlement, and it is "as far away as ever", in the words of the Prime Minister.

Mr Pearson said the present crisis was grounded on fear.

Israel feared that her United Arab neighbours wanted to completely destroy the new state of Israel.

The Arabs on the other hand were fearful that the UN in setting up the state of Israel did not make adequate protection for Arab rights, against an aggressive, expansionist Israeli state.

Mr. Pearson has warned that if there is not some sort of "cooling off" period the crisis could explode into a shooting war. Time was required so that both sides would be able to find a "little give" in their present rigid positions.

NEED NON-WAR [illegible]UTION

The Prime Minister is confident that re-establishing a UN "presence" between the Arab and Israeli armies would provide the necessary "cooling off" period. But the UN, as soon as that was achieved, would have to concentrate on [illegible] a long-term political solution.

The Prime Minister emphasized that Canadian policy is to concentrate on the UN as the agency of "political" settlement for Middle Eastern affairs.

He rejected any suggestion of Canadian favouritism. He acknowledged there was a strong Jewish Zionist movement in Canada. But he said there were also many Arabs in Canada.

"I would not like to admit that this influences me in the slightest. It does not", he said recently in conversation with a group of journalists.

HAS TO [illegible] CRITICAL [illegible]

Mr. [illegible] and Mr. Martin have [illegible] the Commons that they do not believe Russia will take sides in this controversy, or push for a showdown, to the [illegible] where total war would [illegible] over the world. They believe that the USSR will turn to the other great [illegible] to see what can be worked out and as a consequence, out of this crisis might come a solution, because the UN would be forced to face up to finding a solution. Mr. Pearson has a theory he has held for a long time that out of crisis you can sometimes find a solution. Without a crisis a situation is allowed to drift and get worse and worse.

The Middle East crisis prompted President L. B. Johnson to make a [illegible] decision to confer with Prime Minister Pearson. The [illegible] men had been trying to get together for a heart to heart talk for three month[illegible]

The two men met [illegible] at Harrington Lake, the [illegible] summer residence of [illegible] Minister of Otta[illegible] Gatineau Hills. There [illegible] of the Middle East and [illegible] of Viet Nam. Mr. Pe[illegible] without success— to [illegible] President to try [illegible] to bring the North [illegible] to the peace table, by [illegible] in the bombing. But Pre[illegible] son rejected such sug[illegible]. Experience has taught the [illegible] military to be suspi[illegible] the bombing as the [illegible] namese seize the [illegible] to build up reinforcement[illegible] replenish supplies [illegible] casualty rate of Am[illegible] servicemen rises, after the [illegible] pauses. The Pre[illegible] to talk peace, if the No[illegible] namese will make some [illegible]cal gesture.

Poetry cont[illegible] now under[illegible] for Albertan[illegible]

The 28th annual A[illegible] Poetry Contest is now open [illegible] in four classes — [illegible] short poem, humorous verse, and poem by a juvenile.

A special class has been added this year for the [illegible] of more than 48 lines [illegible] more than 300 lines. This class will have a prize of $25.

Three prizes will be awarded in each classification in amounts of $25, $15 and $1[illegible]

League names committees

(Mrs. G. Phillips)

The regular monthly meeting of the Tofield Community League was held Tuesday, June 6, in the Community Centre with first vice-president Jack Lamptt in the chair, due to illness of the president, Lionel Barton.

Date of the arrival of students on the Youth Exchange program has been postponed till July 10, necessitating some changes in arrangements.

A co-ordinating committee for sports in Tofield has been set up. Mr Lamptt, one of the League's representatives on this committee, reported that 24 uniforms had been bought for the Midgets' team. The League's contribution to the expenses incurred by the Sports' Committee was set at $100.

Chief item on the agenda was arrangements for Centennial Showcase '67, and committees were appointed.

The hot-dog booth will again be run by John Baergen, veteran of many successful years at this job. Mrs. Joyce Swift is in charge of the women's booth, and will be requesting donations of pies to stock the shelves.

The Tofield Fire Dept. will again be doing their efficient job of directing parking.

It is hoped to have a tent set up where Old Timers may sit and visit if they choose to do so.

Thomas Jacobs, Bill Christensen, George McFadzean and Dan Dodds are the Grounds committee, who will decide where the various events will occur.

A Civil Defence trailer will be on exhibit this year. For the youngsters, a ferris wheel and merry-go-round are engaged for the day.

Baseball, as always in [illegible] field, will be a major attraction, as will the jumping and cutting horses.

Home town band will lead July 1 parade

"There's something about a home town band", goes the song. This year the statement will concern the band for Centennial Showcase '67. The band, under the leadership of Staff-Sergeant W. Coates, consists of 25 school-age bandsmen as well as five adults.

Mr. Coates is pleased with the progress made by the band. It is to be a marching band and will lead the Centennial parade. Of recent years, Tofield has had to import a band for July 1, but this year we will have our very own group of musicians. Mr. Coates hopes that in the future, uniforms may be obtained for his bandsmen.
